Refuses To Beg For Mercy

Israel Demands Death Penalty In Eichmann Case

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel demanded today that Adolf Eichmann die for his role in the Nazi slaughter of Jews and the former Gestapo colonel refused to beg for mercy.

"It is my profound conviction that I must suffer for others," Eichmann told the special Israeli tribunal. "I must carry the burden imposed on me by fate."

Biting his words off like a drill sergeant, the 55-year-old defendant scorned his conviction as based on a "deception."

In a 20-minute prepared speech, Eichmann told the court he was a tool in a vast Nazi machine. Ever since the Hitler Reich collapsed, he said, other Nazis had shifted the blame for the extermination plot onto him. They are the liars, not he, Eichmann contended.

The three-man tribunal heard him out and then announced sentence will be passed Friday morning. There seemed little doubt that it will be the death penalty.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner told the special Israeli tribunal which found Eichmann guilty of capital crimes against the Jews: "There can be one sentence for him and no other."

Hausner did not specify the method. That will be decided by the court if it condemns Eichmann. Israel's basic law follows the British practice, which would mean hanging.

The attorney general based his entire demand for death on a simple charge—genocide. That is the word the United Nations adopted in 1946 as describing the Hitler Reich's plot to wipe out an entire race.

Six million of Europe's 11 million Jews died in what the Nazis called "the final solution to the Jewish problem."

Under the charge of genocide as it fits into Israel's special law of 1950 for punishment of Nazis and their collaborators, the attorney general said the death sentence "is the only punishment" possible.

In this manner, Hausner was meeting the question of whether death under the law is mandatory. Some legal circles say the law in the Hebrew language makes it compulsory whereas its translation into English uses the phrase "is liable" to the death penalty.

A packed courtroom heard the state's demand for something remarkable in Israel where the death penalty has never been invoked before.

Eichmann, pale but composed, tightened his thin lips even more as he listened.

The attorney general, in his final declaration, said Eichmann "pursued his Satanic work for years, day after day, year after year, with conviction to destroy and kill. He was at the center of the plot to exterminate. There can be one sentence for him and no other."

U.S. Disagrees With Britain About Cease-Fire In Congo

Showdown Shaping Up In Katanga

Both Sides Moving In Reinforcements To Elizabethville

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—Both the United Nations and Katanga moved in reinforcements to Elisabethville on Tuesday, apparently preparing for a military showdown.

Fresh Katanga troops moved in from the north and U.S. Globemasters from Leopoldville brought in 216 Swedish soldiers newly arrived from Europe.

Katanga Gen. Norbert Moke said he planned to take the offensive soon against the U.N. forces, though he acknowledged the superiority of the U.N. weapons and jet air force. The number of Katanga reinforcements was not stated.

New violence threatened in Kivu Province, north of Katanga. Two thousand troops from the Congo's Oriental Province were reported moving in to attempt to take over Kivu. Provincial government sources said the troops belong to leftist Antoine Gizenga, nominal vice premier of the central Congolese government whose Oriental regime is virtually secessionist.

Gizenga, political heir of Patrice Lumumba and favorite of the Communist bloc, made a brief truce with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula but left Leopoldville weeks ago. He was implicated in the slaying of 13 Italian U.N. airmen last month at Kindu, in Kivu, and the United States warned in the U.N. Security Council that he could pose a more serious threat to the Congo than Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

Both United Nation and Katangan sources reported local U.N. successes in the Katanga fighting.

George Ivan Smith, U.N. chief in Elisabethville, said Ethiopian soldiers had seized control of the tallest building in the Katanga capital. He said it had been used by Katangan forces as an observation post and for firing mortar shells against U.N. positions.

Says U.N. Must Gain Goal First

British Will Ask U Thant To Seek End To Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States disagreed today with Britain's call for an immediate cease fire in the Congo. It said there should be no cease-fire until minimum objectives of the United Nations have been reached in the African trouble spot.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball set forth what he termed these "honest differences of opinion" at a special news conference on the Congo crisis. Ball is acting foreign affairs chief in the absence of Secretary of State Dean Rusk who is in Paris.

The British government has announced that it will ask U.N. Secretary General U Thant to seek an immediate cease fire in Katanga between U.N. forces there and those of secessionist Katangan leader Moise Tshombe.

Issuance of the policy declaration stems from: (1) a concern that the public needs fuller understanding of the complex question, (2) a desire to drum up further support for U.N. action in the African trouble spot and (3) an apprehension that seeming U.S.-British differences on the crisis have been given too much play.

AFL-CIO Sets Plan To Settle Internal Wars

Leaders Jubilant Over Accord On Labor Peace Terms

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — Leaders of organized labor announced jubilantly early today their complete agreement on a plan for settling labor's internal wars.

It was obvious that George Meany, 67-year-old AFL-CIO president, considered the pact a crowning achievement of his embattled union career. His voice shook as he outlined the peace terms.

The pact won unanimous approval of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in a hot debate during a marathon eight-hour session. Quick approval by the AFL-CIO convention was assured.

Meany, whose re-election as the federation president was a foregone conclusion, is expected to wait a while to see that the peace plan he worked out is functioning smoothly, then probably lay down the mantle of top leader of the merged labor movement to some designated successor.

Agreement on the peace plan wipes out any threat of secession by some unions—as had been speculated might happen if the interunion warfare had been allowed to remain unresolved.

Walter Reuther, head of the old CIO and the United Auto Workers Union, had said only a few weeks ago that, lacking a disputes peace plan, the federation probably could not hold together another two years.

The agreed-upon plan is a blend of the opposing peace formulas advanced by the rival building trades and industrial unions — longtime foes over job rights and other problems.

The plan in a nutshell:

1. Disputes over raiding rival union memberships, over unethical organizing tactics and work jurisdiction will first be mediated.

2. If there is no settlement, the case is to go to an umpire for an award.

3. The loser of the award can appeal to a three-man committee of Executive Council members. They are required to throw out any obviously erroneous award. If they consider an appeal valid, they will refer the matter to the full 29-man council.

Boy, Woman Hurt In Local Auto Mishaps

Youngster, 3, Runs Into Car Path On 3rd Near Market

A 3-year-old East Liverpool boy and a 60-year-old Chester woman are in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Tuesday afternoon in two traffic mishaps.

Thomas Ray Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hubbard, 114 W. 3rd St., suffered a possible skull fracture, abrasions of the face and a bump on the head when bumped by a car while on W. 3rd St. 100 feet west of Market St. yesterday at 12:40 p. m., police reported.

The child was bumped by a 1953 two-door sedan operated by Hughie E. Simmons Jr., 18, of Chester R. D. 1, officers said.

Simmons told police he was driving east on W. 3rd about 15 to 20 miles an hour when the boy alighted from an auto driven by his grandmother, Mrs. Alma Davis, 301½ W. 4th St., ran behind her auto and then into the path of the Simmons car.

'Spunky' Thwarted In Try To Flee Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman, whose past escapes from jail made his name a notorious one among Ohio law enforcement officers in 1960, tried another escape today, this one from Ohio Penitentiary.

Firman, 22, of Warsaw, Coshocton County, was apprehended by prison officers in the cotton mill near the wall, Warden Ernie Maxwell reported.

Firman was serving a 29 to 159-year sentence on four charges of kidnaping in November, 1960. He had started on a month - long crime spree in southern Ohio after escaping from the Coshocton County Jail on July 26, 1960.

Wall Looms Over It

NATO Approval Seen On Berlin

PARIS (AP)—Foreign, finance and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance met today for their annual review with the shadow of the Communist wall through Berlin looming long over them.

The 15-nation council was expected to give its blessing to a new U.S.-British attempt to reach preliminary terms with the Russians on Berlin through negotiations between their ambassadors in Moscow and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

U.S. Secretary of State Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home disclosed through aides late Tuesday night that, after two days of talks with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, they had softened French reservations about the wisdom of resuming the quest for a Berlin deal.

It was clear, however, that French President Charles de Gaulle still was not convinced that Western-initiated exchanges with Moscow would be worthwhile. For that reason the French plan to stay out of them, at least until a possible compromise shapes up.

U.S. Ambassador Lelewellyn Thompson, backed by British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts, is expected to contact Gromyko early in the new year.

Will Seek Re-Election

Rockefeller Raps Report He'll Leave Public Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—shaken in recent weeks by the tragic disappearance of his youngest son and by his impending divorce — vehemently denied Tuesday night a published report that he plans to leave public life.

In a statement authorized through his press secretary, the governor said he plans to complete his current term and to run for reelection next year. Rockefeller scheduled a top-level Republican conference in Albany on Dec. 27 to map 1962 campaign strategy.

Republican leaders in the state backed up the governor's statement.

Rockefeller has been widely mentioned as a potential GOP nominee for president in 1964.

Reports have been circulating for more than a week that Rockefeller would not seek reelection as governor.

In a copyright story Tuesday night, the New York Daily News said the governor had informed top GOP leaders of his intention not to run again and of the possibility he might resign even before his term ended.

In subsequent editions, the News also published Rockefeller's denial.

The News said Rockefeller's decision was based on the belief his impending divorce from Mrs. Rockefeller "will make it all but impossible, even if he gains the Republican nomination, to defeat an entrenched John F. Kennedy in 1964.

"In addition, Rockefeller is described as still deeply shaken by the tragic loss of his adventurous 23-year-old son, Michael, last month in New Guinea.

Special Vote Certified In School Fight

Ballot In Southern Local May Be Held Week Of Feb. 11

LISBON — A special election in Southern Local School District on a proposed merger of the Franklin area with Carroll County districts will be held sometime the week of Feb. 11, if arrangements can be made, the Columbiana County Board of Education decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

The county board certified to the County Board of Elections a Franklin Local petition to hold a vote on the proposal to merge with Fox, Augusta and East districts in Carroll.

The county board, which consolidated the former Franklin Local district with Southern Local in August, was subsequently directed by a court order to verify the validity of the Franklin election petition and to hold an election.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who issued the mandamus, later ruled that the Franklin merger with Southern Local was valid, and that the election would be held throughout the newly consolidated district rather than in Franklin Township alone.

The board members last night hoped the election could be scheduled for Feb. 13, but final selection of the date will depend upon action by the Board of Elections.

In other business, Supt. James L. McBride said that Raymond Lilly, department chief of the school lunch program of the State Department of Education has agreed to come to Columbiana County to conduct the annual school cafeteria workers workshop.

Lilly has listed three dates, Jan.

In a previous tabulation by the election board, Presutti received 1,258 votes and Miss Boston 1,233 in the Nov. 7 election, including absentee ballots.

The unofficial count, the next day after election, gave Presutti a 33-vote lead — Presutti 1,257 and Miss Boston 1,224.

'Spunky' Thwarted In Try To Flee Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon (Spunky) Firman, whose past escapes from jail made his name a notorious one among Ohio law enforcement officers in 1960, tried another escape today, this one from Ohio Penitentiary.

Firman, 22, of Warsaw, Coshocton County, was apprehended by prison officers in the cotton mill near the wall, Warden Ernie Maxwell reported.

Firman was serving a 29 to 159-year sentence on four charges of kidnaping in November, 1960. He had started on a month - long crime spree in southern Ohio after escaping from the Coshocton County Jail on July 26, 1960.

NATO Approval Seen On Berlin

PARIS (AP)—Foreign, finance and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance met today for their annual review with the shadow of the Communist wall through Berlin looming long over them.

The 15-nation council was expected to give its blessing to a new U.S.-British attempt to reach preliminary terms with the Russians on Berlin through negotiations between their ambassadors in Moscow and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

U.S. Secretary of State Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home disclosed through aides late Tuesday night that, after two days of talks with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, they had softened French reservations about the wisdom of resuming the quest for a Berlin deal.

It was clear, however, that French President Charles de Gaulle still was not convinced that Western-initiated exchanges with Moscow would be worthwhile. For that reason the French plan to stay out of them, at least until a possible compromise shapes up.

U.S. Ambassador Lelewellyn Thompson, backed by British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts, is expected to contact Gromyko early in the new year.

Cold Wave Warning May Bring 8 Tonight

Winter isn't officially due until Dec. 21 but the Ohio weatherman has scheduled a preview with a cold wave that will drop temperatures to the low mark of the season tonight—8 to 15 degrees.

The mercury fell to 21 in the downtown this morning, a drop of 39 degrees from Tuesday afternoon's spring-like high.

Will Seek Re-Election

Rockefeller Raps Report He'll Leave Public Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—shaken in recent weeks by the tragic disappearance of his youngest son and by his impending divorce — vehemently denied Tuesday night a published report that he plans to leave public life.

In a statement authorized through his press secretary, the governor said he plans to complete his current term and to run for reelection next year. Rockefeller scheduled a top-level Republican conference in Albany on Dec. 27 to map 1962 campaign strategy.

Republican leaders in the state backed up the governor's statement.

Rockefeller has been widely mentioned as a potential GOP nominee for president in 1964.

Reports have been circulating for more than a week that Rockefeller would not seek reelection as governor.

In a copyright story Tuesday night, the New York Daily News said the governor had informed top GOP leaders of his intention not to run again and of the possibility he might resign even before his term ended.

In subsequent editions, the News also published Rockefeller's denial.

The News said Rockefeller's decision was based on the belief his impending divorce from Mrs. Rockefeller "will make it all but impossible, even if he gains the Republican nomination, to defeat an entrenched John F. Kennedy in 1964.

"In addition, Rockefeller is described as still deeply shaken by the tragic loss of his adventurous 23-year-old son, Michael, last month in New Guinea.

Special Vote Certified In School Fight

Ballot In Southern Local May Be Held Week Of Feb. 11

LISBON — A special election in Southern Local School District on a proposed merger of the Franklin area with Carroll County districts will be held sometime the week of Feb. 11, if arrangements can be made, the Columbiana County Board of Education decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

The county board certified to the County Board of Elections a Franklin Local petition to hold a vote on the proposal to merge with Fox, Augusta and East districts in Carroll.

The county board, which consolidated the former Franklin Local district with Southern Local in August, was subsequently directed by a court order to verify the validity of the Franklin election petition and to hold an election.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who issued the mandamus, later ruled that the Franklin merger with Southern Local was valid, and that the election would be held throughout the newly consolidated district rather than in Franklin Township alone.

The board members last night hoped the election could be scheduled for Feb. 13, but final selection of the date will depend upon action by the Board of Elections.

In other business, Supt. James L. McBride said that Raymond Lilly, department chief of the school lunch program of the State Department of Education has agreed to come to Columbiana County to conduct the annual school cafeteria workers workshop.

Lilly has listed three dates, Jan.

Boy Receives Burns As Pajamas Ignite

A 7-year-old North Side boy, whose pajamas ignited on a kitchen stove, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital — the second area child to be burned on a range in the past two weeks.

Richard Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Patterson, 1217 Riverview St., suffered burns of the right arm, back and chest Tuesday when the pajama jacket ignited as he reached to turn off a burner under a teakettle.

Cynthia Bess, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bess of LaCroft, is in "poor" condition today at the hospital with burns of the face, arms and body suffered when her dress ignited Nov. 28.

Presutti Wins Vote Recount

Another Asked For Ohioville Council

The Beaver County special recount board, which Tuesday confirmed Rudolph Presutti's election as Midland tax collector, has been asked to conduct a recount of an Ohioville Council race.

The Midland recount was completed about 2 p. m. and gave Presutti, Democrat, one more vote, increasing his lead to 26 over Miss Margaret Boston, Republican. The recount had been asked by the Republicans.

In a previous tabulation by the election board, Presutti received 1,258 votes and Miss Boston 1,233 in the Nov. 7 election, including absentee ballots.

The unofficial count, the next day after election, gave Presutti a 33-vote lead — Presutti 1,257 and Miss Boston 1,224.

Republicans are asking the board for a recount in Ohioville's First Precinct for the Council post for two years, on behalf of Mike Selak, who received 399 votes, only nine less than Democrat Richard Martell, who was the third Democrat winning the three Council posts.

Democrats George Daniels Jr., 522 votes, Lester D. Chaffee 452 and Martell 408 won the three posts. Other Republicans were George Wesley Saucer, 381, and Paul J. Rice, 345.

In the First Precinct, Selak received 157 votes while Martell received 217, Daniels 274, Chaffee 253, Saucer 162 and Rice 149.

U.S. May Cut 10 Guard And Reserve Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is nearing a politically touchy decision that could eliminate eight or ten Army National Guard and Reserve divisions, informed sources said today.

Backers of the plan believe the resulting reshuffle of manpower would permit building the remaining Guard and Reserve divisions close to full strength, thus making them more ready for active duty if needed.

Eichmann Couldn't Be Innocent

The conviction of Adolf Eichmann for his wrong-doing against Jews and his sentencing are part of an anticlimax that dwarfs the trials at Nuremberg, where the principal Nazis were convicted of war crimes.

What the International Military Tribunal did at Nuremberg was to punish under authority of the victors in a just concluded war the ringleaders of a government that had run amuck against the Western World. It was hoped the "war crimes" that some two dozen Nazis had been proved guilty of committing would be recognized in future generations as beyond doubt.

The trial of Eichmann, the Nazi executioner, was a further step. It delved into things more complex than the ex post facto rules of civilization broken by the Germans who were tried and convicted at Nuremberg. Here was no tribunal of Allies with collective backing. Here was a court established by a nation not in existence during World War II trying an individual for his role in brutalitarianism that was not of his design and over which he had no control.

Eichmann killed no Jews by his own hand. He made no decisions in his own mind. He was a functionary — a Judas goat in the Nazi slaughterhouse. But more important, he was the symbol for millions of Jews, both those who perished in the savage Nazi drive to exterminate them and those who survived, of the most horrible inhumanity of man to man in the Christian era. His was the name they hated.

Nothing that had happened before or since, including the atrocities in the Congo, have compared with the systematic murder of hundreds of thousands of helpless human beings because of a flaw in the mental apparatus of a monomaniac.

Not even the most savage primitive in the darkest part of the most inaccessible part of the world could dream of the tortures and indignities perpetrated on Jews under the Hitlerites in Germany. And Eichmann was at the center of it, willing executioner of a million human beings.

The man's trial in Israel has been a legalistic extravaganza. Its outcome will give legalists further excuses to preach sermons about what the law should be and what it isn't. But nothing any lawyer can think of, much less say, can change the elemental fact in the treatment of Adolf Eichmann by Israel, the home land of the Jews:

Israel could not find him innocent. He was not innocent. Therefore, it found him guilty. Those who insist Israel had no right to judge him at all beg the question.

Men always have had the right to judge other men for wrong-doing.

Eichmann is guilty of wrong-doing as charged. He was guilty even before he was charged. His crime was the betrayal of mankind.

Albania Testing The Odds

The diplomatic break between the Soviet Union and Albania cannot be compared with the break between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia. But in its smaller way it suggests some large consequences.

What makes the Communist bloc formidable is central control. The Kremlin can afford to take chances with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Organization of American States and Southeast Asia Treaty Organization because their members retain the right to disagree and dissent.

But as long as the members of the Communist bloc can give the impression of being disciplined members of an international Communist Conspiracy, they can strike terror in the hearts of non-Communist people. It isn't what the Communists preach that makes people fear them, because their preachments are absurd. They don't take them seriously themselves.

Fear originates in the conviction that the Communists are disciplined members of an international conspiracy with ability to carry out official orders in every corner of the earth.

If the conviction of Communist solidarity wavers, international Communism will lose its power. Fear and terror will subside. And the central fact of the moment is that international Communism is making an impression of disorganization.

The Soviet Union's differences with the Chinese Communists evidently are irreconcilable. Albania, sponsored by the Chinese Communists, has been put outside the pale by the Russian Communists.

Stalinists and Marxist-Leninists cannot see eye to eye.

The illusion of central control, first shattered by Yugoslavia in the late '40s, has been shattered so many times since then that it may cease to be a factor in world opinion. Even Cuba, it now appears, may be a battleground for quarreling between factions of Communism. And in the United States itself, the see-saw between opposing factions of Communists abroad has made the domestic members of the party look ridiculous. They never know when the rug will be pulled from under them.

Albania is testing the odds of survival against it. Being a protege of Communist China on the border of Communist Bulgaria and Yugoslavia is as long a chance as a pro-Kremlin doesn't get it, Belgrade will.

A break in diplomatic relations is only the beginning of its trouble — and part of a progressive shattering of the illusion that Communism is an internationally disciplined force.

It's An Outside Possibility

When a mob in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province throws stones at the United States embassy, the temptation is stronger than ever to get out of the Congo until the Congolese have settled down.

The trouble is a mob in Brussels threw stones at the U.S. embassy in that city and chanted, "Kennedy to the gallows." The Brussel mob was made up of Belgians.

It's an outside possibility that if all white men were to withdraw simultaneously, Congo peace might settle over the Congo. Or if it did not settle at once, it might settle as soon as the animosities of whites who have grown accustomed to sowing whirlwinds among the natives were laid aside.

This is not to say that white men should get out of Africa. But it is to say that the inclination to blame African natives for all the trouble the Congolese are encountering in keeping their tottering nations from going to pieces is not fair.

One of the hottest political issues in Britain is a so-called "Katanga lobby," dedicated to keeping present exploitation of Katanga mineral resources firmly in the hands of the present exploiters. Katanga produces about 8 per cent of the world's copper, besides significant amounts of cobalt, zinc, tin, coal, radium and uranium.

Britons who want to preserve the status quo are thinking the same way Britons thought when they persuaded Anthony Eden to order the attack on Suez; the same way French colonies think when they plot military insurrection against the De Gaulle policy for Algeria; the same way Belgian irreconcilables feel when they hire mercenary agents to keep gunfire rattling in the Congo.

It's possible the natives could think up enough mischief to keep the Congo in an uproar indefinitely. But that is not what peacemakers are concerned about. They are concerned over the evidence that the uproar is the handiwork of whites, some of them presumably devoted to stopping what they keep starting.

The Once Over

President says seven boys have to be called in draft to get two fit to fight. Speaking at football dinner he refused to say whether football or baseball is leading sport but added "The great national sport is not playing, but watching." He urged school, college and recreation leaders to give kids tough physical training. (This is okay, but some leaders don't look in the pink, either.)

Real trouble is that America has become a nation of hitch-hikers, button-pressers and take-it-easy people. The thumb has become mightier than the feet.

"Men Working" signs bring the question "Why?" Picture of Abe Lincoln splitting rails and wrestling against tough competition, instead of taking a coffee break, gets brush-off.

Ask many kids about "strenuous life" advocates and they will claim it would kill the foam rubber and upholstery industry.

Too many Americans think it violent exercise to bend over and tie own shoelaces. They seem to think key to physical perfection is found through adjustable auto seat operated by wrist twist.

There appears to be a widespread fear of a physical collapse through going to school by foot using a lawnmower without motor or going fishing without restful transportation. Even the "old swimming hole" must be on a bus line, if not in backyard.

Kids aren't much to blame. Their schooling comes from general American scene which at times seems a production of "How to Keep In the Pink Without Trying."

Their idols are often "double-chinners" who have trouble keeping pants up to waistline, and screen idols who have three-car garage and two helicopters in every emergency.

Some physical fitness orators and gymnasium operators issue their directions from sofas and sun-porch chairs. "We must change the physical habits of Americans," says President. Okay. But that's a big job even if the frontiersmen are backed up by pioneers, covered-wagon scouts and magicians. (Gotta stop now; we are exhausted lifting our lead pencil)

ORGANIZATION called the "Turn Toward Peace Society" is latest group holding America is too warlike. No left turns, we trust.

One U.N. speaker proposes two Chinas in world peace body. Looking for trouble on a double-or-nothing basis?

Kennedy Has AFL-CIO 'Jumping'

By Victor Riesel

BAL HORBOUR, Fla.

If you had closed your eyes you would have thought it was Franklin Delano Roosevelt coming "home" to the House of Labor. The imagery was almost perfect in John Fitzgerald Kennedy — right down to the last broad "A". The Roosevelt touch was there in the easy fraternity with the 1,500 men and women who lead American labor.

"Don't worry about us, Mr. President. You can count on us 1,000 per cent."

From the moment he stepped out of his car, which had rolled into the hotel over a special ramp, the President had them roaring as he opened their fourth constitutional convention.

"It is," he said, "much warmer here than it was yesterday." This was an obvious reference to his reception at the NAM.

HE WANTED to thank the delegates. Because the continuity of my employment is due in part to the labor movement." He said he was receiving on-the-job training and was rolling up seniority in his work.

Then he kidded Arthur Goldberg with a mountain-climbing story and zoomed directly into his speech.

These are tough men, these delegates. I have heard them boo Dick Nixon and freeze Dwight D. Eisenhower at their conventions. They have chilled Harry Truman. But they gave evidence here that they believed this administration was a labor government—and regardless of criticism from it or tough demands from the White House, they would never in public show their displeasure with John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

They did not exactly cheer, for example, when he said in effect that missile base strikes had become so dangerous that the nation's security had been threatened. He sugar-coated it, but nonetheless he put it this way:

"First, I can unequivocally state that all phases of our missile program are now on or ahead of schedule as a result of your unprecedented cooperating in giving me a voluntary 'no-strike' pledge at our missile and space sites.

"Had the number of man days lost because of work stoppages at these sites continued at their previous rate, this nation could not face the future with such confidence in its own strength. On behalf of all Americans, I thank you and congratulate you."

TOWARDS the end of his machine-gun pace talk, he hit them hard with a plea to hold down wages. He addressed himself to "those who find themselves in the area of wage negotiations." He asked them to recognize the threat to the nation of instability non the wage and price front.

"I am talking about an opportunity, not a burden, and I come down to Miami to ask for your help."

He said that Woodrow Wilson, FDR, and Harry Truman had never been turned down. And he knew that the delegates would answer by saying "yes."

Though there was no reaction to the bid for an easy policy on wage increases, the applause later rolled in like the surf outside. To those who listened it seemed that the President was pledging vast expenditures.

To those of us following the official text, released by the White House, there was one significant omission. The original text read, "I've pledged a balanced federal budget for the coming fiscal year." This he left out of his speech.

HE PROMISED aid to 26 million youths. He pledged to wipe out unemployment. He said he would not just give a "medal and an empty grocery bag" to those hurt by competing imports from such nations as Japan and the European Common Market.

He said he would ask Congress for standby authority to launch "needed public works" where there is joblessness.

He would stand by them, he said in effect, on all New Deal, Fair Deal and New Frontier type of legislation—and asked them to stand by him in the drive for efficiency on the home front so we could compete with the world. They cheered him. They promised.

When he left, the convention hall was jumping as I've never seen a labor gathering jump since FDR took cigarette holder from mouth and called on his batallions.

WASHINGTON

There's only one unknown remaining about President Kennedy's interview last month with a Soviet newsman.

What effect, if any, did it have on the Russian people or, rather, the Russian people who read it?

There's no doubt about the effect on the Soviet leadership, which would have been predictable anyway, since Kennedy pictured a peaceful America confronted with a trouble-making Russia.

The leadership, through its controlled press, ripped Kennedy's views apart. The interview was printed in full in Izvestia, the Russian government newspaper.

But Izvestia, in a country of 220 million people, has a circulation estimated at 4 to 5 million.

If the Kennedy interview made a good impression on some of them, the leadership has sought to offset it. Even if the impression on all who read it was excellent, there isn't much they can do or say.

Since Kennedy's views are not going to appear at much length very often when they are critical of Russia, this interview can hardly be considered of much impact in the long run.

Even if the final score shows no hit, no runs and no errors—if nothing was won and nothing lost—the interview was at least on both sides one more effort in their long-winded propaganda war.

Kennedy could consider it an achievement that his views—those he found time to express in the interview—were printed in full in the Soviet press.

At the same time the Russian government gave itself a chance to say its press isn't entirely closed to the outside. As a matter of fact Russia would have been in an embarrassing spot if it hadn't printed the whole interview.

Three times this year Premier Khrushchev got his views across in great length to people in this country by giving interviews to American newsmen who journeyed to Russia to see him.

This gave the lively Kennedy a good opening to look for the full treatment in return, in Russia, by giving a Soviet newsman an interview.

The interview was arranged at the request of the White House and Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, did the questioning. The result wasn't quite the same as American interviews with Khrushchev.

The Americans simply asked questions and let him do the talking.

Adzhubei also asked questions but he sandwiched them in between long speeches giving Soviet views on problems Kennedy discussed.

Thus, while Kennedy got into Izvestia in full, he didn't dominate the scene as Khrushchev did in his question-and-answer sessions. The President had to share space in Izvestia with Adzhubei.

Maybe one result will be to make Khrushchev a little less willing to give Americans interviews if he feels he'll be expected to have Soviet newsmen talk with Kennedy and then print the results in full.

The Congo Muddle

By David Lawrence

U.N. Leaves Self Open To Question

Those who at times envisage the United Nations as a sort of superstate are getting considerable satisfaction out of the military operation of the U.N. which is supported by this country for there is intervention in the Congo's internal affairs today with the excuse that the U.N. is obligated to restore order when requested to do so by a central government involved in that disorder.

David Lawrence

Great Britain has been reluctant to allow its bombs to be shipped to the Congo for the U.N. forces to use. There have been a lot of conferences held and euphemistic statements issued contending the U.N. is merely fulfilling the request of the central Congolese government.

But the whole Congo is in a state of disorder and the very request of which the U.N. is acting came from the late Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and then assassinated.

In the face of such a confused situation, it seems hypocritical for the U.N. to claim that it has a legal right to go into the Congo. It may have a paper record of such a request but it is ignoring the will of a large bloc of people in the Congo's richest province.

The present activities of the U.N. are based on a resolution adopted by the Security Council on Feb. 21, 1961. France and the Soviet Union abstained from voting. The U.N. command was authorized to use force, if necessary, to prevent a civil war in the Congo.

Presumably the U.N. Security Council majority could, with the consent and even with the inspiration of the Soviet Union, call some day for U.N. forces to prevent civil war in Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia and the other satellite states as long as the Soviet-controlled government in each of these countries requested it.

The right of a people to determine for themselves—by arms, if necessary—what form of government they should set up has long been recognized in democratic countries as worthy. But today, if the political alignments inside the U.N. favor the existing government against which a justified revolution might be directed, then presumably the entire military strength of those U.N. members which wish to contribute to such a venture can be mobilized.

THE UNITED STATES is in a rather difficult situation. If the U.N. had been in existence in 1776 and the British government had made a formal request for military help, maybe the American Revolution wouldn't have succeeded.

The right of people to choose their own form of government has always been supported by the United States. It has never used force—openly at least—to assist any government suffering from an internal disorder.

Wherever the United States has intervened in Latin America as a rule, it has done so to protect the lives and properties of American citizens and not to interfere with the right of the people to establish any regime they wish.

Not long ago the United States was on the verge of intervening in Cuba but never made public the legal basis for its contemplated action, though it did have plenty of legal right to land troops to protect American citizens and their properties.

Less than a month ago, also, the United States sent its fleet to cruise off the shores of the Dominican Republic with the idea of landing a military expedition or using naval aviation units to aid the constituted government if it made a request for such help.

Here, too, it isn't clear on what legal basis the United States was relying.

BROADLY SPEAKING, the United States has no right whatsoever to use military force to set up any government in another country, but it does have a right under the Monroe Doctrine—and the principle has been accepted by the Organization of American States—to use force to drive out any European power which attemps to establish a foothold in any part of this hemisphere.

The Congo example does not help the cause of the United States in Latin America—or in Africa, for that matter. To supply military forces to the U.N. itself to protect the lives and properties of foreigners is one thing, but to engage in a mission which has for its avowed purpose the "restoration of order" and the ending of civil war is a plain violation of the historic principles of nations in their code of international law.

If the U.N. members had maintained a policy of merely protecting the properties of Europeans and had themselves kept out of local politics, the chances of an eventual settlement would have been vastly improved.

INSTEAD, European countries like Britain and Belgium are today hesitant to allow the military force of the U.N. to be used to restore order when this really means aiding elements which cannot by themselves force the secessionist Province of Katanga to bow to the central government.

Maybe a loose federation of states in the Congo, with autonomy for those provinces which desire it, is the only possible solution that can end the disorder and bring peace.

That's the objective which the U.N. professes to seek, but it is being pursued not by a doctrine of recognized law, but by the pretext that the end justifies the means.

My disenchantment with ridiculous statistics began 25 years ago over weight charts that included blubber bellies in the averages and gets worse every time I am insulted by another affront to my intelligence. The weight charts, since revised, indicated I should turn myself into a Mister Five by Five so I would be an "average" blubber belly.

The wishful thought that we can somehow become "disinvolved" in a world that involves us whether we like it or not flourishes among us, and to my mind is a tipoff that those who entertain it are ready to admit they're licked.

I was struck by the good sense of the observation that getting Chester Bowles out of the State Department's hair was akin to burning down the barn to get the horse out. The damage was done by shifting other men to jobs they wouldn't have been asked to perform if Bowles hadn't been ticketed for an exit.

Television critics are in danger of doing what dramatic critics who write for magazines so easily do—get their noses so high in the air they lose sight of the fact television is a mass medium, not a treat for first-night audiences.

People tell me that a column I wrote about my mother's 90th birthday party made them cry. That wasn't the idea. The idea was to make readers feel happy because, well, because . . . well, let's face it, we gulped too — with happiness because that's the way she makes people feel about her being 90.

I do a double-take when I see an announcement that business enterprise has done something about the two-price system in which one price is stated and a lower price agreed on to clinch the sale. It reminds me of something a real estate man told me: The price of property is what you get for it, not a cent more.

Eichmann Couldn't Be Innocent

The conviction of Adolf Eichmann for his wrong-doing against Jews and his sentencing are part of an anticlimax that dwarfs the trials at Nuremberg, where the principal Nazis were convicted of war crimes.

What the International Military Tribunal did at Nuremberg was to punish under authority of the victors in a just concluded war the ringleaders of a government that had run amuck against the Western World. It was hoped the "war crimes" that some two dozen Nazis had been proved guilty of committing would be recognized in future generations as beyond doubt.

The trial of Eichmann, the Nazi executioner, was a further step. It delved into things more complex than the ex post facto rules of civilization broken by the Germans who were tried and convicted at Nuremberg. Here was no tribunal of Allies with collective backing. Here was a court established by a nation not in existence during World War II trying an individual for his role in brutalitarianism that was not of his design and over which he had no control.

Eichmann killed no Jews by his own hand. He made no decisions in his own mind. He was a functionary — a Judas goat in the Nazi slaughterhouse. But more important, he was the symbol for millions of Jews, both those who perished in the savage Nazi drive to exterminate them and those who survived, of the most horrible inhumanity of man to man in the Christian era. His was the name they hated.

Nothing that had happened before or since, including the atrocities in the Congo, have compared with the systematic murder of hundreds of thousands of helpless human beings because of a flaw in the mental apparatus of a monomaniac.

Not even the most savage primitive in the darkest part of the most inaccessible part of the world could dream of the tortures and indignities perpetrated on Jews under the Hitlerites in Germany. And Eichmann was at the center of it, willing executioner of a million human beings.

The man's trial in Israel has been a legalistic extravaganza. Its outcome will give legalists further excuses to preach sermons about what the law should be and what it isn't. But nothing any lawyer can think of, much less say, can change the elemental fact in the treatment of Adolf Eichmann by Israel, the home land of the Jews:

Israel could not find him innocent. He was not innocent. Therefore, it found him guilty. Those who insist Israel had no right to judge him at all beg the question.

Men always have had the right to judge other men for wrong-doing.

Eichmann is guilty of wrong-doing as charged. He was guilty even before he was charged. His crime was the betrayal of mankind.

Albania Testing The Odds

The diplomatic break between the Soviet Union and Albania cannot be compared with the break between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia. But in its smaller way it suggests some large consequences.

What makes the Communist bloc formidable is central control. The Kremlin can afford to take chances with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Organization of American States and Southeast Asia Treaty Organization because their members retain the right to disagree and dissent.

But as long as the members of the Communist bloc can give the impression of being disciplined members of an international Communist Conspiracy, they can strike terror in the hearts of non-Communist people. It isn't what the Communists preach that makes people fear them, because their preachments are absurd. They don't take them seriously themselves.

Fear originates in the conviction that the Communists are disciplined members of an international conspiracy with ability to carry out official orders in every corner of the earth.

If the conviction of Communist solidarity wavers, international Communism will lose its power. Fear and terror will subside. And the central fact of the moment is that international Communism is making an impression of disorganization.

The Soviet Union's differences with the Chinese Communists evidently are irreconcilable. Albania, sponsored by the Chinese Communists, has been put outside the pale by the Russian Communists.

Stalinists and Marxist-Leninists cannot see eye to eye.

The illusion of central control, first shattered by Yugoslavia in the late '40s, has been shattered so many times since then that it may cease to be a factor in world opinion. Even Cuba, it now appears, may be a battleground for quarreling between factions of Communism. And in the United States itself, the see-saw between opposing factions of Communists abroad has made the domestic members of the party look ridiculous. They never know when the rug will be pulled from under them.

Albania is testing the odds of survival against it. Being a protege of Communist China on the border of Communist Bulgaria and Yugoslavia is as long a chance as a pro-Kremlin doesn't get it, Belgrade will.

A break in diplomatic relations is only the beginning of its trouble — and part of a progressive shattering of the illusion that Communism is an internationally disciplined force.

It's An Outside Possibility

When a mob in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, throws stones at the United States embassy, the temptation is stronger than ever to get out of the Congo until the Congolese have settled down.

The trouble is a mob in Brussels threw stones at the U.S. embassy in that city and chanted, "Kennedy to the gallows." The Brussel mob was made up of Belgians.

It's an outside possibility that if all white men were to withdraw simultaneously, Congo peace might settle over the Congo. Or if it did not settle at once, it might settle as soon as the animosities of whites who have grown accustomed to sowing whirlwinds among the natives were laid aside.

This is not to say that white men should get out of Africa. But it is to say that the inclination to blame African natives for all the trouble the Congolese are encountering in keeping their tottering nations from going to pieces is not fair.

One of the hottest political issues in Britain is a so-called "Katanga lobby," dedicated to keeping present exploitation of Katanga mineral resources firmly in the hands of the present exploiters. Katanga produces about 8 per cent of the world's copper, besides significant amounts of cobalt, zinc, tin, coal, radium and uranium.

Britons who want to preserve the status quo are thinking the same way Britons thought when they persuaded Anthony Eden to order the attack on Suez; the same way French colonies think when they plot military insurrection against the De Gaulle policy for Algeria; the same way Belgian irreconcilables feel when they hire mercenary agents to keep gunfire rattling in the Congo.

It's possible the natives could think up enough mischief to keep the Congo in an uproar indefinitely. But that is not what peacemakers are concerned about. They are concerned over the evidence that the uproar is the handiwork of whites, some of them presumably devoted to stopping what they keep starting.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

President says seven boys have to be called in draft to get two fit to fight. Speaking at football dinner he refused to say whether football or baseball is leading sport but added "The great national sport is not playing, but watching." He urged school, college and recreation leaders to give kids tough physical training. (This is okay, but some leaders don't look in the pink, either.)

Real trouble is that America has become a nation of hitch-hikers, button-pressers and take-it-easy people. The thumb has become mightier than the feet.

"Men Working" signs bring the question "Why?" Picture of Abe Lincoln splitting rails and wrestling against tough competition, instead of taking a coffee break, gets brush-off.

Ask many kids about "strenuous life" advocates and they will claim it would kill the foam rubber and upholstery industry.

Too many Americans think it violent exercise to bend over and tie own shoelaces. They seem to think key to physical perfection is found through adjustable auto seat operated by wrist twist.

There appears to be a widespread fear of a physical collapse through going to school by foot using a lawnmower without motor or going fishing without restful transportation. Even the "old swimming hole" must be on a bus line, if not in backyard.

Kids aren't much to blame. Their schooling comes from general American scene which at times seems a production of "How to Keep In the Pink Without Trying."

Their idols are often "double-chinners" who have trouble keeping pants up to waistline, and screen idols who have three-car garage and two helicopters in every emergency.

Some physical fitness orators and gymnasium operators issue their directions from sofas and sun-porch chairs. "We must change the physical habits of Americans," says President. Okay. But that's a big job even if the frontiersmen are backed up by pioneers, covered-wagon scouts and magicians. (Gotta stop now; we are exhausted lifting our lead pencil)

ORGANIZATION called the "Turn Toward Peace Society" is latest group holding America is too warlike. No left turns, we trust.

One U.N. speaker proposes two Chinas in world peace body. Looking for trouble on a double-or-nothing basis?

Great Britain has been reluctant to allow its bombs to be shipped to the Congo for the U.N. forces to use. There have been a lot of conferences held and euphemistic statements issued contending the U.N. is merely fulfilling the request of the central Congolese government.

But the whole Congo is in a state of disorder and the very request of which the U.N. is acting came from the late Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and then assassinated.

In the face of such a confused situation, it seems hypocritical for the U.N. to claim that it has a legal right to go into the Congo. It may have a paper record of such a request but it is ignoring the wlil of a large bloc of people in the Congo's richest province.

The present activities of the U.N. are based on a resolution adopted by the Security Council on Feb. 21, 1961. France and the Soviet Union abstained from voting. The U.N. command was authorized to use force, if necessary, to prevent a civil war in the Congo.

Presumably the U.N. Security Council majority could, with the consent and even with the inspiration of the Soviet Union, call some day for U.N. forces to prevent civil war in Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia and the other satellite states as long as the Soviet-controlled government in each of these countries requested it.

The right of a people to determine for themselves—by arms, if necessary—what form of government they should set up has long been recognized in democratic countries as worthy. But today, if the political alignments inside the U.N. favor the existing government against which a justified revolution might be directed, then presumably the entire military strength of those U.N. members which wish to contribute to such a venture can be mobilized.

THE UNITED STATES is in a rather difficult situation. If the U.N. had been in existence in 1776 and the British government had made a formal request for military help, maybe the American Revolution wouldn't have succeeded.

The right of people to choose their own form of government has always been supported by the United States. It has never used force—openly at least—to assist any government suffering from an internal disorder.

Wherever the United States has intervened in Latin America as a rule, it has done so to protect the lives and properties of American citizens and not to interfere with the right of the people to establish any regime they wish.

Not long ago the United States was on the verge of intervening in Cuba but never made public the legal basis for its contemplated action, though it did have plenty of legal right to land troops to protect American citizens and their properties.

Less than a month ago, also, the United States sent its fleet to cruise off the shores of the Dominican Republic with the idea of landing a military expedition or using naval aviation units to aid the constituted government if it made a request for such help.

Here, too, it isn't clear on what legal basis the United States was relying.

BROADLY SPEAKING, the United States has no right whatsoever to use military force to set up any government in another country, but it does have a right under the Monroe Doctrine—and the principle has been accepted by the Organization of American States—to use force to drive out any European power which attemps to establish a foothold in any part of this hemisphere.

The Congo example does not help the cause of the United States in Latin America—or in Africa, for that matter. To supply military forces to the U.N. itself to protect the lives and properties of foreigners is one thing, but to engage in a mission which has for its avowed purpose the "restoration of order" and the ending of civil war is a plain violation of the historic principles of nations in their code of international law.

If the U.N. members had maintained a policy of merely protecting the properties of Europeans and had themselves kept out of local politics, the chances of an eventual settlement would have been vastly improved.

INSTEAD, European countries like Britain and Belgium are today hesitant to allow the military force of the U.N. to be used to restore order when this really means aiding elements which cannot by themselves force the secessionist Province of Katanga to bow to the central government.

Maybe a loose federation of states in the Congo, with autonomy for those provinces which desire it, is the only possible solution that can end the disorder and bring peace.

That's the objective which the U.N. professes to seek, but it is being pursued not by a doctrine of recognized law, but by the pretext that the end justifies the means.

My disenchantment with ridiculous statistics began 25 years ago over weight charts that included blubber bellies in the averages and gets worse every time I am insulted by another affront to my intelligence. The weight charts, since revised, indicated I should turn myself into a Mister Five by Five so I would be an "average" blubber belly.

The wishful thought that we can somehow become "disinvolved" in a world that involves us whether we like it or not flourishes among us, and to my mind is a tipoff that those who entertain it are ready to admit they're licked.

I was struck by the good sense of the observation that getting Chester Bowles out of the State Department's hair was akin to burning down the barn to get the horse out. The damage was done by shifting other men to jobs they wouldn't have been asked to perform if Bowles hadn't been ticketed for an exit.

Television critics are in danger of doing what dramatic critics who write for magazines so easily do—get their noses so high in the air they lose sight of the fact television is a mass medium, not a treat for first-night audiences.

People tell me that a column I wrote about my mother's 90th birthday party made them cry. That wasn't the idea. The idea was to make readers feel happy because, well, because . . . well, let's face it, we gulped too — with happiness because that's the way she makes people feel about her being 90.

I do a double-take when I see an announcement that business enterprise has done something about the two-price system in which one price is stated and a lower price agreed on to clinch the sale. It reminds me of something a real estate man told me: The price of property is what you get for it, not a cent more.

We're all intrigued by the imagination of our civil defenders in designing a whole series of signs to guide us according to shape and color, as well as lettering. This series was preceded by traffic signs to guide us according to shape and color as well as letters — but all that matters is the letters, boys. If people can't read they're not smart enough to recognize coloring and designing.

Yellow Creek Study Slated

"Very worthwhile" was the concensus of a five-member committee of Northern Jefferson County residents concerning a meeting held Tuesday in Columbus with State Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

The group met with the director to ask the State Highway Department to construct an overpass or underpass at Yellow Creek to eliminated traffic dangers.

Preston promised an engineering study would be started to determine the most feasible plan for improvements and costs of the project.

Meeting with Preston and four of his aides were Supt. C. P. Henderson of Stanton Local schools, Dr. W. S. Banfield, State Rep. Douglas Applegate, Mayor Quenton Henderson of Irondale and Thomas Lysle of Hammondsville.

The committee said the highway director "was very sympathetic" towards its bid for improvements, and "extended every courtesy expected" in a two-hour meeting.

Preston advised the group that an engineering study will be made of the junction of Routes 7 and 213 to learn the best possible type of improvement.

He told the group, however, that work on improvements could not be expected for at least two years because of the present fund situation.

The highway department will continue work of illuminating the junction with overhead lighting as a temporary measure to provide greater safety for motorists.

'Losing Tickets' Cost Jockey $27 In Parking Case

Seven losing tickets — parking tickets, that is — cost a Waterford Park jockey $27.50 in Municipal Court today.

Gail Parker, a native of Virginia who rooms on W. 6th St. during the race track season, was fined $20 and $7.50 costs when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he ignored the citations issued between July 14 and Dec. 6.

He was haled before the court on an affidavit signed by "Meter Maid" Catherine Martin. Parker told the judge he leaves his auto in front of the home where he rooms and since he sleeps late he sometimes does not drop money into the meter before the "Meter Maids" start their rounds.

Meanwhile, Eugene McCarty, 2009 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a State Highway Patrol charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Thursday on Route 7.

Wellsville Man Hurt In Fracas At Tavern

A Wellsville man was hospitalized Tuesday night at 11:25 as the result of a bar fight in Wellsville.

Paul Long, 34, of 1922 Chester Ave. is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries received in the fracas at Ann's New House, 1317 Main St.

He was struck on the head with a beer bottle and kicked in the chest, according to police, who took him to the hospital.

Officers said he was involved in a fight with Lawrence Cameron of Toronto R. D. 2. Both have been cited for disorderly conduct by fighting.

4 Boys Admit Vandalism At Freeway Site

Four boys ranging in age from 12 to 17 confessed Tuesday afternoon that they were responsible for vandalism Dec. 3 that resulted in heavy damage to equipment and material of Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk, one of the contractors on the West End-California Hollow Freeway project.

A highlift was driven over a 100-foot hillside and dropped into a creek as part of the vandalism. Before it was wrecked, the highlift was driven over 150 feet of sewer tile, valued at $382, according to the company's report to police.

Officers said the four are to appear at City Hall today before Juvenile Probation Officer Chris Pusey.

Chief Americo J. Radeschi said the investigation began Monday when he and Patrolman Charles A. Winters talked with officials of the contracting firm, who had obtained the names of some boys known to have played around the idle equipment.

The investigation led to the arrest of the four. Officer Winters took statements from the boys. He was aided in the investigation and in questioning of the boys by Charles Deshler, school attendance officer.

The 17-year-old admitted that he was responsible for driving the highlift over the embankment, Officer Winters said. The boy related that he "started the engine, put it in gear and then jumped off," the officer said. The 13-year-old admitted that he smashed the sewer pipe while using the highlift to scoop up earth, the officer said.

The boys could give no particular reason for causing the damage and one said: "'I don't know why I did it'," officers said. The boys said they "were just playing around with the equipment."

In addition, the vandals dumped dirt into the fuel tanks of some other vehicles, let the air out of tires on an air compressor and splattered it with paint.

The firm also reported the theft of a grease gun, gasoline cans, dip sticks, gasoline caps and miscellaneous tools, but the boys denied they were responsible for any thievery, officers said.

The Chester woman said she was driving south on Jackson St. and the traffic signal at W. 4th St. showed both a red and a green light as she entered the intersection. Prain told police the light was in his favor as he drove east on W. 4th St. He said the woman's car hit his auto on the left front.

Four autos, including two parked vehicles, were damaged in a collision at 12:52 p. m. yesterday on Walnut St. at Potters Alley, officers reported.

The mishap involved cars driven by Mary Virginia Hamilton, 60, of 942 Huston Ave. and Carole Shinn Fetty, 21, of 819 Bank St. and parked cars owned by George Guyton, 1123 Pope Ave., and Donald Burbick of Garner Ave., police said.

The Hamilton auto was halted on Walnut St. to turn into Potters Alley, police said. Meanwhile, another auto turned out of the alley into Walnut St. The Fetty auto was behind the Hamilton car. There was a collision between the two cars, but the two drivers disagreed as to how it occurred.

The the Hamilton auto went west in Potters Alley, striking Burbick's auto, which was parked on the Community Parking Lot, and shoving it into the Guyton car, also on the parking lot, officers said.

A mishap on Dresden Ave. near McKee St. at 12:47 a. m. Tuesday involved a 1961 station wagon driven by Ralph E. Lockhart, 36, of Wyoming Ave. and a 1961 four-door sedan operated by Fr. Joseph Richard Bennett, 39, of 235 W. 5th St., an assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The two drivers disagreed on the cause of the crash, officers said. Lockhart said the priest was turning around in a driveway and pulled into the street in front of his vehicle. The priest said Lockhart swerved to the right of the street and hit his car, the impact causing his auto to turn around.

Police charged Fr. Bennett with illegal registration because he had not transferred his license plates to a recently - purchased auto. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff suggested to the defendant he transfer the registration. Then he dismissed the charge.

U.N. Drives To End Talk On Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The General Assembly drove today to wind up its marathon debate on whether to seat Red China with the United States still confident it has the votes to bar Peiping.

With only 12 more speakers to be heard, the 103-nation assembly plunged into afternoon and night sessions to speed the ballot on whether the Nationalists or the Communists should have China's U.N. seat.

The United States and the Soviet Union, staking their prestige on the outcome of the long-standing cold war issue, both planned to speak again at the close of debate, expected late tonight.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson has voiced confidence Red China will be barred from the world body for at least another year.

Rescue Mission Auxiliary Holds Officers' Induction

Installation of officers highlighted the meeting of the auxiliary of the Community Rescue Mission Monday night.

The Rev. Kenneth Steen, superintendent, used the theme, "Send Out the Light." Those inducted were:

Mrs. Grace Lawrence, president; Mrs. Mary Shenton, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Betteridge, secretary; Mrs. Edythe Kittridge, treasurer, and Mrs. Ruth Jones, Mrs. Amelia Adams, Mrs. Lavera Mansfield and Mrs. Bessie Hughey, Advisory Board.

Members of the Elizabeth Fleming and Ann Judson Missionary Societies of the First Baptist Church had charge of the program and social hour.

Mrs. Arzelia Green was program chairman. Mrs. Ruth Welch conducted devotions, reading Scripture from Luke 2 and a poem, "O Night Divine." She offered prayer.

Everett Beaver sang "Christmas Time Is Here." The group sang "Hark! The Heralds Angels Sing" and "Silent Night." Mrs. Mildred Boso was accompanist.

Accordion solos by James Cline were "The First Noel" and "Joy to the World." A playlet, "Living Echoes of the Holy Family," was presented by Mrs. Beverly Bayley and Mrs. Dorothy Cline. Mrs. Eva Pittenger offered closing prayer.

Mrs. Lawrence presided for business and announced washcloths are needed for the transients. She also asked that any church groups interested in presenting a future program to call the mission.

Mrs. Bayley, leader of Girl Scout Troop 31, which meets at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, said the troop will hold a party for the Bible Club Saturday from 2 to 4 o'clock at the mission. The Longs Run church Youth Group will sponsor a worship service for the Bible Club and parents next Tuesday.

Other churches represented were Second United Presbyterian, St. John's Evangelical Lutheran, First Methodist and the Glenmoor United Presbyterian.

Refreshments were served 37 by the hostess groups.

Next meeting is Jan. 15. The Chester Church of the Nazarene, with Mrs. Robert Thomas, will have devotions, and the Glenmoor church, with Mrs. Betty Barnard, chairman, the social hour.

Some Roads In Ohio Reported As Slippery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Primary and secondary highways are partly snow-covered and slippery in the vicinity of Jefferson, Ashland, Wooster and Newark, the Ohio Department of Highways reported today.

The same is true of secondary roads in the vicinity of London and Mount Gilead.

'YULE LOVE THAT TUBA on the trampoline,' Delbert Williams, Salineville High School tuba player seems to be puffing as he and some fellow players get a little bounce into practice for the annual Christmas concert to be presented by student bands at the high school Thursday night at 8. With Williams at the school's new trampoline are, left to right, David Crawford and Karen Nicholson and Paulette Kerr and Darlene Irvine.

Women's Civic Club Plans Arts And Crafts Instruction

Plans for a public arts and crafts instruction program were outlined at a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night at the Elks Lodge.

The program, "Wellsville City College of Arts and Hobbies," will be held sometime in February. Instruction will be offered in painting, mosaic tile, knitting, sewing, baking, cake decorating, card games and numerous other fields.

Eight weeks training will be offered. The registration and further details will be announced later. Mrs. Louise Lawton and committee are in charge.

Twenty attended the annual Christmas party. A buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Helen Welch, Mrs. Evelyn Nightingale, Mrs. Jean Broderick, Mrs. Jean Tipton, Mrs. Mary Carroll and Mrs. Lawton.

Instead of a gift exchange, the club collected the money and will use it to purchase gifts for the aged. They will be distributed in Wellsville rest homes by Mrs. Marjorie Dysert and Mrs. Dorothy McCreary, president.

Reports on ways and means projects were given by Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Bette Jackson and Mrs. Broderick.

Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. Martha Sommers, Mrs. Doris McMorrow and Mrs. Ethyl Stroble. The election will be next month and the installation in February.

Prizes in games were won by Mrs. Stroble and Mrs. Welch. Next meeting is Jan. 9.

Chamber Board Lists Members, Receives Report

Three new membership applications were accepted Tuesday afternoon by the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce.

The new members are Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, McBurney Pharmacy of 6th St. and Dresden Ave. and Speedy Car Wash of Broadway. In addition, Arb Motor Sales of Pennsylvania Ave. reaffiliated.

Names of the prospective members were presented to the board in a report from the membership committee.

The nominating committee headed by John T. Hall listed a slate of 14 for seven seats on the board. Following acceptance of the slate by the board, ballots were mailed to all Chamber members for the annual election. Deadline for return of the ballots will be Friday, Dec. 22.

A tellers' committee will be appointed to tabulate the returns and report to the board at a special meeting in the last week of December. The new board members will assume office at the board's first 1962 meeting on Jan. 9. At the same time, the board will elect officers for the new year.

Alvin Babb reported on a countywide meeting on regional planning held Nov. 29 at Beaver Local School. He said a meeting will be held in January with county commissioners to set up a study group on regional planning.

Rotary Hears Engineer

Pittsburgh Airport Seen Near 'Saturation Point'

Greater Pittsburgh Airport, dedicated less than 10 years ago, already is nearing the point of "saturation" in air traffic.

Joseph W. Carlson, chief engineer of the $55 - million facility, said authorities are studying possibilities of a future airport to supplement the one presently serving the world's largest industrial area.

He told the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel the airport will hit total saturation in air traffic in 8-to-10 years unless larger planes are designed to reduce the number of daily flights.

The facility in Allegheny County covers 2,532 rugged acres of Pennsylvania countryside, but land for additional expansion is almost unavailable, he said.

The huge airfield and ultra-modern terminal building, dedicated May 31, 1952, handle at least 675 flights daily. The airport's parking lots, providing room for 5,000 cars, are usually filled to overflowing.

One of the world's largest commercial airports, Greater Pittsburgh is meeting the challenge of the jet age with an elaborate expansion program, Carlson said.

Under construction is a $12 million runway, while a new west dock, to be extended from the seven-story, semi-circular terminal, is proposed.

Work started in April 1959 on the new 10,500-foot parallel runway long enough to accommodate intercontinental and transoceanic jets on non-stop flights.

Carlson said the project entailed the removal of 250 acres of brush and trees, razing of 26 homes purchased for about $20,000 each, re-location of a maze of gas, electric, gasoline and telephone lines and grading and excavation of 8 million cubic yards of earth.

Cost of the land for the new strip to provide greater take-off and landing space for the big jets was $1,600,000, Carlson said.

He pointed out that a jet liner, weighing 128 tons fully loaded, needs longer runways than the 8,000 foot strips considered adequate for smaller planes.

A half-inch of slush on the runway means that the bigger planes must unload nine tons of cargo to take off safely.

"It's the same thing coming in, if they land they need just about double the length of runway of a smaller plane," he pointed out.

The new runway will be equipped with the latest type of lights, different than the present devices which illuminate the runway boundaries.

Imbedded in the concrete of the runway, the new devices will illuminate the entire strip.

This will eliminate the "dark hole" created by the present system of lights, and will provide better ground perception for the pilots.

He said that Greater Pittsburgh Airport was originally designed as a fighter base in 1941 in order that military planes could provide protection for the northern area of the country.

Work started in the latter part of 1941, but the site lost its value as a fighter base, principally, when World War II ended.

In November 1945, commissioners of Allegheny County created a Department of Aviation and appointed John B. Sweeney as director to supervise the design and preparation of plans for expansion.

The department began planning a commercial airport.

Three years were spent in designing the airport, and the first steel was erected in 1948. The ultra - modern terminal opened on Memorial Day 1952.

Carlson pointed out that the runways were designed in 1941 when light, four -engine bombers were the biggest planes to use the facility.

The boom in air travel and aeronautical design followed, and the airport was forced soon to expand the length of its runways. It landed its first jet planes in July 1959.

The department has never stopped acquiring more property and has continued to expand to meet the jet age.

The airport covered only 1,100 acreas when converted to a commercial airport from a military base. Now it sprawls over four square miles. "And there is not much more room to expand," Carlson said.

The east dock of the terminal was completed last year at a cost of $3½ million. Construction continues on a new complex at the airport to house Allegheny Airlines, moving its base from Washington.

Carlson said helicopter service to the airport from nearby cities would help eliminate some of the traffic congestion.

Carlson said the federal government has adopted legislation giving control of the five miles of four - lane, high - speed Airport Parkway from Route 30 to the facility. It was built by the county.

A four - lane highway is proposed for the area to link the Airport Parkway from an interchange near the airport to the Beaver Falls interchange.

The speaker was introduced by James H. Riggs, program chairman.

Attila, king of the Huns in the 5th Century, was known as "The Scourge of God."

Quota Will Buy Audiometer For Speech-Hearing Clinic

Plans to purchase an audiometer for the Hearing and Speech Clinic at Westgate School were made at the Christmas party of the Quota Club Tuesday night with Miss Gladys DeBolt of W. 4th St. Thirty attended.

The device will be bought with proceeds from the travelogue series the club sponsored recently at the school. The group also voted more financial aid to William Weidner, who supervises the clinic, as he is bringing more therapists.

Miss Phyllis Crook, president, conducted business. Mrs. Erma McGarey read the financial report. Mrs. Eleanor Boice of the ways and means committee reported on the sale of fruit cakes.

A letter was read from Mrs. Charlotte Shaffer of Toledo, president of District 6, advising that she will make her annual visit at the meeting Jan. 23. The club voted to dispense with the program planned for that night.

In lieu of a gift exchange, members contributed to the Kent State Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Janet O'Hara, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Florence Diebold of Pittsburgh, who demonstrated making of Christmas novelties and aprons.

A dessert-luncheon was served before the meeting by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mildred McKim and Mrs. Margaret Duffy, associates. The buffet table, covered with a blue embroidered cloth, on which were placed blue beaded chains, was centered with a white net tree. Miss Crook poured at the silver tea service. The home was decorated in keeping with the season. Favors were holiday pencils.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, was presented with a dish garden in honor of her birthday anniversary. Attending were Mrs. J. D. Thompson, an honorary member, and Mrs. Lucille Singer, a new member.

Next luncheon meeting is Jan. 9 at the Travelers Hotel.

Rotary Hears Engineer

Pittsburgh Airport Seen Near 'Saturation Point'

Greater Pittsburgh Airport, dedicated less than 10 years ago, already is nearing the point of "saturation" in air traffic.

Joseph W. Carlson, chief engineer of the $55 - million facility, said authorities are studying possibilities of a future airport to supplement the one presently serving the world's largest industrial area.

He told the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel the airport will hit total saturation in air traffic in 8-to-10 years unless larger planes are designed to reduce the number of daily flights.

The facility in Allegheny County covers 2,532 rugged acres of Pennsylvania countryside, but land for additional expansion is almost unavailable, he said.

The huge airfield and ultra-modern terminal building, dedicated May 31, 1952, handle at least 675 flights daily. The airport's parking lots, providing room for 5,000 cars, are usually filled to overflowing.

One of the world's largest commercial airports, Greater Pittsburgh is meeting the challenge of the jet age with an elaborate expansion program, Carlson said.

Under construction is a $12 million runway, while a new west dock, to be extended from the seven-story, semi-circular terminal, is proposed.

Work started in April 1959 on the new 10,500-foot parallel runway long enough to accommodate intercontinental and transoceanic jets on non-stop flights.

Carlson said the project entailed the removal of 250 acres of brush and trees, razing of 26 homes purchased for about $20,000 each, re-location of a maze of gas, electric, gasoline and telephone lines and grading and excavation of 8 million cubic yards of earth.

Cost of the land for the new strip to provide greater take-off and landing space for the big jets was $1,600,000, Carlson said.

He pointed out that a jet liner, weighing 128 tons fully loaded, needs longer runways than the 8,000 foot strips considered adequate for smaller planes.

A half-inch of slush on the runway means that the bigger planes must unload nine tons of cargo to take off safely.

"It's the same thing coming in, if they land they need just about double the length of runway of a smaller plane," he pointed out.

The new runway will be equipped with the latest type of lights, different than the present devices which illuminate the runway boundaries.

Imbedded in the concrete of the runway, the new devices will illuminate the entire strip.

This will eliminate the "dark hole" created by the present system of lights, and will provide better ground perception for the pilots.

He said that Greater Pittsburgh Airport was originally designed as a fighter base in 1941 in order that military planes could provide protection for the northern area of the country.

Work started in the latter part of 1941, but the site lost its value as a fighter base, principally, when World War II ended.

In November 1945, commissioners of Allegheny County created a Department of Aviation and appointed John B. Sweeney as director to supervise the design and preparation of plans for expansion.

The department began planning a commercial airport.

Three years were spent in designing the airport, and the first steel was erected in 1948. The ultra - modern terminal opened on Memorial Day 1952.

Carlson pointed out that the runways were designed in 1941 when light, four -engine bombers were the biggest planes to use the facility.

The boom in air travel and aeronautical design followed, and the airport was forced soon to expand the length of its runways. It landed its first jet planes in July 1959.

The department has never stopped acquiring more property and has continued to expand to meet the jet age.

The airport covered only 1,100 acreas when converted to a commercial airport from a military base. Now it sprawls over four square miles. "And there is not much more room to expand," Carlson said.

The east dock of the terminal was completed last year at a cost of $3½ million. Construction continues on a new complex at the airport to house Allegheny Airlines, moving its base from Washington.

Carlson said helicopter service to the airport from nearby cities would help eliminate some of the traffic congestion.

Carlson said the federal government has adopted legislation giving control of the five miles of four - lane, high - speed Airport Parkway from Route 30 to the facility. It was built by the county.

A four - lane highway is proposed for the area to link the Airport Parkway from an interchange near the airport to the Beaver Falls interchange.

The speaker was introduced by James H. Riggs, program chairman.

Quota Will Buy Audiometer For Speech-Hearing Clinic

Plans to purchase an audiometer for the Hearing and Speech Clinic at Westgate School were made at the Christmas party of the Quota Club Tuesday night with Miss Gladys DeBolt of W. 4th St. Thirty attended.

The device will be bought with proceeds from the travelogue series the club sponsored recently at the school. The group also voted more financial aid to William Weidner, who supervises the clinic, as he is bringing more therapists.

Miss Phyllis Crook, president, conducted business. Mrs. Erma McGarey read the financial report. Mrs. Eleanor Boice of the ways and means committee reported on the sale of fruit cakes.

A letter was read from Mrs. Charlotte Shaffer of Toledo, president of District 6, advising that she will make her annual visit at the meeting Jan. 23. The club voted to dispense with the program planned for that night.

In lieu of a gift exchange, members contributed to the Kent State Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Janet O'Hara, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Florence Diebold of Pittsburgh, who demonstrated making of Christmas novelties and aprons.

A dessert-luncheon was served before the meeting by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mildred McKim and Mrs. Margaret Duffy, associates. The buffet table, covered with a blue embroidered cloth, on which were placed blue beaded chains, was centered with a white net tree. Miss Crook poured at the silver tea service. The home was decorated in keeping with the season. Favors were holiday pencils.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, was presented with a dish garden in honor of her birthday anniversary. Attending were Mrs. J. D. Thompson, an honorary member, and Mrs. Lucille Singer, a new member.

Next luncheon meeting is Jan. 9 at the Travelers Hotel.

City Had Earlier Warning Of Cutback In Ash Supply

It was a "misunderstanding" that led to the announcement at City Hall Friday that the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. gave the city no advance warning its supply of ashes for snow removal work would be cut off Dec. 1, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet explained today.

Crucible sent notice of the impending action in a letter Aug. 24 and the question previously had been "worked out thoroughly with former Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, who died in late August, the mayor said.

The mayor issued the explanation in pointing out that the city's supply of ashes was not cut off by the mill without explanation, as asserted in an announcement Friday by Safety-Service Director Robert Owen.

The confusion resulted mainly because the question of ashes for street use had been negotiated last summer between the late Mr. Copenhaver and the Crucible officials, with the understanding on both sides that the supply would be terminated Dec. 1, the mayor pointed out.

Owens was not aware of the negotiations because he did not assume office until September. A letter confirming the arrangement and pointing out that the city would continue to receive 11 truckloads of ashes a week until Dec. 11 was received by the mayor Aug. 24 from Glenn B. Roberts, superintendent of community relations at Crucible.

"It was a misunderstanding that resulted in the announcement," the mayor said. "The director and I do not feel the Crucible is responsible for this misunderstanding. The company had sent a letter explaining the situation and pointing out the supply of ashes would be terminated Dec. 1."

"The director and I are deeply appreciative of the favors extended to the city in the past by Crucible and hope that our relations in the future will continue as good as they have been in the past," the mayor said.

"The availability of ashes at Crucible has saved the city thousands of dollars over the years," the mayor added. "If an erroneous impression has been created, I wish to extend my apologies to the Crucible and Mr. Roberts as superintendent of community relations."

"We feel that by discussing the situation with officials at Crucible it will be possible for us to get ashes to supply our needs to help keep traffic moving through the winter's ice and snow," the mayor said.

He explained that for many years "the city relied upon Crucible to furnish us with ashes." But because of increasing electrification of mill processes, it developed that the mill was unable to continue to supply the city as in the past, he explained.

The cinders are supplied to the city primarily to assist the street department in keeping the streets passable during winter and allowing workers to get to and from their jobs promptly, the mayor pointed out. The ashes always have been supplied free of cost, with the only expense to the city the outlay for truck time and drivers to pick up the supplies.

In announcing the cutback in the ash supply, Owen explained Friday the city would not be able to do as good a job of snow removal as in the past and urged motorists to equip their cars with snow tread tires and chains — if possible — and to carry a supply of sand or some other material in their auto trunks for use in emergencies.

Insurance Chief To Be Asked To OK Rating Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters will ask Insurance Supt. Robert L. Mullins at a public hearing next Tuesday to approve a proposed rating plan that has met state criticism.

The proposal would include franchise operators as part of a single rated risk and provide for automobile liability insurance on cars owned by employes of franchised operators.

Mullins said the proposal appears to be in conflict with department rulings. He said those rulings ban preferential rates or premium treatment based on what he described as ficticious groupings or classification of risks.

Mullins explained that department policy allows grouping of risks for fire or casualty insurance only where there is a common insurable interest such as a fleet policy insuring automobiles under common ownership and control.

The county chapter announced a goal of $11,000.

Committees Are Appointed For Chester Kiwanis Club

Ten standing committees for the Chester Kiwanis Club for 1962 were named by J. Paul Finley, president-elect, at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Appointed were:

Churches — The Rev. Donald Vogel, chairman, Robert Smith, Albert Kell and Dr. Carl Cicarelli; Key Club — William Harper, chairman, Paul Stephens and Alvin Arner; achievement reports—Thomas Ridge, chairman, R. M. McFarland and Eugene Seeley.

Attendance — Russell Davis, chairman, Ridge and Harry Comm; finance — Seeley, chairman, David McPherson, Dr. Frank Bragg and Eugene Boyce; program — Lee Adams, chairman, Miller, Vogel and Smith, and Kiwanis law — McFarland, chairman, Jordan and Davis.

Tentative plans for the March of Dimes drive in January were aired by Alvin Fineman, chairman. He said a traffic solicitation is planned.

Members contributed a total of $20 to be divided between the Chester Ministerial Association and the East Liverpool Rescue Mission instead of holding a gift exchange.

Dr. Matthew screened slides of a trip to Europe. Tom Martin of the Key Club was a guest. The annual "College Night" dinner meeting will be held Tuesday at 6:30 at the Durbin Memorial Center of the Methodist Church.

Work Advances On New Gas Line

Work is proceeding on schedule on the installation of a pipeline to extend natural gas service to the Hammondsville - Irondale areas, the Ohio Valley Gas Co. said today.

The project, entailing the laying of more than seven miles of new line, is about a third completed, Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool division manager of the utility, estimated.

The main line extends west from a point along Route 213 at Yellow Creek, passes twice under Pennsylvania Railroad lines, crosses two streams, to Hammondsville.

There, one section continues along Route 213 to the new $1¼ million Stanton Local High School under construction, and the main swings north to follow County Rd. 50 to Irondale, and the H. K. Porter brick manufacturing plant in New Salisbury. A branch line will provide service to the Porter Co. plant in Cream City.

Sneddon said the pipeline has been laid and covered from its starting point near Hollow Rock Rd. to the Dando Brick Co. plant south of Hammondsville. Another mile has been laid from Hammondsville towards Irondale.

Estimated date of completion of the $220,200 project is Jan. 15.

Northern Panhandle Deer Kill Totals 128

Hunters bagged 128 deer in the Northern Panhandle counties during the "bucks only" season, which ended Saturday.

Harry Shaver of Middlebourne district conservation officer, reported the estimated kill for 18 counties in the district was 877.

The deer kill in the Northern Panhandle by counties included 11 in Brooke, 18 in Ohio, 19 in Marshall, 41 in Wetzel, 46 in Tyler, and only three in Hancock.

Shaver reported the number of hunters was extremely light although the hunting weather was generally good.

The occupations which are the hardest on the eyes, according to recent findings, are as follows: Stenographers, teachers, draftsmen, physicians, dentists, clergymen, lawyers, jewelry and watchmakers, tailors, barbers, and engravers.

Woman Falls From Ladder

A Newell woman hurt in a fall from a ladder at home was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where three other area residents were treated yesterday and released.

Mrs. Evelyn Noah, 503 Jefferson St., Newell, is in "good" condition with a fracture of the right foot suffered in a fall from a stepladder.

Charles Dunlevy, 63, of Calcutta was treated for a laceration of a finger received when a die dropped on it while he was at work at the Louthan Manufacturing Co.

Stephen Neville, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neville, 1513 Wyoming Ave., suffered a possible fracture of the right ankle playing basketball at school.

Larry Simmons, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Simmons of Newell, was treated for a toe injury received when he stubbed it on a door.

5,000 Children Taking Measles Vaccine In Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 5,000 children in four states are taking part in a measles vaccine test.

Surgeon General Luther Terry, chief of the U. S. Public Health Service, said Tuesday youngsters are taking part in the test in DeKalb County, Ga.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Seattle, Wash., and Rochester and Buffalo, N.Y.

One group of children is getting three shots of killed virus measles vaccine. Another group is getting two shots of killed virus vaccine and one of live virus vaccine. A third group will receive placebos, dummy injections to serve as a control for the test.

Terry said the tests are to find out which of the first two methods is more effective in combatting the biggest killer among childhood diseases. Measles kills about 500 children a year.

Woman In Truck Injured In Crash

A New Cumberland area woman is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with injuries received in a traffic crash Tuesday at 4:33 p. m.

Mrs. Eula Jane Swain, 33, of R. D. 2 suffered injuries of the left side of the head when her half-ton truck was struck by a Pittsburgh man's car near the Pughtown Grange of the West Virginia State Road Commission on Route 2.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Swain had pulled from a driveway onto Route 2 to enter the south-bound lane, when her truck was hit by the north-bound sedan of Melvin T. Wilson, 49, of Pittsburgh.

Wilson was cited on a charge of hazardous driving and posted $32 bond for a hearing Friday at 11 a. m. before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Meanwhile, a hearing is scheduled Monday for Carol J. Keys, 31, of 330 E. 8th St., who was cited Monday on a charge of failure to have her auto under control.

Man To Be Confined In Molestation Case

Ralph W. Byers, 35, of 313 North St. was sentenced to 1-10 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary Tuesday for molesting a 15-year-old East Liverpool boy.

Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp had sent Byers to the Lima State Hospital for observation and report after he was found guilty by a petit jury. Judge Sharp ordered his return to the Lima hospital as a psychopathic offender until such time as he is able to serve his prison sentence.

Lisbon Board To Sell Bonds For Addition

LISBON — The village Board of Education Tuesday night set Jan. 9 for opening of bids for sale of the $350,000 bond issue approved Nov. 7 for a 14-room addition at McKinley School. The offers will be opened at 12:30 p. m. The board will meet that night at 7:30 to act on the bids.

The board also authorized an appraisal of the Freeman and Stackhouse land of the Methodist Church for a playground adjoining the school. The present playlot area will be used for the expansion.

An operating levy of 16 mills, which expires next year, will be placed on the May ballot for renewal for a year. In other action the board accepted the tax rates set by the County Budget Commission, transferred funds in adjustment of balances and authorized payments to board members for attending meetings, which are turned in to the scholarship fund.

The sum of $100 was provided for the Choral Boosters' Association towards purchase of a piano for the high school gym and plans for a poety contest were approved with cash awards to be made from the $250 donated by Lyle Abrams. Annual prizes of $15 and $10 for entries in Grades 9-12 will be awarded at Senior Day.

Supt. Russell Armitage asked permission to discontinue class groupings next term and the board will take action at the next meeting. The board approved his suggestion that only one drive be held in the schools each year for community projects.

Attendance of Principal John Lewis to the National Elementary Principals' Association meeting in Detroit March 24-28 was authorized.

Bills totaling $84,765 were ordered paid.

Chairmen still are needed for committees on agriculture and conservation, acheivement reports, attendance and membership, laws and regulations, public and business affairs and Kiwanis education and fellowship.

Grills asked the membership to volunteer to serve on a committee of their choice.

Wilfing, president, conducted business. Bush was named to serve as secretary for the remainder of the year to fill the vacancy created by the death of School Supt. S. E. Daw.

The club held a discussion on establishment of a scholarship fund as a memorial to Mr. Daw. It will be started with personal subscription.

Twenty attended. Dr. Edwin Webster, formerly of Woodsfield, was introduced. An osteopath, Dr. Webster has started practice in Wellsville.

It was reported the club paid the expenses for a youth sent to Columbus for a special eye examination.

Lawton was inducted as a new member. Wilfing conducted the ceremony.

The annual Christmas party for members and their wives will be next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Piatt's. As in the past, each member will take a gift for a child in a foster home.

New officers will be installed.

It was reported the Christmas tree sale is continuing at the Tastee-Freeze lot on Wells Ave.

PTA Slates Meeting

SALINEVILLE — The Salineville Parent - Teacher Association will meet Thursday night at 7 at the high school for business. Instead of a program, members will adjourn to attend the high school band concert at 8, David Frazer, president, said.

Jobless Claims Rise At Present, But Under 1960

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unemployment compensation claim totals are continuing a weeks-long rise in Ohio, but still are far below the totals of the same period last year.

In new claims, the total filed in the week ended Dec. 9 was 19,412. This compared to 17,161 in the week ended last Nov. 18, and an average of 30,604 new claims filed weekly in December of last year.

Continuing claims hit 94,985 in the week ended Dec. 9. This compared with 82,405 in the week ended last Nov. 18. In December last year the average continuing claims on file each week was 171,745.

"Mostly seasonal," bureau officials commented today when asked if there was any significance in the climb, relating to Ohio's economy. It was pointed out that some minor labor-management disputes, some layoffs in the steel industry added to the increases, but primarily the seasonal drop of activity in the construction industry was reflected in the totals.

Wayne Wallace Heads Civil War Roundtable

Wayne Wallace of Wellsville R. D. was elected president of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable at a meeting Tuesday night at the Carnegie Library. He succeeds Judge Louis Tobin.

Others elected were William Weir of Salem, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Cresse of Wellsville, secretary, and Charles Tittle of East Liverpool, treasurer.

Discussion was held on plans for future programs, the role the Civil War studies can play in today's national picture and some political aspects of the pre-way era.

Judge Tobin presided. Next meeting is Jan. 9.

President Of Midland Coin Club Re-Elected

Mike Karas of Brighton Township was returned as president of the Midland Coin Club at the annual meeting Monday evening in the Council Chambers in the Borough Building.

Donald Green was elected as vice president and Mrs. Alice Fernsler was re-elected secretary-treasurer, both of Midland. The new Board of Governors includes Ray White and Walter Dardenjeski, both of Midland, and William Stoffel of East Liverpool.

John Quick of New Cumberland will present a history on the origin and development of money at the next meeting Jan. 8.

Coins are auctioned at each meeting.

Committees Are Appointed For Chester Kiwanis Club

Ten standing committees for the Chester Kiwanis Club for 1962 were named by J. Paul Finley, president-elect, at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Appointed were:

Churches — The Rev. Donald Vogel, chairman, Robert Smith, Albert Kell and Dr. Carl Cicarelli; Key Club — William Harper, chairman, Paul Stephens and Alvin Arner; achievement reports—Thomas Ridge, chairman, R. M. McFarland and Eugene Seeley.

Attendance — Russell Davis, chairman, Ridge and Harry Comm; finance — Seeley, chairman, David McPherson, Dr. Frank Bragg and Eugene Boyce; program — Lee Adams, chairman, Miller, Vogel and Smith, and Kiwanis law — McFarland, chairman, Jordan and Davis.

Tentative plans for the March of Dimes drive in January were aired by Alvin Fineman, chairman. He said a traffic solicitation is planned.

Members confributed a total of $20 to be divided between the Chester Ministerial Association and the East Liverpool Rescue Mission instead of holding a gift exchange.

Dr. Matthew screened slides of a trip to Europe. Tom Martin of the Key Club was a guest. The annual "College Night" dinner meeting will be held Tuesday at 6:30 at the Durbin Memorial Center of the Methodist Church.

Work Advances On New Gas Line

Work is proceeding on schedule on the installation of a pipeline to extend natural gas service to the Hammondsville - Irondale areas, the Ohio Valley Gas Co. said today.

The project, entailing the laying of more than seven miles of new line, is about a third completed, Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool division manager of the utility, estimated.

The main line extends west from a point along Route 213 at Yellow Creek, passes twice under Pennsylvania Railroad lines, crosses two streams, to Hammondsville.

There, one section continues along Route 213 to the new $1¼ million Stanton Local High School under construction, and the main swings north to follow County Rd. 50 to Irondale, and the H. K. Porter brick manufacturing plant in New Salisbury. A branch line will provide service to the Porter Co. plant in Cream City.

Sneddon said the pipeline has been laid and covered from its starting point near Hollow Rock Rd. to the Dando Brick Co. plant south of Hammondsville. Another mile has been laid from Hammondsville towards Irondale.

Estimated date of completion of the $220,200 project is Jan. 15.

Northern Panhandle Deer Kill Totals 128

Hunters bagged 128 deer in the Northern Panhandle counties during the "bucks only" season, which ended Saturday.

Harry Shaver of Middlebourne district conservation officer, reported the estimated kill for 18 counties in the district was 877.

The deer kill in the Northern Panhandle by counties included 11 in Brooke, 18 in Ohio, 19 in Marshall, 41 in Wetzel, 46 in Tyler, and only three in Hancock.

Shaver reported the number of hunters was extremely light although the hunting weather was generally good.

The occupations which are the hardest on the eyes, according to recent findings, are as follows: Stenographers, teachers, draftsmen, physicians, dentists, clergymen, lawyers, jewelry and watchmakers, tailors, barbers, and engravers.

Woman Falls From Ladder

A Newell woman hurt in a fall from a ladder at home was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where three other area residents were treated yesterday and released.

Mrs. Evelyn Noah, 503 Jefferson St., Newell, is in "good" condition with a fracture of the right foot suffered in a fall from a stepladder.

Charles Dunlevy, 63, of Calcutta was treated for a laceration of a finger received when a die dropped on it while he was at work at the Louthan Manufacturing Co.

Stephen Neville, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neville, 1513 Wyoming Ave., suffered a possible fracture of the right ankle playing basketball at school.

Larry Simmons, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Simmons of Newell, was treated for a toe injury received when he stubbed it on a door.

5,000 Children Taking Measles Vaccine In Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 5,000 children in four states are taking part in a measles vaccine test.

Surgeon General Luther Terry, chief of the U. S. Public Health Service, said Tuesday youngsters are taking part in the test in DeKalb County, Ga.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Seattle, Wash., and Rochester and Buffalo, N.Y.

One group of children is getting three shots of killed virus measles vaccine. Another group is getting two shots of killed virus vaccine and one of live virus vaccine. A third group will receive placebos, dummy injections to serve as a control for the test.

Terry said the tests are to find out which of the first two methods is more effective in combatting the biggest killer among childhood diseases. Measles kills about 500 children a year.

Woman In Truck Injured In Crash

A New Cumberland area woman is in "fair" condition today in City Hospital with injuries received in a traffic crash Tuesday at 4:33 p. m.

Mrs. Eula Jane Swain, 33, of R. D. 2 suffered injuries of the left side of the head when her half-ton truck was struck by a Pittsburgh man's car near the Pughtown Grange of the West Virginia State Road Commission on Route 2.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Swain had pulled from a driveway onto Route 2 to enter the south-bound lane, when her truck was hit by the northbound sedan of Melvin T. Wilson, 49, of Pittsburgh.

Wilson was cited on a charge of hazardous driving and posted $32 bond for a hearing Friday at 11 a. m. before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Meanwhile, a hearing is scheduled Monday for Carol J. Keys, 31, of 330 E. 8th St., who was cited Monday on a charge of failure to have her auto under control.

Man To Be Confined In Molestation Case

Ralph W. Byers, 35, of 313 North St. was sentenced to 1-10 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary Tuesday for molesting a 15-year-old East Liverpool boy.

Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp had sent Byers to the Lima State Hospital for observation and report after he was found guilty by a petit jury. Judge Sharp ordered his return to the Lima hospital as a psychopathic offender until such time as he is able to serve his prison sentence.

Lisbon Board To Sell Bonds For Addition

LISBON — The village Board of Education Tuesday night set Jan. 9 for opening of bids for sale of the $350,000 bond issue approved Nov. 7 for a 14-room addition at McKinley School. The offers will be opened at 12:30 p. m. The board will meet that night at 7:30 to act on the bids.

The board also authorized an appraisal of the Freeman and Stackhouse land of the Methodist Church for a playground adjoining the school. The present playlot area will be used for the expansion.

An operating levy of 16 mills, which expires next year, will be placed on the May ballot for renewal for a year. In other action the board accepted the tax rates set by the County Budget Commission, transferred funds in adjustment of balances and authorized payments to board members for attending meetings, which are turned in to the scholarship fund.

The sum of $100 was provided for the Choral Boosters' Association towards purchase of a piano for the high school gym and plans for a poety contest were approved with cash awards to be made from the $250 donated by Lyle Abrams. Annual prizes of $15 and $10 for entries in Grades 9-12 will be awarded at Senior Day.

Supt. Russell Armitage asked permission to discontinue class groupings next term and the board will take action at the next meeting. The board approved his suggestion that only one drive be held in the schools each year for community projects.

Attendance of Principal John Lewis to the National Elementary Principals' Association meeting in Detroit March 24-28 was authorized.

Bills totaling $84,765 were ordered paid.

Yesterday at 5:04 p. m. they were called to the home of Paul Thomas, 338 Norton St., when a chimney caught fire.

At 6:56 p. m. firemen assisted a woman at 804 Bradshaw Ave., who had locked herself out of her home, and at 8:39 p. m. they aided a man in the same trouble at 317½ Jackson St.

They were called by Mrs. Anna Metsch, 1551 Globe St., at 6:43 this morning when an overheated furnace motor filled the home with smoke.

Jobless Claims Rise At Present, But Under 1960

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unemployment compensation claim totals are continuing a weeks-long rise in Ohio, but still are far below the totals of the same period last year.

In new claims, the total filed in the week ended Dec. 9 was 19,412. This compared to 17,161 in the week ended last Nov. 18, and an average of 30,604 new claims filed weekly in December of last year.

Continuing claims hit 94,985 in the week ended Dec. 9. This compared with 82,405 in the week ended last Nov. 18. In December last year the average continuing claims on file each week was 171,745.

"Mostly seasonal," bureau officials commented today when asked if there was any significance in the climb, relating to Ohio's economy. It was pointed out that some minor labor-management disputes, some layoffs in the steel industry added to the increases, but primarily the seasonal drop of activity in the construction industry was reflected in the totals.

Most Of Ohio School Levies Are Approved

By The Associated Press

School operating levies, defeated in the general election last month, did considerably better Tuesday when they went back to voters on second attempts to get needed money.

Only three defeats were reported, and two of these would have passed in a general election when only a bare majority is needed. In the special balloting a 55 per cent majority vote is required.

The Scioto Valley School District in southeastern Ross County, defeated a 15-mill levy for school operations for a second time. No votes totaled 738 to 401 yes. In the previous election the issue was defeated by a 2-1 margin.

In Mentor, where a 4.5 mill levy to provide an additional $260,000 was up for vote, citizens defeated the measure 2,453 to 2,212.

Another defeat was reported in Ashland where a 2.9-mill levy to operate the new Ashland High School and provide a cost-of-living adjustment in teachers salaries got only 53.4 per cent majority. The Ashland School Board had said failure to pass the levy would prevent the high school from being opened next September as scheduled.

Two of the biggest levies to get voter approval were 10-mill issues in Trenton School District in Butler County and Ripley-Union-Lewis School District in Brown County. Both were overwhelmingly accepted the second time around—the Butler County levy approved 1,081-276 and the one in Brown County 1,100-200.

Two districts in Preble County supported levies. A 9-mill issue was approved at Lewisburg 913-71, and one for 3.5 mills carried 263-171 in the Dixon-Israel district.

Other levies to be approved included:

5.19 mills in Germantown in Montgomery County, 959-569.

3.7 mills in Lebanon, 1,632-337.

4 mills for the Allenville Consolidated School District in Vinton County, 558-172.

Auto Salesman Guilty Of Fraud

LISBON — Donald E. Young, 27, of East Palestine, former auto salesman, was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court jury late Tuesday on two counts of making a false statement to obtain a duplicate certificate of title for two cars.

Young was the last of four men charged by the September Grand Jury after a disclosure of "double financing" at the Valley Motor Sales Inc., of East Palestine, which went out of business May 20.

Robert H. Grove, president, pleaded guilty on four counts and requested probation, but James T. Johnson, vice president, and Charles Ludwig, a salesman, were acquitted in jury trials.

Judge Joel H. Sharp delayed sentencing of Young pending application for a new trial.

Bill Burlingame Receives Annual 'Booth Award'

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Bill Burlingame, a third-string center a year ago who didn't break into his first varsity game until midway in the 1961 season, became the 24th recipient of the Bill Booth Memorial Trophy when 200 attended the annual East Liverpool High School football banquet Tuesday night at St. Aloysius School.

The 165-pound guard, highest scholastically on the list of eight seniors eligible for the award, shared honors with three other teammates at the annual banquet sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Jerry Bell was named the squad's most valuable back, while Jim Ferello, the Potters' 195-pound senior tackle, was named the most valuable lineman. Bill Durbin, a junior who is in his final season of football because of age eligibility, was named the team's honorary captain for the 1961 season.

—:—

HEAD coach Bob Hedmond presented the lineman award to Ferello, while Bernie Allen, the former Potter and Purdue football great now with the Minnesota Twins, awarded the outstanding back trophy to Bell. Durbin received the captain's trophy presented for the first time by the East Liverpool Review.

Burlingame, who won his first varsity letter this year, succeeds Joe Thompson as the Bill Booth winner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burlingame of Riley Ave.

Carl A. "Pop" Werner made the annual presentation of the award presented to the outstanding senior by the Hi-Y Clubs. Selection of a winner is based on five points including ability, sportsmanship, scholastic standing, character and leadership.

★ ★ ★ Ferello, Bell, Durbin Also Honored; 200 Hear Dike Beede ★ ★ ★

Burlingame joins a list of Potter greats of the past including Tom Taylor, 1938; Larry Bruno, 1939; Chuck Deshler, 1940; Warren Strub, 1941; Ray Gochenour, 1942; Dick Smith, 1943; Lee Hyder, 1944; Charles Means, 1945; Don Jackson, 1946; Tom Bell, 1947; Pete McCullough, 1948; Nick Trua, 1949; Dan Skaleski, 1950; Dan Cooper, 1951; Bob McCoy, 1952; Jack Doughty, 1953; Dale Mays, 1954; Jim Potts, 1955; Jack Dopler, 1956; Jim Kapp, 1957; Nick Musuraca, 1958; Bob Mackall, 1959, and Thompson, 1960.

JUNIORS Tom Kraft, a halfback, and guard Bob Parsons were named co-captains for next season.

A new award presented to the "Booster of the Year" by the Nonpareil Club was won by Dave Thorne, a senior at East Liverpool High School who has been an outstanding worker in promoting pep rallies for the Potter athletic teams and other school activities.

Russ Hall, president of the Nonpareil Club, was given a certificate of appreciation by Harry McConvillle, first president of the Nonpareil Club, who also presented the Booster-Of-The-Year award.

The Potters probably set a new record for letter winners this season when Hedmond presented 29 varsity awards as 12 went to sophomores, eight to juniors and nine to seniors.

Manager awards went to Joe Matheny, Bob Netwick, Tim Kind, Fritz Schmitt, Bob Hughes and Jim Stacey.

Matheny also was given a special plaque as senior manager.

Dike Beede, one of the top names in small college football circles for over a quarter of a century, was the guest speaker at the banquet. He is head football coach at Youngstown University.

Beede, who introduced the now customary practice of officials using red flags rather than horns to denote fouls during a game, reviewed the history of his innovation.

He told how the flags were made by his wife and were first used in 1941 in a game between Youngstown and Oklahoma City and were an immediate success and are now standard equipment of grid officials.

—:—

BEEDE told the young gridders "you can do anything if you are willing to pay the price, but it takes hard work. You must present a challenge within yourself then meet this challenge."

He called football "the greatest game known to mankind." The game is played with the heart and with determination, he said.

Beeded stressed that "morale is essential to being successful in football."

Last night's speaker has compiled a record of 104-69-9 in 23 years at Youngstown University. The Penguins were 4-4-1 this past season.

Beede resides on a 120-acre tree farm near Elkton.

He was introduced by Carl Pelini, principal at Westgate Junior High who served as toastmaster. Pelini also introduced several guests, including Lou Venditti, head coach of the Potters last year who is now in the same position at Canton Lincoln.

Miss Joan Witt introduced members of the varsity and reserve cheerleaders and presented awards to both groups.

Frank Dawson was chairman of the 1961 banquet.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. John L. Clark of the First Methodist Church. The dinner was served by the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Aloysius Church.

Midland's Streak Reaches 4

By ANDY NUZZO

★ ★ ★ Aloi, Lake Continue 1-2 Punch In 80-58 Win Over Ellwood City ★ ★ ★

Hank Kuzma's Midland High School Leopards, led by Al Aloi, Rich Lake, and Sam Forester, ran roughshod over the Ellwood City High School Wolverines, 80-58 at Midland Tuesday night.

The trio combined for 67 of the 80 points posted by the Leopards. Aloi ripped the cords for 27 points, mostly on soft jump shots around the key. Lake poured in 25 on long jumpers and lay-ups. Forester was the strong man around the basket, adding 15 points with some fine rebound shots.

MIDLAND had its best night from the field, hitting on 32 of 64 shots for a hot 50 per cent.

Ellwood City also had a fine night from the field, converting 22 of 54 shots for a respectable 41 per cent.

Midland out-rebounded the taller Ellwood City club, 28-24, Leading the way were Aloi and Forester with nine and eight respectively.

Jim Santelli led the Wolverines with 17 points, scoring 11 in the last quarter against the Midland reserves. Santelli went into the game with a better than 20-point-per-game average.

—:—

HARRY PETROSKY drew the assignment of guarding Santelli and did a fine job holding him scoreless until Midland switched into a zone defense mid-way through the first quarter. Santelli registered his first field goal at the two-minute mark of the third quarter.

Midland jumped off to a quick 9-2 lead and moved it to 17-7 at the quarter. In the second stanza, Midland put the game away by outscoring Ellwood City, 21-7, and retired at halftime with a comfortable 38-14 lead.

Aloi, Lake and Forester scored all the Leopard points in the first half. Aloi had 16 and Lake and Forester 11 apiece.

—:—

MIDLAND had a third quarter bulge of 58-32 and midway in the fourth stanza led, 72-43, when Ellwood City cut the lead against the Leopard reserves.

Rochester Spills South Side, 67-55

ROCHESTER — South Side's uncanny accuracy from the foul line kept Coach Dave Nichol's club in the ball game, but it wasn't enough to overcome the overall balance of Rochester which finished on top, 67-55, here Tuesday night.

South Side dropped in 25 of 28 foul attempts, but this could not compensate for the five Rochester cagers who finished in the double figures.

South Side led in the first half, gaining a 12-11 first quarter edge and a 27-25 margin at intermission. The Rams fell behind, 45-37, after three periods.

The loss was South Side's third in four games.

Chuck Schmidt of South Side topped all scorers with 24 points, including six field goals and 12 out of 13 fouls.

Bob Boser and Jim Peel collected 13 each for Rochester, the Coleman brothers, Larry and Art, fired in 12 apiece and George Berkihiser collected 11.

Rochester also captured the reserve game, 53-42.

Stanton Slips By Rival, 58-53

Mills Leads With 20; Wilt 'Held' To 15

Staton Local's biggest nemisis —Springfield Local—threw a scare into the undefeated Irondale five before bowing, 58-53, Tuesday on the Springfield court.

The Tigers never led but kept Coach Harry Diehl's Raiders in hot water most of the evening.

The victory was Stanton's third in a row and was a big one over the only team to beat Stanton last season.

Don "Wilt" Spires, double-teamed by Springfield's Dale Featheringham and John Griffith, was held to a new field goal low of three, but converted 9 out of 10 free throws for a total of 15 points, about 10 under his average.

However, Spires was forced to sit out most of the third quarter when he committed his fourth personal foul.

Deadeye Bob Mills, seeing his teammate Spires bottled up, picked up the slack in superb fashion as he drilled in 20 points on eight field goals and four fouls.

Mills scored 14 of his team's 17 points in the first quarter when Stanton moved out to a 17-5 lead and was never headed.

Curt Rose came up with 10 points and Jim Leedy added nine to help the attack.

Springfield closed the gap to four points, 31-27, at halftime and trailed by the same margin, 43-39, at the end of three periods.

Stanton's final edge actually came at the foul line. Outgoaled, 21-20, Stanton converted 18 of 23 fouls while Springfield hit on 11 of 19.

Bill McConnell paced Springfield with 16 points while Howell tossed in 12.

Springfield captured the reserve contest, 23-17.

Robinson's Selected Reds Most Valuable

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson, slugging outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds for six years, has been chosen the team's most valuable player for the second time by the Cincinnati chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

The group named him Tuesday night for his work in the 1961 season in which the Reds won the National League pennant. He also won the award in 1959.

Robinson, 26, batted .323 last season despite a late slump, drove in 124 runs and hit 37 home runs.

The chapter elected Harold Harrison, correspondent for the Associated Press, chairman of the 1962 season. It re-elected Ben Garlikov of the Dayton Daily News secretary and Tom Swope of the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star treasurer.

Pitcher Jim Brosnan First Redleg To Sign

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Jim Brosnan of Cincinnati has become the first Cincinnati Reds player to sign up for 1962.

General Manager Bill DeWitt said the 32-year-old reliever stopped in Tuesday to sign his contract.

Brosnan had a 10-4 record for the National League champs last season and was credited with 16 saves. His earned run average was 3.04.

Chester Drops First Tilt, 49-48, In Hectic Battle At N. Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — In one of the tightest battles played between two Hancock County schools in sometime, New Cumberland edged Coach Max Tuttle's Chester Panthers, 49-48, here Tuesday night.

The contest showed a total of 11 ties and it was still tied up near the very end at 46-46 before a field goal and a foul gave the Raiders 49 points. Jerry Smith dropped in a goal for the Panthers, but that was how the game ended as Chester failed to get another shot away.

The win was New Cumberland's third in four games while Chester stands in with a 1-1 record.

Seven ties occurred in the first half and both teams showed big spurts that left observers believing they would pull away from each other.

After a 10-10 tie, New Cumberland tallied eight straight points to take an 18-10 lead, but then Chester took over and scored 14 consecutive points and jumped in front, 24-18. The first half ended in a 27-27 tie.

New Cumberland could only gain a 41-40 edge after three periods before the hectic fourth quarter got underway.

Leading the way for New Cumberland was Freshwater who turned in a brilliant 22-point performance.

Jerry Smith tossed in 17 points to pace the Panthers while "Jumpin" Jim Tridico fired in 10.

Chester managed to split even by capturing the reserve tilt, 31-23.

East Liverpool's Bob Dawson, captain of the Bowling Green five scored nine points in the 68-44 loss to Duquesne Tuesday night in Pittsburgh.

Falcons Drop First

Dukes Rip Bowling Green

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a familiar story in Eastern college basketball this young season. The section is flooded with contenders for area supremacy, and the contenders bear the same old names — Providence, St. John's, Villanova, Temple, Duquesne, New York University, LaSalle and St. Bonaventure.

Three of these unbeatens were in action Tuesday night and won handily. St. John's Redmen (2-0) ranked ninth nationally, beat Oklahoma 68-49; Duquesne (3-0) dealt Bowling Green of Ohio its first loss 68-44 and St. Bonaventure (4-0) overran Bellarmine 89-58.

St. John's, well-balanced and seasoned, had no trouble with the Sooners. Ivan Kovac, 5-10 defensive specialist, was top scorer for the winners with 19 points.

Bowling Green, winner of four straight with Bradley and Canisius among its victims, played Duquesne even only for the first few minutes. The Dukes broke in front after a 10-10 tie, had a 30-19 advantage at the half and later led by as many as 30 points. Paul Benek was high for Duquesne with 21 points.

In the Midwest, Dayton, DePaul and Illinois breezed along unbeaten while Butler surprised Bradley.

West Virginia steamed to a 35-25 lead at intermission after a slow start, then poured in 62 points during the second half for a 97-61 runaway over Richmond. The Mountaineers have won five straight, all in Southern Conference play. Jon Speaks accounted for six points in overtime, pacing North Carolina State to a 73-68 Atlantic Coast Conference victory against Maryland.

Inexperience Seen Big Problem At Beaver Local High

McCall Begins 1st Season With Only 1 Veteran; Opener Set Friday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

It can't be said that Tom McCall inherited a fortune of material when he took over the head coaching job at Beaver Local High School.

McCall, who succeeds Jack Frontone, found only one letterman in the ranks and he wasn't a regular last season.

"Inexperience is our big problem. We can only hope for improvement as the season progresses," McCall said as he looked over his "eager Beavers".

An assistant last season, McCall will get his first look at his varsity squad in action Friday night at North Lima. The first home opener for the Beavers isn't until Dec. 21. It will be with Newell.

Actually, two lettermen were left over from last season. One is John Baker, a 6-foot senior, who didn't play as a regular in the 1960-61 season but saw enough action to win a letter. He is battling for a first-team berth, but is currently one of four seeking the spot.

The other letter-winner was Dave Myer. But Dave has moved to Brazil, Ind., where he is playing as a regular on the varsity squad. Myer also was a top-notch pitcher and already has been spotted by several Major League teams.

McCall points out four cagers who seem to have starting jobs wrapped up. The list includes three seniors — Dave Hawkins 6 feet; John Broadbent and Larry Carroll, both 5-foot-10. The fourth member is George Gaydos, a 5-foot-11 junior.

These four cagers were regulars on last year's reserve squad, but didn't see much in the way of varsity action.

A battle is on for the fifth spot among seniors Dick Aluilus, 6-foot-4, and Tom Greenwood, 6-foot-2, Baker and junior Gary Berhar, who hits the 6-foot-2 mark.

"It could be anyone of these four boys. Aluilus didn't play last season because of a broken leg," McCall said.

Other candidates for the varsity team are Pete Wilkinson, 5-foot-10 senior, and Dave Morse and Gary Shaw, a pair of 5-foot-8 juniors.

Several reserves showing a lot of promise are juniors Larry McLaughlin, 5-foot-10; John Aluilus, 5-foot-11; sophomore Jim Woody, 5-foot-11, and freshman Dennis Horger, 5-foot-10.

"We lost our first five starters from last season," McCall commented, naming Bill Reed, Mike Durbin, Jim Pike, Dick Barnhart and Jim Banner.

The Beavers recorded the best record in the school's history last season with a 12-5 mark.

"The attitude of the team is good, and we have good team speed which we hope will help compensate for the lack of experience," McCall added.

The Beavers will play an 18-game schedule, with nine contests at home.

The 1961-62 schedule follows:

Dec. 15	North Lima	away
Dec. 21	Newell	home
Dec. 22	Wellsville	home
Dec. 29	United	away
Jan. 5	Carrollton	home
Jan. 9	Chester	home
Jan. 12	Toronto	home
Jan. 13	Stanton Local	away
Jan. 19	Wellsville	away
Jan. 20	Newell	away
Jan. 23	Youngstown East	home
Jan. 26	Toronto	away
Jan. 30	Chester	away
Feb. 3	Crestview	home
Feb. 9	Salineville	home
Feb. 10	Springfield Local	away
Feb. 16	New Cumberland	home
Feb. 17	West Branch	away

FIGHT RESULTS

Boston—Joe Denucci, 165, Newton, Mass., and Joey Giardello, 161, Philadelphia, drew, 10.

Manila—Arthur Persley, 133¼, Red Cross, La., outpointed Solomon Boysaw, 135, Cleveland, 10.

Wilt Meshes 54 In Warriors Win

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain, 7-foot-1 ace of the Philadelphia Warriors, on a tear that has given him 326 points in his last six games, hit for 22 field goals in 42 shots Tuesday night as the Warriors crushed Detroit 132-109 as part of an NBA doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The hapless New York Knicks dropped their fifth in a row, 126-124 to Syracuse, in the second game.

Chamberlain hit the first six free throws he tried and 10 of 14 during the game. He scored 54 points altogether.

The Warriors, with Tom Gola and Guy Rodgers also scoring consistently, built a 26-point lead over the Pistons just before the half and Detroit never got closer than nine points after that.

Hal Greer hit 33 points and Dave Gambee 23 for Syracuse, which fought back the last-place Knicks after New York had pulled to within one point at 110-109 with 6:45 left.

Most Of Ohio School Levies Are Approved

By The Associated Press

School operating levies, defeated in the general election last month, did considerably better Tuesday when they went back to voters on second attempts to get needed money.

Only three defeats were reported, and two of these would have passed in a general election when only a bare majority is needed. In the special balloting a 55 per cent majority vote is required.

The Scioto Valley School District in southeastern Ross County, defeated a 15-mill levy for school operations for a second time. No votes totaled 738 to 401 yes. In the previous election the issue was defeated by a 2-1 margin.

In Mentor, where a 4.5 mill levy to provide an additional $260,000 was up for vote, citizens defeated the measure 2,453 to 2,212.

Another defeat was reported in Ashland where a 2.9-mill levy to operate the new Ashland High School and provide a cost-of-living adjustment in teachers salaries got only 53.4 per cent majority. The Ashland School Board had said failure to pass the levy would prevent the high school from being opened next September as scheduled.

Two of the biggest levies to get voter approval were 10-mill issues in Trenton School District in Butler County and Ripley-Union-Lewis School District in Brown County. Both were overwhelmingly accepted the second time around—the Butler County levy approved 1,081-276 and the one in Brown County 1,100-200.

Two districts in Preble County supported levies. A 9-mill issue was approved at Lewisburg 913-71, and one for 3.5 mills carried 263-171 in the Dixon-Israel district.

Other levies to be approved included:

5.19 mills in Germantown in Montgomery County, 959-569.

3.7 mills in Lebanon, 1,632-337.

4 mills for the Allenville Consolidated School District in Vinton County, 558-172.

Auto Salesman Guilty Of Fraud

LISBON — Donald E. Young, 27, of East Palestine, former auto salesman, was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court jury late Tuesday on two counts of making a false statement to obtain a duplicate certificate of title for two cars.

Young was the last of four men charged by the September Grand Jury after a disclosure of "double financing" at the Valley Motor Sales Inc., of East Palestine, which went out of business May 20.

Robert H. Grove, president, pleaded guilty on four counts and requested probation, but James T. Johnson, vice president, and Charles Ludwig, a salesman, were acquitted in jury trials.

Judge Joel H. Sharp delayed sentencing of Young pending application for a new trial.

Houston's 5th Grid Coach Is Bill Yoeman

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — William F. (Bill) Yeoman is the University of Houston's fifth head football coach.

The 33-year-old backfield assistant at Michigan State was hired Tuesday by a screening committee that picked him unanimously.

Yeoman's salary and length of contract were not disclosed.

He will replace Hal Lahar, who resigned in September but stayed on to coach the Cougars to a 6-4 season against tough opponents that included Alabama and Auburn.

It was sort of a birthday present for the former Texas A&M and Army player, who will be 34 Dec. 26.

Danzo, Jackson Return To Bolster ELHS Matmen; Opener Set Thursday

Bolstered by two district champions from last season, East Liverpool High will launch its wrestling season Thursday at Memorial Auditorium against South Side. The first match is slated for 4:15 p. m.

Coach Rey Peduzzi is directing the Potter matmen again this season. He had a 4-5 record last year.

Leading the Potters are two lettermen who wrestled their way into the state meet a year ago but failed to place at Columbus after copping district crowns.

They are Dom Danzo, a senior, who will be wrestling in the lead-off spot at 103 pounds and "Jumpin" Joe Jackson, another senior, who will be weighing in at 133 pounds.

These two veterans are joined by another pair of lettermen, Bob Parsons, a junior, who lettered last season and will be wrestling in the 165-pound class, and Gene Wolfe, a senior, in the 175-pound match.

Peduzzi has found a few surprises this season, including sophomore Mike Smith, a 120-pounder. Jerry Triner, a junior, has won the 112-pound spot, while the 138-pound position will be handled by Butch Griffith, another senior.

Allen Douglas will be wrestling at 145 pounds, with Butch Mathias in the 165-pound match and Gary Burton the 127. East Liverpool's heavyweight for the opening match will be Charles Allen, a senior.

Taylor's Effort For Rushing Title To Reach Climax

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Taylor's bid to dethrone Cleveland's Jimmy Brown as the top rusher in the National Football League reaches the climax stage Sunday, last day of the regular season.

The Green Bay Packer fullback will enter Sunday's game against the Rams at Los Angeles trailing Brown, league rushing leader each of the last four years and No. 1 this season, by 71 yards. Brown will be busy in New York against the Eastern Conference pace-setting Giants.

Taylor gained 66 yards on Brown last Sunday as the teams of both players went down to defeat.

Brown has rushed an even 1,300 yards this season and Taylor 1,229. No other player is close.

Cleveland's quarterback Milt Plum continued to set the passing pace, according to NFL figures released today. He has completed 170 of 277 tosses for 2,325 yards, or 61.4 per cent, and 17 touchdowns. Philadelphia's Sonny Jurgensen is second and Green Bay's Bart Starr third.

Bill Burlingame Receives Annual 'Booth Award'

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Bill Burlingame, a third-string center a year ago who didn't break into his first varsity game until midway in the 1961 season, became the 24th recipient of the Bill Booth Memorial Trophy when 200 attended the annual East Liverpool High School football banquet Tuesday night at St. Aloysius School.

The 165-pound guard, highest scholastically on the list of eight seniors eligible for the award, shared honors with three other teammates at the annual banquet sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Jerry Bell was named the squad's most valuable back, while Jim Ferello, the Potters' 195-pound senior tackle, was named the most valuable lineman. Bill Durbin, a junior who is in his final season of football because of age eligibility, was named the team's honorary captain for the 1961 season.

—:—

HEAD coach Bob Hedmond presented the lineman award to Ferello, while Bernie Allen, the former Potter and Purdue football great now with the Minnesota Twins, awarded the outstanding back trophy to Bell. Durbin received the captain's trophy presented for the first time by the East Liverpool Review.

Burlingame, who won his first varsity letter this year, succeeds Joe Thompson as the Bill Booth winner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burlingame of Riley Ave.

Carl A. "Pop" Werner made the annual presentation of the award presented to the outstanding senior by the Hi-Y Clubs. Selection of a winner is based on five points including ability, sportsmanship, scholastic standing, character and leadership.

★ ★ ★ Ferello, Bell, Durbin Also Honored; 200 Hear Dike Beede ★ ★ ★

Burlingame joins a list of Potter greats of the past including Tom Taylor, 1938; Larry Bruno, 1939; Chuck Deshler, 1940; Warren Strub, 1941; Ray Gochenour, 1942; Dick Smith, 1943; Lee Hyder, 1944; Charles Means, 1945; Don Jackson, 1946; Tom Bell, 1947; Pete McCullough, 1948; Nick Trua, 1949; Dan Skaleski, 1950; Dan Cooper, 1951; Bob McCoy, 1952; Jack Doughty, 1953; Dale Mays, 1954; Jim Potts, 1955; Jack Dopler, 1956; Jim Kapp, 1957; Nick Musuraca, 1958; Bob Mackall, 1959, and Thompson, 1960.

JUNIORS Tom Kraft, a halfback, and guard Bob Parsons were named co-captains for next season.

A new award presented to the "Booster of the Year" by the Nonpareil Club was won by Dave Thorne, a senior at East Liverpool High School who has been an outstanding worker in promoing pep rallies for the Potter athletic teams and other school activities.

Russ Hall, president of the Nonpareil Club, was given a certificate of appreciation by Harry McConvillle, first president of the Nonpareil Club, who also presented the Booster-Of-The-Year award.

The Potters probably set a new record for letter winners this season when Hedmond presented 29 varsity awards as 12 went to sophomores, eight to juniors and nine to seniors.

Manager awards went to Joe Matheny, Bob Netwick, Tim Kind, Fritz Schmitt, Bob Hughes and Jim Stacey.

Matheny also was given a special plaque as senior manager.

Dike Beede, one of the top names in small college football circles for over a quarter of a century, was the guest speaker at the banquet. He is head football coach at Youngstown University.

Beede, who introduced the now customary practice of officials using red flags rather than horns to denote fouls during a game, reviewed the history of his innovation.

He told how the flags were made by his wife and were first used in 1941 in a game between Youngstown and Oklahoma City and were an immediate success and are now standard equipment of grid officials.

—:—

BEEDE told the young gridders "you can do anything if you are willing to pay the price, but it takes hard work. You must present a challenge within yourself then meet this challenge."

He called football "the greatest game known to mankind." The game is played with the heart and with determination, he said.

Beeded stressed that "morale is essential to being successful in football."

Last night's speaker has compiled a record of 104-69-9 in 23 years at Youngstown University. The Penguins were 4-4-1 this past season.

Beede resides on a 120-acre tree farm near Elkton.

He was introduced by Carl Pelini, principal at Westgate Junior High who served as toastmaster. Pelini also introduced several guests, including Lou Venditti, head coach of the Potters last year who is now in the same position at Canton Lincoln.

Miss Joan Witt introduced members of the varsity and reserve cheerleaders and presented awards to both groups.

Frank Dawson was chairman of the 1961 banquet.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. John L. Clark of the First Methodist Church. The dinner was served by the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Aloysius Church.

Hank Kuzma's Midland High School Leopards, led by Al Aloi, Rich Lake, and Sam Forester, ran roughshod over the Ellwood City High School Wolverines, 80-58 at Midland Tuesday night.

Rochester Spills South Side, 67-55

ROCHESTER — South Side's uncanny accuracy from the foul line kept Coach Dave Nichol's club in the ball game, but it wasn't enough to overcome the overall balance of Rochester which finished on top, 67-55, here Tuesday night.

South Side dropped in 25 of 28 foul attempts, but this could not compensate for the five Rochester cagers who finished in the double figures.

South Side led in the first half, gaining a 12-11 first quarter edge and a 27-25 margin at intermission. The Rams fell behind, 45-37, after three periods.

The loss was South Side's third in four games.

Chuck Schmidt of South Side topped all scorers with 24 points, including six field goals and 12 out of 13 fouls.

Bob Boser and Jim Peel collected 13 each for Rochester, the Coleman brothers, Larry and Art, fired in 12 apiece and George Berkihiser collected 11.

Rochester also captured the reserve game, 53-42.

Mills Leads With 20; Wilt 'Held' To 15

Staton Local's biggest nemisis —Springfield Local—threw a scare into the undefeated Irondale five before bowing, 58-53, Tuesday on the Springfield court.

The Tigers never led but kept Coach Harry Diehl's Raiders in hot water most of the evening.

The victory was Stanton's third in a row and was a big one over the only team to beat Stanton last season.

Don "Wilt" Spires, double-teamed by Springfield's Dale Featheringham and John Griffith, was held to a new field goal low of three, but converted 9 out of 10 free throws for a total of 15 points, about 10 under his average.

However, Spires was forced to sit out most of the third quarter when he committed his fourth personal foul.

Deadeye Bob Mills, seeing his teammate Spires bottled up, picked up the slack in superb fashion as he drilled in 20 points on eight field goals and four fouls.

Mills scored 14 of his team's 17 points in the first quarter when Stanton moved out to a 17-5 lead and was never headed.

Curt Rose came up with 10 points and Jim Leedy added nine to help the attack.

Springfield closed the gap to four points, 31-27, at halftime and trailed by the same margin, 43-39, at the end of three periods.

Stanton's final edge actually came at the foul line. Outgoaled, 21-20, Stanton converted 18 of 23 fouls while Springfield hit on 11 of 19.

Bill McConnell paced Springfield with 16 points while Howell tossed in 12.

Springfield captured the reserve contest, 23-17.

Robinson's Selected Reds Most Valuable

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson, slugging outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds for six years, has been chosen the team's most valuable player for the second time by the Cincinnati chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

The group named him Tuesday night for his work in the 1961 season in which the Reds won the National League pennant. He also won the award in 1959.

Robinson, 26, batted .323 last season despite a late slump, drove in 124 runs and hit 37 home runs.

The chapter elected Harold Harrison, correspondent for the Associated Press, chairman of the 1962 season. It re-elected Ben Garlikov of the Dayton Daily News secretary and Tom Swope of the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star treasurer.

Chester Drops First Tilt, 49-48, In Hectic Battle At N. Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — In one of the tightest battles played between two Hancock County schools in sometime, New Cumberland edged Coach Max Tuttle's Chester Panthers, 49-48, here Tuesday night.

The contest showed a total of 11 ties and it was still tied up near the very end at 46-46 before a field goal and a foul gave the Raiders 49 points. Jerry Smith dropped in a goal for the Panthers, but that was how the game ended as Chester failed to get another shot away.

The win was New Cumberland's third in four games while Chester stands in with a 1-1 record.

Seven ties occurred in the first half and both teams showed big spurts that left observers believing they would pull away from each other.

After a 10-10 tie, New Cumberland tallied eight straight points to take an 18-10 lead, but then Chester took over and scored 14 consecutive points and jumped in front, 24-18. The first half ended in a 27-27 tie.

New Cumberland could only gain a 41-40 edge after three periods before the hectic fourth quarter got underway.

Leading the way for New Cumberland was Freshwater who turned in a brilliant 22-point performance.

Jerry Smith tossed in 17 points to pace the Panthers while "Jumpin" Jim Tridico fired in 10.

Chester managed to split even by capturing the reserve tilt, 31-23.

Falcons Drop First

Dukes Rip Bowling Green

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a familiar story in Eastern college basketball this young season. The section is flooded with contenders for area supremacy, and the contenders bear the same old names — Providence, St. John's, Villanova, Temple, Duquesne, New York University, LaSalle and St. Bonaventure.

Three of these unbeatens were in action Tuesday night and won handily. St. John's Redmen (2-0) ranked ninth nationally, beat Oklahoma 68-49; Duquesne (3-0) dealt Bowling Green of Ohio its first loss 68-44 and St. Bonaventure (4-0) overran Bellarmine 89-58.

St. John's, well-balanced and seasoned, had no trouble with the Sooners. Ivan Kovac, 5-10 defensive specialist, was top scorer for the winners with 19 points.

Bowling Green, winner of four straight with Bradley and Canisius among its victims, played Duquesne even only for the first few minutes. The Dukes broke in front after a 10-10 tie, had a 30-19 advantage at the half and later led by as many as 30 points. Paul Benek was high for Duquesne with 21 points.

In the Midwest, Dayton, DePaul and Illinois breezed along unbeaten while Butler surprised Bradley.

West Virginia steamed to a 35-25 lead at intermission after a slow start, then poured in 62 points during the second half for a 97-61 runaway over Richmond. The Mountaineers have won five straight, all in Southern Conference play. Jon Speaks accounted for six points in overtime, pacing North Carolina State to a 73-68 Atlantic Coast Conference victory against Maryland.

Dawson Collects 9 Points In Team's Loss

Pitcher Jim Brosnan First Redleg To Sign

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Jim Brosnan of Cincinnati has become the first Cincinnati Reds player to sign up for 1962.

General Manager Bill DeWitt said the 32-year-old reliever stopped in Tuesday to sign his contract.

Brosnan had a 10-4 record for the National League champs last season and was credited with 16 saves. His earned run average was 3.04.

First Bonds Are Retired By Ohio Turnpike Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission wound up its operating year Tuesday by adopting a $5.1 million operating budget for 1962 and hailing the retirement of the first bonds since the big toll road was completed.

Executive Director C. W. Hartford estimated a three per cent increase in turnpike revenue next year to a new high of $25.2 million, indicating a possible bond retirement next year of nearly $10 million.

The commission started to chop away at its $32.6 million bonded debt this year by retiring the first $4.6 million worth of bonds. Chairman James W. Shocknessy of Columbus told the commission:

"We can be especially gratified over this bond retirement because it was possible through earnings, from the profit of operation. We are certain that this will proceed over the years. We are now certain that business is improving because the turnpike, in the heartland of the nation, is as good an economic barometer as there is."

The commission renewed the contract of the J. E. Greiner Co. as the commission's consulting engineers for maintenance and operation.

Shocknessy informed the commission that Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler (USA ret.), a commission member who suffered a heart attack some weeks ago, expects to leave the hospital Wednesday and hopes to attend the February meeting after convalescence at home.

The commission canceled its January meeting.

Democrats List $464 In Campaign Expense

The East Liverpool Democratic Central Committee spent $464.40 in the campaign for the Nov. 7 general election, according to a sworn statement from James V. Flasco, chairman, on file today with the County Election Board.

In another local report filed with the board, Verna R. Stone said she spent $13.90 in an unsuccessful race for a seat on the Board of Education.

Dec. 22 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates who sought office in the general election, as well as from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The reports are required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

Inexperience Seen Big Problem At Beaver Local High

McCall Begins 1st Season With Only 1 Veteran; Opener Set Friday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

It can't be said that Tom McCall inherited a fortune of material when he took over the head coaching job at Beaver Local High School.

McCall, who succeeds Jack Frontone, found only one letterman in the ranks and he wasn't a regular last season.

"Inexperience is our big problem. We can only hope for improvement as the season progresses," McCall said as he looked over his "eager Beavers".

An assistant last season, McCall will get his first look at his varsity squad in action Friday night at North Lima. The first home opener for the Beavers isn't until Dec. 21. It will be with Newell.

Actually, two lettermen were left over from last season. One is John Baker, a 6-foot senior, who didn't play as a regular in the 1960-61 season but saw enough action to win a letter. He is battling for a first-team berth, but is currently one of four seeking the spot.

The other letter-winner was Dave Myer. But Dave has moved to Brazil, Ind., where he is playing as a regular on the varsity squad. Myer also was a top-notch pitcher and already has been spotted by several Major League teams.

McCall points out four cagers who seem to have starting jobs wrapped up. The list includes three seniors — Dave Hawkins 6 feet; John Broadbent and Larry Carroll, both 5-foot-10. The fourth member is George Gaydos, a 5-foot-11 junior.

These four cagers were regulars on last year's reserve squad, but didn't see much in the way of varsity action.

A battle is on for the fifth spot among seniors Dick Aluilus, 6-foot-4, and Tom Greenwood, 6-foot-2, Baker and junior Gary Berhar, who hits the 6-foot-2 mark.

"It could be anyone of these four boys. Aluilus didn't play last season because of a broken leg," McCall said.

Other candidates for the varsity team are Pete Wilkinson, 5-foot-10 senior, and Dave Morse and Gary Shaw, a pair of 5-foot-8 juniors.

Several reserves showing a lot of promise are juniors Larry McLaughlin, 5-foot-10; John Aluilus, 5-foot-11; sophomore Jim Woody, 5-foot-11, and freshman Dennis Horger, 5-foot-10.

"We lost our first five starters from last season," McCall commented, naming Bill Reed, Mike Durbin, Jim Pike, Dick Barnhart and Jim Banner.

The Beavers recorded the best record in the school's history last season with a 12-5 mark.

"The attitude of the team is good, and we have good team speed which we hope will help compensate for the lack of experience," McCall added.

The Beavers will play an 18-game schedule, with nine contests at home.

The 1961-62 schedule follows:

Dec. 15	North Lima	away
Dec. 21	Newell	home
Dec. 22	Wellsville	home
Dec. 29	United	away
Jan. 5	Carrollton	home
Jan. 9	Chester	home
Jan. 12	Toronto	home
Jan. 13	Stanton Local	away
Jan. 19	Wellsville	away
Jan. 20	Newell	away
Jan. 23	Youngstown East	home
Jan. 26	Toronto	away
Jan. 30	Chester	away
Feb. 3	Crestview	home
Feb. 9	Salineville	home
Feb. 10	Springfield Local	away
Feb. 16	New Cumberland	home
Feb. 17	West Branch	away

EAGER TO TAKE the floor Friday night for their opening test are these Beaver Local cagers who will travel to North Lima for their season's debut. Wilt Meshes 54 In Warriors Win

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain, 7-foot-1 ace of the Philadelphia Warriors, on a tear that has given him 326 points in his last six games, hit for 22 field goals in 42 shots Tuesday night as the Warriors crushed Detroit 132-109 as part of an NBA doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The hapless New York Knicks dropped their fifth in a row, 126-124 to Syracuse, in the second game.

Chamberlain hit the first six free throws he tried and 10 of 14 during the game. He scored 54 points altogether.

The Warriors, with Tom Gola and Guy Rodgers also scoring consistently, built a 26-point lead over the Pistons just before the half and Detroit never got closer than nine points after that.

Hal Greer hit 33 points and Dave Gambee 23 for Syracuse, which fought back the last-place Knicks after New York had pulled to within one point at 110-109 with 6:45 left.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Working Wives Find Dieting Difficult

The tired working wife who overeats, trying to keep up her strength for two jobs, finds that excess food does not make extra strength . . . it turns into fat. The following complaint gives the picture:

Ida Jean Kain

"I need help. I sit at a desk 8 hours a day as I am a working wife and mother. I get very little exercise. I am 27, medium frame, 5 feet 5 and weigh 155 pounds. I have neither the time nor the energy to prepare diet fare as well as fix substantial, nutritious meals for my husband who loves rich, fattening food as much as I do. He does not gain, but I do.

"Diet menus do not apply to a working wife. Could you outline a week's practical diet (ugly word) for me that would include the basic nutrients?

"I STARVE for a few days, lose 2 or 3 pounds and end up gaining 5. That starved-out feeling around 11:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. is most miserable. I'm sure I'm not the only young working mother in this jam!"

Working wives, pull up a rocker. Get over the notion that you must either diet and go hungry... or be overweight. You are overweight because you overeat. Are you game to cut portions?

Just last week a young mother wrote: "I sat down and made out wholesome menus for the whole family, measured my portions and counted calories. I left off rich desserts and excess starchy foods so that I could fill up on lean meat, green vegetables and foods that are filling but not fattening. Today I look like a different person and feel so much better with 46 less pounds..."

Stop looking for reasons why you cannot diet...that just makes it more difficult. Give some forethought to the idea of eating modest portions. Eating less will not subtract from the pleasure of eating! Plan balanced meals and cut calories in the kitchen whenever possible. Have one serving only. Aim to reduce one pound a week.

If your normal calorie requirement is 2,000 a day, on 1,500 calories a day you can eat well and lose a pound a week. You will not feel hungry.

A better breakfast will prevent that starved - out feeling at midmorning. Cut down to half portions at dinner tonight ... you'll want breakfast. Mid - afternoon is the time for a purposeful pick-up. Have a glass of formula diet if you enjoy it.

—:—

RECOGNIZE THAT faddy dieting is keeping you fat! Plan balanced meals and have serving sizes as specified on the Choose to Lose Diet plan.

With less weight to tote, you'll have more energy. Ten minutes of shape-ups can help you to come alive!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Houston's 5th Grid Coach Is Bill Yoeman

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — William F. (Bill) Yeoman is the University of Houston's fifth head football coach.

The 33-year-old backfield assistant at Michigan State was hired Tuesday by a screening committee that picked him unanimously.

Yeoman's salary and length of contract were not disclosed.

He will replace Hal Lahar, who resigned in September but stayed on to coach the Cougars to a 6-4 season against tough opponents that included Alabama and Auburn.

It was sort of a birthday present for the former Texas A&M and Army player, who will be 34 Dec. 26.

Danzo, Jackson Return To Bolster ELHS Matmen; Opener Set Thursday

Bolstered by two district champions from last season, East Liverpool High will launch its wrestling season Thursday at Memorial Auditorium against South Side. The first match is slated for 4:15 p. m.

Coach Rey Peduzzi is directing the Potter matmen again this season. He had a 4-5 record last year.

Leading the Potters are two lettermen who wrestled their way into the state meet a year ago but failed to place at Columbus after copping district crowns.

They are Dom Danzo, a senior, who will be wrestling in the lead-off spot at 103 pounds and "Jumpin" Joe Jackson, another senior, who will be weighing in at 133 pounds.

These two veterans are joined by another pair of lettermen, Bob Parsons, a junior, who lettered last season and will be wrestling in the 165-pound class, and Gene Wolfe, a senior, in the 175-pound match.

Peduzzi has found a few surprises this season, including sophomore Mike Smith, a 120-pounder. Jerry Triner, a junior, has won the 112-pound spot, while the 138-pound position will be handled by Butch Griffith, another senior.

Allen Douglas will be wrestling at 145 pounds, with Butch Mathias in the 165-pound match and Gary Burton the 127. East Liverpool's heavyweight for the opening match will be Charles Allen, a senior.

Taylor's Effort For Rushing Title To Reach Climax

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Taylor's bid to dethrone Cleveland's Jimmy Brown as the top rusher in the National Football League reaches the climax stage Sunday, last day of the regular season.

The Green Bay Packer fullback will enter Sunday's game against the Rams at Los Angeles trailing Brown, league rushing leader each of the last four years and No. 1 this season, by 71 yards. Brown will be busy in New York against the Eastern Conference pace-setting Giants.

Taylor gained 66 yards on Brown last Sunday as the teams of both players went down to defeat.

Brown has rushed an even 1,300 yards this season and Taylor 1,229. No other player is close.

Cleveland's quarterback Milt Plum continued to set the passing pace, according to NFL figures released today. He has completed 170 of 277 tosses for 2,325 yards, or 61.4 per cent, and 17 touchdowns. Philadelphia's Sonny Jurgensen is second and Green Bay's Bart Starr third.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Reading Tips Offered For Children

I can remember when I was just a word reader, even in my early teens. On the farm, especially during afternoon showers, I would find books, including a few of the classics, and pore over them, but didn't get much meaning. I know now that I was merely pronouncing words. I read them because I thought I should. Yet that feeling that I should read, and the way I kept myself at it, proved useful to me when by and by I did learn to get meaning from the printed page. Letters have been coming recently about children who seem to do pretty well at the mechanics of reading but don't easily get meaning.

Dr. Garry Meyers

FOR EXAMPLE, a mother writes from New Mexico:

"How can a child be taught to grasp the main meaning of a paragraph?

"Our boy, in the fourth grade, about to be nine, does fine work in phonics, spelling and arithmetic. He has read many library books from Bill Cody to football stories. But although he really reads them, he misses the important points. He does poorly in geography because he can't read for meaning. How, please, can this be taught?

"He also has trouble expressing his thoughts and gets so disgusted when I ask him to be more explicit. Can you help us with this problem, as I can only see it growing from bad to worse as he approaches more difficult subject matter."

HERE, IN PART, is how I replied:

It is wonderful that this boy chooses to read a number of books. Help him find those of strong interest to him. Encourage him to tell you about them. Listen patiently and appreciatively as he does. Quietly suggest, now and then, that he pick out the high spots.

Often read to him some of his assignments in geography and pause to put each paragraph into a few words of your own. Later, he may thus name the main ideas after you or he reads some aloud.

Sometimes you should ask a question to which he may find the answer by reading or hearing you read a paragraph or so.

WHILE HE IS reading a library book he has chosen, he may be glad to read aloud to you occasionally one or more sentences which especially appeal to him. After he does so, ask him to say what he had read in his own words.

It would be wonderful if you and he (or his Dad and he) would take turns at reading to each other.

"My bulletin, "Home Helps in Reading", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Rail Official Cites Road In Business Loss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official of the New York Central Railroad says the opening of the Columbus-Medina section of the Cincinnati - to - Conneaut freeway has caused a big drop in NYC passenger business.

Frank B. Scheideler, NYC assistant director of passenger train service, told a utilities commission hearing Tuesday that revenue passenger travel between Cleveland and Cincinnati dropped 59.2 per cent from 1956 when an average of 2,083 per day were using 13 trains, to 1960 when the daily average was 850 on 7 trains.

Scheideler also pointed out that the first seven months of 1961 showed drops of 23.7 per cent to 24.8 per cent in passenger fares from the corresponding period in 1960.

The New York Central is seeking to justify its discontinuance of passenger trains Nos. 321, 322 and 323 last Sept. 10. The railroad opened its case Tuesday—the 10th day of the hearing—after the cities protesting the discontinuance rested their case.

Scheideler denied that the railroads are trying to get out of the passenger business. He said that since World War II, the NYC had spent millions on new equipment, increased advertising, reduced rates and special promotions. But nothing could keep the line from losing its passengers to motor transportation, he said.

Inspection Tour Set On Proposed New Tax Center

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Internal Revenue Service were to tour Northern Kentucky today to see sites proposed by civic leaders and others for a big new tax center.

The tour included conferences with officials and businessmen of Newport and Kenton County.

The IRS two weeks ago announced plans to locate the center, to employ about 1,500 persons, in a suburban area east of Cincinnati near Clermont County.

The IRS officials today were to see a dozen sites in Kenton, Campbell and Boone counties in Kentucky.

Congressman Donald Clancy of Cincinnati said Tuesday night he will oppose any change that would put the center in Northern Kentucky, because it would be "removing it from the hub of the labor market."

In addition to competition from Northern Kentucky for the center, officials and businessmen in Butler, Warren, Clermont and Clinton counties in Ohio have started campaigns seeking to attract the center to their areas.

An IRS spokesman said all competitors would be heard, but it was doubtful if any change would improve the location already chosen.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

The fairy sat on a tack box and watched Santa work.

Synopsis: King Ferdinand's appeal for help has been brought to Santa Claus by a little red - haired fairy who sweeps crumbs in the palace kitchen. Santa resolves to go to Polydora.

CHAPTER NINE

"Oh, No!" cried Tweedleknees in alarm. "You can't possibly go anywhere when there is such a short time before Christmas!"

"But I must," insisted Santa. "Listen to this and you will agree." Fitting the bits of paper together he read the letter from King Ferdinand telling about the visits of the frightening Ipswitch and the haunted palace and begging for help from Santa.

"These are strange goings-on," finished Santa. "The King of Polydora certainly needs help."

MRS. SANTA clucked her tongue. "It's only because you always like a mystery and you like to play detective," she fretted.

"That reminds me," said Santa with sudden inspiration. "I've just remembered the toy I was dreaming of a while ago. It was a Seeing Eye. Properly installed it would allow anyone to sit in his own room and see what is happening in another room — even one five floors below! Think how the children would love to have that for Christmas!"

"It would be wonderful!" exclaimed the little red-haired fairy who had come all the way from Polydora to bring Santa the letter from Ferdinand. "I might even be able to see who has been getting the kitchen crumbs ahead of me!"

"Very well — make the Seeing Eye!" snapped Tweedleknees. "But you don't have to go to Polydora. Let the King solve his own mysteries."

"But think," said Santa. "If he doesn't solve it—this — this Ipswitch—or whatever it is—may take it in its head to come tramping through the North Pole. Then what would happen to Santa Land?"

He took Tweedleknees gently by the shoulder. "Come now, you can handle things while I am away. I'll be back before you know it." He paused and scratched the side of his nose. "Incidentally, I think I will just make up that Seeing Eye before I leave. Might come in handy."

—:—

HE STARTED out the door then turned and stuck his head back in. "My dear," he said softly to Mrs. Santa, "It would be a shame to miss your Pineapple Upside Down Cake. Do you suppose I could have a wee piece to take with me when I go?"

"Oh, you!" Mrs. Santa laughed in spite of herself. "You always get you way!"

Santa grinned and hurried to his workshop. In a moment he was hard at work with blue prints, wires, mirrors, rubber tubes and magnifying glasses. The red-headed fairy sat on a tack box on top of Santa's work bench and watched.

"I guess you can make anything!" he said at last.

"Well, most anything. I suppose," agreed Santa.

"I wish you could make me a crumb sweeper," said the fairy wistfully. "Sometimes when I crawl around all night picking up crumbs in the palace kitchen I feel as if my back would break!"

Santa reached into his back pocket. "Try this," he said handing the fairy a soft rubbery magnet. "It picks up cake crumbs the way an ordinary magnet picks up metal. I made it as a stocking gift for the mothers of small children."

—:—

THE LITTLE fairy climbed to the floor and dragged the magnet through the work shop. In an instant it was covered with crumbs that the Santa Land workers had dropped from their lunch. "Oh, boy! I've got it made!" cried the fairy happily.

Santa snipped some wire and put away his blue prints. "I have it made, too," he said. "Here is my Seeing Eye." And he folded up his new toy and put it in his pocket.

He rushed back to his house, packed a small bag and picked up the whole Pineapple Upside Down Cake Mrs. Santa had boxed for him. Then he set off for Polydora with the red-headed fairy riding inside his big black boot.

21 Detectives Lose License In Transit Strike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A legal snarl has forced Dayton City Manager Herbert W. Starick to revoke licenses issued to 21 Cincinnati private detectives permitting them to guard special buses being operated by supervisory personnel of the strike-bound City Transit Co.

An ordinance requires special police licenses to be issued only to those persons who have lived in Montgomery County for at least a year.

The men were sworn in and given licenses by the city police chief. In plain clothes, two detectives rode behind each of eight buses being operated by the company during a strike of drivers and mechanics.

William W. Owen, executive vice president of the company, said the revocation of licenses would not change the protection. He said Dayton private detectives, which have been working inside company property, would be switched to the outside and the Cincinnati men would take over inside where licenses are not required.

U.S. Planning Orbital Flights Every 60 Days

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United States will follow its first manned orbital space flight planned for next month with similar man-in-orbit flights every 60 days, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration says.

NASA Administrator James E. Webb said at a dinner here Tuesday night frequent manned orbital flights will be needed to accumulate data on the phenomenon of weightlessness and its effects on human beings. He said the result would determine whether to speed up or slow down the next U.S. step in space with a two-man craft.

The U.S. civilian space chief addressed a dinner attended by civic leaders, educators, industrialists and businessmen while in Cleveland to inspect the NASA's Lewis Research Center. Today he will tour the Plum Brook nuclear reactor facility near Sandusky, which is operated by Lewis.

Webb announced further expansion will be made at Lewis with the spending of $1 billion in developing the Rover nuclear engine project for which the research center is the hub.

U.N., U.S. Foreign Policy, Military Rapped By Walker

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker sharply criticized the United Nations, U.S. foreign policy and censorship of the military Tuesday night in his first public address since becoming a civilian.

He addressed a cheering crowd estimated by a Dallas Memorial Auditorium employe at 5,600.

"I welcome the opportunity to stand before you as a symbol of the capability to coordinate the inspired and unchallengeable power of the people with the strength of our military forces. Such unity of purpose and spirit would cause an immediate capitulation of Reds and pinks from Dallas to Washington to Moscow and Peking," Walker said.

The 51-year-old Texan, who resigned from the Army after being reprimanded and relieved of command of the 24th Infantry division, was interrupted frequently with standing applause.

Walker referred to Army charges that he had criticized high government officials and attempted to influence the votes of soldiers in a right-wing indoctrination program.

"I have been charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing. I have been punished for nothing. I have no grievances or regrets," Walker said.

"Today our relations and subordination to the United Nations puts every man signing the (Army) oath under a double standard," he said. "We are sworn to defend America but have to abide by U.N. decisions. Under these conditions, the oath becomes falsified and fictitious. I could no longer serve in uniform and be a collaborator with this release of our sovereignty to the U.N."

Walker said censorship of the military had accomplished three goals of the Communists—to reduce the size of U.S. armed forces limit their use of weapons and undermine their training, morale, and sense of purpose.

Dear friends,

The making of a will is one of the most important acts in a man's life. By his will, he plans the distribution of the fruits of his life's work and the welfare and future of his loved ones.

A will usually lessens family disagreement, reduces probate expenses, inheritance taxes, and confusion. In our profession, we repeatedly see the advantage of a properly drawn will.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

First Bonds Are Retired By Ohio Turnpike Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission wound up its operating year Tuesday by adopting a $5.1 million operating budget for 1962 and hailing the retirement of the first bonds since the big toll road was completed.

Executive Director C. W. Hartford estimated a three per cent increase in turnpike revenue next year to a new high of $25.2 million, indicating a possible bond retirement next year of nearly $10 million.

The commission started to chop away at its $32.6 million bonded debt this year by retiring the first $4.6 million worth of bonds. Chairman James W. Shocknessy of Columbus told the commission:

"We can be especially gratified over this bond retirement because it was possible through earnings, from the profit of operation. We are certain that this will proceed over the years. We are now certain that business is improving because the turnpike, in the heartland of the nation, is as good an economic barometer as there is."

The commission renewed the contract of the J. E. Greiner Co. as the commission's consulting engineers for maintenance and operation.

Shocknessy informed the commission that Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler (USA ret.), a commission member who suffered a heart attack some weeks ago, expects to leave the hospital Wednesday and hopes to attend the February meeting after convalescence at home.

The commission canceled its January meeting.

Democrats List $464 In Campaign Expense

The East Liverpool Democratic Central Committee spent $464.40 in the campaign for the Nov. 7 general election, according to a sworn statement from James V. Flasco, chairman, on file today with the County Election Board.

In another local report filed with the board, Verna R. Stone said she spent $13.90 in an unsuccessful race for a seat on the Board of Education.

Dec. 22 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates who sought office in the general election, as well as from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue. The reports are required under the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending.

Average Human Seen Living To Be 100

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Heart Association predicts the average human will live more than 100 years in the foreseeable future.

The association, noting that heart disease—the No. 1 killer—accounts for 54 per cent of all deaths at present, cited future developments in heart research as a basis for its observation.

Daughter Of Actress To Leave For France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman's daughter, Jennie Ann, 22, who was granted a divorce Tuesday, plans to leave for France next week to spend Christmas with her mother.

The couple was married Feb. 21, 1960 in the county jail at Elko, Nev., the first place they could find witnesses.

Storm Warnings Seen For Key Projects

Democrats, GOP Differ Sharply On JFK's Success With Congress

Not surprisingly, Democrats and Republicans differ sharply in their estimates of President Kennedy's success with Congress in the past session. But political observers see storm warnings for key administration projects in the future. This is the third of five articles on the presidential performance to date.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top administration official complained recently that many who blame the President for not taking a firmer stand with Congress expect too much to happen too soon.

"We've got a marathon race," he said, "not a hundred-yard dash."

Historically, he may be right. Politically, he could be wrong.

For time is precisely what the President doesn't have enough of.

Even in his jubilation over election returns a year ago, John F. Kennedy, ever a political realist, must have had sobering second thoughts.

High among them would have been the realization that, although the Democrats won Congress, he would have rough going in the House if the conservatives ganged up on him.

If Kennedy had any illusions, he lost them quickly. On the tough issues, his margin was so close that probably no other administration ever worked so hard, behind scenes, to get even a part of its program through Congress.

Since these laws are now on the record, it should be simple to grade this portion of Kennedy's report card.

But it isn't.

The Republican view: Dwight D. Eisenhower was a dam protecting the people from a flood of bad Democratic legislation. When he went out, the flood was bound to come no matter what Democrat moved into the White House. Little that Kennedy offered was new, and much of the legislation he pushed had been kicking around for years.

But, these Republicans say, Kennedy never worked up much force of his own, so the GOP was able to build effective legislative levees.

Or, in the ornate phrases of Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, R-Ill., and Rep. Charles Halleck, R-Ind., who issued a joint statement:

"The hallmark of this 1961 legislative venture was failure—in leadership, in accomplishment, and in campaign promises filled. For this the American people can thank, in large measure, a sturdy band of outnumbered Republicans who fought through the session with considerable success for a beachhead of sanity in government."

The Democratic view's that badly needed legislation, stalled by an Eisenhower veto, or the threat of one, has become law. Rarely, if ever, have so many new programs been planned and started.

If you visit a Cabinet officer, he will produce a list of bills passed and say something like this: "Why, we've done more for this department in 10 months than had been accomplished in the past 10 years."

Or, in the soothing prose of Rep. John McCormack, D-Mass: "President Kennedy has had remarkable success with his recommendations."

As usual, the truth lies between the partisan extremes.

Kennedy did get a wide and impressive variety of legislation through Congress in things from housing to minimum wages to help for depressed areas.

Republicans did tone down some New Frontier bills and block others.

But the past interests us mainly for what it may disclose about the future.

And from this the forecast reads: storms, increasing in intensity.

The reciprocal trade program, always a political powder keg, comes up for renewal. Kennedy still hasn't been able to do anything about the two points he pounded most frequently during the campaign: federal aid to education and medical aid for the aged under Social Security.

Education and medical aid fail to the beleaguered lot of Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of welfare. His large, pleasant office has become a major battleground for the New Frontier.

"Every controversy," Ribicoff said, proudly if not quite accurately, "is here."

Ribicoff is disappointed that more progress wasn't made—"I never worked so hard on anything in my life"—but he tries to be philosophical.

"The best reforms are a long time in coming," he said. "I'm a patient guy. You can't rush reforms too fast. It takes a lot education to push a reform along—and sometimes out of defeat comes victory."

Ribicoff may be a patient guy, but he's impatient about some of his critics.

"The doctrinaire can solve all problems on paper," he said. "He can solve all problems at a cocktail party. But he can't put out a program that can get a majority vote."

Getting a majority vote in the House can be quite a problem. Committees can be, dismayingly balky.

By one expert's figuring—he was a Republican, by the way—if the bill finally reaches the floor here is what it faces: Democrats have 261 of the 457 seats, but 50 of them will vote with the GOP on economic issues. In return, only 15 to 20 Republicans are likely to peel off and support the administration. The key is some 27 Democrats who may float either way.

If 57 Democrats desert him, Kennedy is lost. On the close ones, he badly needs Republican help.

It's understandable why Kennedy has played it cautiously.

His assistants may have worked hard, but Kennedy has not fought publicly for his program.

He has not tried to put the heat on Congress.

He has not made anyone angry.

A man close to the President has put Kennedy's views this way: "When things are so bad internationally, in the interest of unity there are sacrifices that have to be made. There are things that can't be done now."

Another version of this same viewpoint came out more bluntly: "There was no point in stirring up the animals."

But it is questionable whether Kennedy can get what he wants from Congress unless he whips up more support for his program. Only he can give it a sense of urgency.

Congress isn't likely to be much more liberal when it returns.

Too, a congressional election is coming up next year, and the party that controls the White House usually loses ground.

"Only the President of the United States can speak for this country," Kennedy said during the campaign. "Only the President of the United States can place before the American people the unfinished business of our society."

Perhaps Kennedy will continue to feel that international affairs are so intense he can't afford to rock the political boat.

But this seems certain: If Kennedy is to achieve the goals he set for the home front, he will have to fight for them—and the animals will have to be stirred up.

Pennsylvania First To Protect Cub Bears

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pennsylvania was the first state to give protection to cub bears. In 1925, a legislative act declared that a bear to be legally taken in the Commonwealth must be "not less than one year old."

As a rule a cub bear born in January or February weighs 50 to 80 pounds by autumn. By the time the second hunting season rolls around, a young bear weighs 120-150 pounds.

Plasterers Local Files Charges Of Unfair Practice

CLEVELAND (AP)—In a complaint filed with the National Labor Relations board Tuesday the AFL-CIO Plasterers Union Local 80 accused two plastering contractors' associations of unfair labor practices in failing to execute agreements after terms and conditions had been agreed upon.

The union's action named the Cleveland Plastering Contractors Association, Inc., and the Cuyahoga Plastering Contractors Association. Also included were the George McKenney Co. and the U.S. Plastering Co.

"All have refused to bargain since Nov. 9 in good faith and have refused to pay the wages, hours of employment and other conditions of employment agreed on," Eugene F. Burns, secretary-treasurer of the union said.

He said they also had refused to execute the agreement and its terms.

Tuesday's complaint followed a similar charge filed against the union last Wednesday by the plastering contractor's associations. The contractors said the union refused to bargain for the overall unit and sought separate collective bargaining rates among the employers.

About 25 of the 400 members of the plasterers union have refused to work since last week because of refusal of the plastering associations to sign the agreement.

Hawaii Grid Players Are Putting On Shoes

HONOLULU (AP) — Rural high school officials on Oahu Island have decided to put shoes on their football players.

Junior varsity players have been playing without shoes for years. They even kick the pigskin without shoes.

Waialua High School, near Honolulu, has fielded a barefoot team since 1957. They won the junior varsity last year.

And at Kahuku, on northern Oahu, a team of players mostly of Samoan ancestry not only play football without shoes but call defensive signals in Samoan instead of English.

Parking Meter Method

Time Is Money For Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes many a boss goes home after a difficult day feeling he hasn't earned much money for his company. It haunts his evening.

Sometimes many a hired hand goes home with the same realization, but it doesn't always ruin his enjoyment of the twilight family meal.

But there is a way that a boss can make a personal profit during his working hours. This is to price his time by a meter as a potential parking space does to a visiting auto.

The boss can do the same thing with persons instead of motor cars. But he must vary the price of moments and hours clocked on the meter by the value he places on the time different visitors are worth in terms of his own measure of their importance.

Here is how this idea works:

As soon as you come into his smiling or frowning presence, you see a busy executive fronted by a large and serious meter.

The meter is a sophisticated one. It accepts paper currency as readily as it does coins. It automatically rejects checks and credit cards, letters from old friends, slaps on the back—anything except cash.

It has attached to it a large and conspicuous sign that reads:

"My time is valuable and here are the rates you must pay to use it. Please put your money in the meter in advance."

Asking for raises in salary, ordinary employes, $1 a second.

Asking for raises in commissions, top salesman only, $1 a minute.

Ex-girl friend who wonders why she didn't recognize how wonderful you were in college when gee! you're so wonderful now—boss turns meter off.

Life insurance salesman explaining why boss needs more protection—50 cents a minute, or one-half of his first year's commission, if he succeeds in selling the boss more.

Discussion with boss's uncle, the chairman of the board, on why the firm needs fresh talent—boss puts own money into meter.

Discussion with three after-luncheon fellow golfing executives—five cents an hour. Boss puts in first nickel. Meter ticks on unpaid for next three hours.

Talk with junior executive—he puts in 15 cents to get meter back in business. Boss then raises rate to $1 a minute as he assures junior executive he has great future in firm.

Someone comes in with an unexpected sales order—boss turns off meter, takes order, silently debits own sales manager for $187 in meter repairs.

A gentleman from Internal Revenue Service is announced—the boss throws his coat over his meter, stretches out a shirt-sleeved hand and says, "My time is your time—I hope I'm joking."

Finally, just before quitting time, the boss' wife enters.

She inserts a key into the parking meter by the desk of the boss, removes the contents, counts it, puts money into her oversize purse and says:

"George, you didn't do as well as yesterday. How many times do I have to tell you that time is money? Come, dear, it is time to go home. Tomorrow will be better."

The banana plant reached Africa with migrants from Melanesia and Indonesia in the first millenium B.C. There it was given the name banana.

Working Wives Find Dieting Difficult

The tired working wife who overeats, trying to keep up her strength for two jobs, finds that excess food does not make extra strength . . . it turns into fat. The following complaint gives the picture:

Ida Jean Kain

"I need help. I sit at a desk 8 hours a day as I am a working wife and mother. I get very little exercise. I am 27, medium frame, 5 feet 5 and weigh 155 pounds. I have neither the time nor the energy to prepare diet fare as well as fix substantial, nutritious meals for my husband who loves rich, fattening food as much as I do. He does not gain, but I do.

"Diet menus do not apply to a working wife. Could you outline a week's practical diet (ugly word) for me that would include the basic nutrients?

"I STARVE for a few days, lose 2 or 3 pounds and end up gaining 5. That starved-out feeling around 11:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. is most miserable. I'm sure I'm not the only young working mother in this jam!"

Working wives, pull up a rocker. Get over the notion that you must either diet and go hungry... or be overweight. You are overweight because you overeat. Are you game to cut portions?

Just last week a young mother wrote: "I sat down and made out wholesome menus for the whole family, measured my portions and counted calories. I left off rich desserts and excess starchy foods so that I could fill up on lean meat, green vegetables and foods that are filling but not fattening. Today I look like a different person and feel so much better with 46 less pounds..."

Stop looking for reasons why you cannot diet...that just makes it more difficult. Give some forethought to the idea of eating modest portions. Eating less will not subtract from the pleasure of eating! Plan balanced meals and cut calories in the kitchen whenever possible. Have one serving only. Aim to reduce one pound a week.

If your normal calorie requirement is 2,000 a day, on 1,500 calories a day you can eat well and lose a pound a week. You will not feel hungry.

A better breakfast will prevent that starved - out feeling at midmorning. Cut down to half portions at dinner tonight ... you'll want breakfast. Mid - afternoon is the time for a purposeful pick-up. Have a glass of formula diet if you enjoy it.

—:—

RECOGNIZE THAT faddy dieting is keeping you fat! Plan balanced meals and have serving sizes as specified on the Choose to Lose Diet plan.

With less weight to tote, you'll have more energy. Ten minutes of shape-ups can help you to come alive!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

THE BOILING CONGO

BANNER OF REVOLT: New flag of Katanga is raised at Elisabethville after province broke away from the central government.

The Congo, a vast land, lies astride the Equator.

RIVAL LEADERS

PREMIER CYRILLE ADOULA: He has the backing of the Western Powers and the U.N.

MOISE TSHOMBE: His control of secessionist Katanga is a major source of trouble.

ANTOINE GIZENGA: A leftist, he leads dissident forces in Eastern province.

As a new member of the family of nations, scarcely two years old, the Republic of the Congo is having more than its share of growing pains.

The huge sprawling state, larger than all the United States east of the Mississippi, has been rent by civil strife and political dissension practically from the first day it won its independence from Belgium on June 30, 1960.

Scarcely a day passes that there isn't fresh trouble.

Whither the Congo? That is the painful question troubling its own 14 million people, world statesmen and governments, and particularly the people and leaders of the other new African nations whose futures can be affected by the turns in Congolese affairs.

Pictured here is the Congo nation, its people, leaders, soldiers, and members of the U.N. force sent to establish law and order.

RIVAL ARMIES—AND THE U.N. ON GUARD

Central government troops in practice march. Army numbers 25,000.

Ever on the watch, Swedish troops of the United Nations force man a control tower. U. N. force of 15,000 in the Congo is made up of contingents from 18 nations.

MOMENTS OF PEACE

With her baby on her back, a woman sells fish in the market in Leopoldville. Congolese babies are always with their mothers.

Two white women shop for fruits and vegetables displayed on sidewalk in Elisabethville, in Katanga province. Some Europeans still remain though many have fled the country

INDUSTRY IN RICH KATANGA

Katanga is nation's wealthiest province with vast deposits of copper, gold, cobalt, diamonds, zinc and uranium. Its mines and industries have been developed by Belgian investment. At top, a copper mine, and below, a smelting and refining works near Elisabethville.

The Congo has hundreds of tribes and clans. Here, king Kalonji, leader of Baluba tribe of Kasai province, addresses subjects in Tschilenge.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Reading Tips Offered For Children

I can remember when I was just a word reader, even in my early teens. On the farm, especially during afternoon showers, I would find books, including a few of the classics, and pore over them, but didn't get much meaning. I know now that I was merely pronouncing words. I read them because I thought I should. Yet that feeling that I should read, and the way I kept myself at it, proved useful to me when by and by I did learn to get meaning from the printed page. Letters have been coming recently about children who seem to do pretty well at the mechanics of reading but don't easily get meaning.

FOR EXAMPLE, a mother writes from New Mexico:

"How can a child be taught to grasp the main meaning of a paragraph?

"Our boy, in the fourth grade, about to be nine, does fine work in phonics, spelling and arithmetic. He has read many library books from Bill Cody to football stories. But although he really reads them, he misses the important points. He does poorly in geography because he can't read for meaning. How, please, can this be taught?

"He also has trouble expressing his thoughts and gets so disgusted when I ask him to be more explicit. Can you help us with this problem, as I can only see it growing from bad to worse as he approaches more difficult subject matter."

HERE, IN PART, is how I replied:

It is wonderful that this boy chooses to read a number of books. Help him find those of strong interest to him. Encourage him to tell you about them. Listen patiently and appreciatively as he does. Quietly suggest, now and then, that he pick out the high spots.

Often read to him some of his assignments in geography and pause to put each paragraph into a few words of your own. Later, he may thus name the main ideas after you or he reads some aloud.

Sometimes you should ask a question to which he may find the answer by reading or hearing you read a paragraph or so.

WHILE HE IS reading a library book he has chosen, he may be glad to read aloud to you occasionally one or more sentences which especially appeal to him. After he does so, ask him to say what he had read in his own words.

It would be wonderful if you and he (or his Dad and he) would take turns at reading to each other.

Rail Official Cites Road In Business Loss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official of the New York Central Railroad says the opening of the Columbus-Medina section of the Cincinnati - to - Conneaut freeway has caused a big drop in NYC passenger business.

Frank R. Scheideler, NYC assistant director of passenger train service, told a utilities commission hearing Tuesday that revenue passenger travel between Cleveland and Cincinnati dropped 59.2 per cent from 1956 when an average of 2,083 per day were using 12 trains, to 1960 when the daily average was 850 on 7 trains.

Scheideler also pointed out that the first seven months of 1961 showed drops of 23.7 per cent to 24.8 per cent in passenger fares from the corresponding period in 1960.

The New York Central is seeking to justify its discontinuance of passenger trains Nos. 321, 322 and 323 last Sept. 10. The railroad opened its case Tuesday—the 10th day of the hearing—after the cities protesting the discontinuance rested their case.

Scheideler denied that the railroads are trying to get out of the passenger business. He said that since World War II, the NYC had spent millions on new equipment, increased advertising, reduced rates and special promotions. But nothing could keep the line from losing its passengers to motor transportation, he said.

Inspection Tour Set On Proposed New Tax Center

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Internal Revenue Service were to tour Northern Kentucky today to see sites proposed by civic leaders and others for a big new tax center.

The tour included conferences with officials and businessmen of Newport and Kenton County.

The IRS two weeks ago announced plans to locate the center, to employ about 1,500 persons, in a suburban area east of Cincinnati near Clermont County.

The IRS officials today were to see a dozen sites in Kenton, Campbell and Boone counties in Kentucky.

Congressman Donald Clancy of Cincinnati said Tuesday night he will oppose any change that would put the center in Northern Kentucky, because it would be "removing it from the hub of the labor market."

In addition to competition from Northern Kentucky for the center, officials and businessmen in Butler, Warren, Clermont and Clinton counties in Ohio have started campaigns seeking to attract the center to their areas.

An IRS spokesman said all competitors would be heard, but it was doubtful if any change would improve the location already chosen.

SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: King Ferdinand's appeal for help has been brought to Santa Claus by a little red - haired fairy who sweeps crumbs in the palace kitchen. Santa resolves to go to Polydora.

CHAPTER NINE

"Oh, No!" cried Tweedleknees in alarm. "You can't possibly go anywhere when there is such a short time before Christmas!"

"But I must," insisted Santa. "Listen to this and you will agree." Fitting the bits of paper together he read the letter from King Ferdinand telling about the visits of the frightening Ipswitch and the haunted palace and begging for help from Santa.

"These are strange goings-on," finished Santa. "The King of Polydora certainly needs help."

MRS. SANTA clucked her tongue. "It's only because you always like a mystery and you like to play detective," she fretted.

"That reminds me," said Santa with sudden inspiration. "I've just remembered the toy I was dreaming of a while ago. It was a Seeing Eye. Properly installed it would allow anyone to sit in his own room and see what is happening in another room — even one five floors below! Think how the children would love to have that for Christmas!"

"It would be wonderful!" exclaimed the little red-haired fairy who had come all the way from Polydora to bring Santa the letter from Ferdinand. "I might even be able to see who has been getting the kitchen crumbs ahead of me!"

"Very well — make the Seeing Eye!" snapped Tweedleknees. "But you don't have to go to Polydora. Let the King solve his own mysteries."

"But think," said Santa. "If he doesn't solve it—this — this Ipswitch—or whatever it is—may take it in its head to come tramping through the North Pole. Then what would happen to Santa Land?"

He took Tweedleknees gently by the shoulder. "Come now, you can handle things while I am away. I'll be back before you know it." He paused and scratched the side of his nose. "Incidentally, I think I will just make up that Seeing Eye before I leave. Might come in handy."

The fairy sat on a tack box and watched Santa work.

HE STARTED out the door then turned and stuck his head back in. "My dear," he said softly to Mrs. Santa, "It would be a shame to miss your Pineapple Upside Down Cake. Do you suppose I could have a wee piece to take with me when I go?"

"Oh, you!" Mrs. Santa laughed in spite of herself. "You always get you way!"

Santa grinned and hurried to his workshop. In a moment he was hard at work with blue prints, wires, mirrors, rubber tubes and magnifying glasses. The red-headed fairy sat on a tack box on top of Santa's work bench and watched.

"I guess you can make anything!" he said at last.

"Well, most anything. I suppose," agreed Santa.

"I wish you could make me a crumb sweeper," said the fairy wistfully. "Sometimes when I crawl around all night picking up crumbs in the palace kitchen I feel as if my back would break!"

Santa reached into his back pocket. "Try this," he said handing the fairy a soft rubbrey magnet. "It picks up cake crumbs the way an ordinary magnet picks up metal. I made it as a stocking gift for the mothers of small children."

—:—

THE LITTLE fairy climbed to the floor and dragged the magnet through the work shop. In an instant it was covered with crumbs that the Santa Land workers had dropped from their lunch. "Oh, boy! I've got it made!" cried the fairy happily.

Santa snipped some wire and put away his blue prints. "I have it made, too," he said. "Here is my Seeing Eye." And he folded up his new toy and put it in his pocket.

He rushed back to his house, packed a small bag and picked up the whole Pineapple Upside Down Cake Mrs. Santa had boxed for him. Then he set off for Polydora with the red-headed fairy riding inside his big black boot.

U.S. Planning Orbital Flights Every 60 Days

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United States will follow its first manned orbital space flight planned for next month with similar man-in-orbit flights every 60 days, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration says.

NASA Administrator James E. Webb said at a dinner here Tuesday night frequent manned orbital flights will be needed to accumulate data on the phenomenon of weightlessness and its effects on human beings. He said the result would determine whether to speed up or slow down the next U.S. step in space with a two-man craft.

The U.S. civilian space chief addressed a dinner attended by civic leaders, educators, industrialists and businessmen while in Cleveland to inspect the NASA's Lewis Research Center. Today he will tour the Plum Brook nuclear reactor facility near Sandusky, which is operated by Lewis.

Webb announced further expansion will be made at Lewis with the spending of $1 billion in developing the Rover nuclear engine project for which the research center is the hub.

U.N., U.S. Foreign Policy, Military Rapped By Walker

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker sharply criticized the United Nations, U.S. foreign policy and censorship of the military Tuesday night in his first public address since becoming a civilian.

He addressed a cheering crowd estimated by a Dallas Memorial Auditorium employe at 5,600.

"I welcome the opportunity to stand before you as a symbol of the capability to coordinate the inspired and unchallengeable power of the people with the strength of our military forces. Such unity of purpose and spirit would cause an immediate capitulation of Reds and pinks from Dallas to Washington to Moscow and Peking," Walker said.

The 51-year-old Texan, who resigned from the Army after being reprimanded and relieved of command of the 24th Infantry division, was interrupted frequently with standing applause.

Walker referred to Army charges that he had criticized high government officials and attempted to influence the votes of soldiers in a right-wing indoctrination program.

"I have been charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing. I have been punished for nothing. I have no grievances or regrets," Walker said.

"Today our relations and subordination to the United Nations puts every man signing the (Army) oath under a double standard," he said. "We are sworn to defend America but have to abide by U.N. decisions. Under these conditions, the oath becomes falsified and fictitious. I could no longer serve in uniform and be a collaborator with this release of our sovereignty to the U.N."

Walker said censorship of the military had accomplished three goals of the Communists—to reduce the size of U.S. armed forces limit their use of weapons and undermine their training, morale, and sense of purpose.

21 Detectives Lose License In Transit Strike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A legal snarl has forced Dayton City Manager Herbert W. Starick to revoke licenses issued to 21 Cincinnati private detectives permitting them to guard special buses being operated by supervisory personnel of the strike-bound City Transit Co.

An ordinance requires special police licenses to be issued only to those persons who have lived in Montgomery County for at least a year.

The men were sworn in and given licenses by the city police chief. In plain clothes, two detectives rode behind each of eight buses being operated by the company during a strike of drivers and mechanics.

William W. Owen, executive vice president of the company, said the revocation of licenses would not change the protection. He said Dayton private detectives, which have been working inside company property, would be switched to the outside and the Cincinnati men would take over inside where licenses are not required.

Dear friends,

The making of a will is one of the most important acts in a man's life. By his will, he plans the distribution of the fruits of his life's work and the welfare and future of his loved ones.

A will usually lessens family disagreement, reduces probate expenses, inheritance taxes, and confusion. In our profession, we repeatedly see the advantage of a properly drawn will.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

'It's Wrong Time And Wrong Place'

Steve Allen has found out it isn't true that there's a time and place for everything—at least not on TV. His show has been canceled after 13 weeks, which isn't exactly a record, but still gains him a nomination for one of the shorter runs on TV.

Hal Humphrey

ABC and Allen have worked out a settlement allowing him to pick up his marbles and go home. Unless something changes between now and Dec. 27, that will be the date of his final show.

-:-

WAS ALLEN surprised?

"Not really," he says. "I know enough about this business to know that if you have a relatively expensive show and it does not pull a big enough rating, that's it.

"Actually our rating has doubled since we started and still is inching upward, but not fast enough. It's just the system," adds Allen, more or less philosophically.

Last week a viewer of the TV scene wrote in to ask me, "How does it happen that a pedestrian comedy series like Joey Bishop's seems to have plenty of viewers, while Steve Allen's show apparently is headed for oblivion?"

This is a good question and as complicated to answer as, "What's going on in Katanga now?"

ONE SIMPLE fact, however, is that Joey Bishop's show follows (on NBC) a thing called "Wagon Train," which happens to be about the hottest item in the rating lists.

Allen, on the ABC network, happens to be opposite "Wagon Train" at the same time in many cities. But, you say, a lot of people must be getting weary of that old Western by now. Why don't they try Allen for a change?

Maybe they're weary and would like a change, but they're captives of their kids who are like narcotics addicts when it comes to Westerns. Go ahead! Tell Junior and his little sister they can't watch "Wagon Train" tonight. Then try to laugh it up while you watch Allen!

"IT'S TRUE," says Allen, "that 7:30 is the kiddies' hour, and in the Midwest we come on at 6:30, which is even more so."

Why, then, you ask, does ABC slot Allen at this hour? Well, the network probably didn't have any other time open, and anyway it has to try some kind of antidote when a competing network is pasting it at the rating polls.

You also might ask why ABC pulls Allen out when it has to put something in his place which probably won't fare any better. That's an easy one. ABC will find something much less expensive (like a game show) to fill the gap, thus easing its financial pain.

NEXT SEASON ABC will have "Wagon Train," because it was purchased by the network recently. That's one way to eliminate the competition, but NBC didn't care, because it owns part of the package with Revue Productions and gets a slice of the residual profits from the sale to ABC.

Wouldn't it be a gas if Allen wound up on NBC next season opposite ABC's "Wagon Train" at a later hour and pushed it right off the rating cliff? Goffier things happen in TV every day.

If there's any object lesson in all of this, it's that time slots are more important to TV than talent. This lofty talk by network presidents about "totality" of programming and "finding enough talent to fill the medium's voracious appetite" is just so much verbiage.

GIVE A BLACKSMITH the right time slot and he could get a "top 10" rating just forging horseshoes and pumping the bellows.

As a matter of fact, this isn't a bad idea. I'll find a big unknown who looks good stripped to the waist. How about "Anvil Chorus" for the theme song?

We're swinging now, and each week this blacksmith will get involved with the people who pass his shop, asking directions to the next town and surreptitiously using his anvil as a drop for stolen formulae.

Rail Figure To Face More Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stuart T. Saunders, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway, faces further questioning today on his road's plan to gain stock control of the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad.

This interrogation and testimony from about a dozen more witnesses are expected to wind up this week's phase of the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on N&W's proposed merger. Another hearing session probably will be held next month on the plan to consolidate with the Nickel Plate, the Wabash and the Sandusky railroads.

Saunders testified Tuesday that N&W will seek soon authorization for its AC&Y stock buying agreement. N&W proposes to buy shares of AC&Y common stock outstanding and of any which may become outstanding. The price per share will be determined on the basis of a total payment $6.5 million.

The AC&Y is regarded by the N&W, he said, as a sound railroad. He said it is located in a developing territory and has a good earnings and debt structure.

The proposed merger would provide a 74,000-mile system stretching from the Atlantic Seaboard to the Great Lakes and upper Midwest through 14 states.

Saunders has said the unification would eventually save $27 million a year.

Liquor Chairman Told By DiSalle To Drop Sideline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Liquor Board Chairman Creed J. Lester of Mount Vernon has been told by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to drop his sideline of special counsel for Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

In a letter to Lester, DiSalle said:

"I personally do not feel that it is in keeping with good practices for an employe of the executive branch of the government to receive compensation from another division of the executive branch . . .

"It would seem that with the attorney general representing the state before the liquor board of which you are chairman, a litigant before the board might properly raise a question as to whether or nor the adjudication of the board would be colored by the fact that a member of the board was also listed as an assistant to the legal officer charged with the prosecution of a matter before your board."

Lester was unavailable for comment on the letter, but earlier he had written the governor that he and McElroy had carefully considered possible law violation before accepting the job and that the attorney general ruled there would be none.

Crackdown Prompted Bombing, Chief Says

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Niles Police Chief John Ross says the police crackdown on rackets prompted the bombing of his home, but it is "not going to force me to ease up."

Ross said Tuesday "we have what looks like a good lead" to the identity of the bomber, but declined to elaborate.

No one was in the house when dynamite was set off outside the chief's home Saturday morning. He was in New York attending a convention. Damage caused by the blast was estimated at more than $2,000.

The chief said he had contacted state officials in Columbus and received a promise that the state bomb squad would be sent to Niles to investigate the dynamiting.

Man Gets 30 Days For Siphoning Fuel

CINCINNATI (AP)— Jack Brown's efforts to drive to church last Sunday landed him in the workhouse for 30 days.

Judge Daniel Handley set the sentence Tuesday after police said Brown started to siphon some gas from a neighbor's car Sunday morning because his own gas tank was empty.

Kent State Scientist Offers Exercises For Adult Fitness

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent State University scientist has prescribed a list of six exercises which he says will help adults achieve physical fitness outlined by President Kennedy if they are performed a few minutes daily.

Dr. Lawrence A. Golding says the program should develop muscle tone and strength and also cardiovascular efficiency, often omitted in home exercises.

Dr. Golding recommends the following exercises, all to be completed in 10 minutes or less:

—Push ups.

—Chins or pull ups.

—Chest raising, through which the individual lies face down on the floor with his feet under some object such as a bed or couch and then raises his head and chest off the floor by arching his back.

—Sit ups, started by lying on the back, hands behind the head, knees bent, soles of the feet flat on the floor. Then sit up while keeping the hands behind the head, touching the right elbow to the outside of the left knee. Repeating by twisting to the opposite side.

—Side leg raising. The individual lies on his side, with the lower arm outstretched above the head and the upper arm with hand placed on hip. With the knees and hips kept straight and the toes pointed, the upper leg is raised and lowered vigorously. Repeat by lying on other side.

—Stool stepping. The individual steps onto and down from a bench about 20 inches high in four counts: up left, up right, down left, down right. This is to be done at the rate of about 30 steps per minute.

Quick Exit Looms For Aviation Bowl

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — There was considerable speculation here today that last Saturday's Aviation Bowl may mark this city's first and last venture into post-season football game.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Dayton Junior Chamber of Commerce has disclosed that backers probably will drop close to $10,000.

Don Miller, chairman of the Aviation Bowl committee, made the report and said a complete financial breakdown on the game will not be available for a week more.

2 Women Get Stuck In Telephone Booth

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City patrolmen Mickey Pyburn and Leon Musgrove were cruising in their patrol car when they received instructions:

"Car 1, go to 20th and Charlotte. There's a woman stuck in a telephone booth."

That was just half the story. There were two women.

"They were so embarrassed when we finally got the door open that they hardly stopped long enough to say anything to us," the officers said.

Trumbull, Delphos To Get CFA Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration announced these actions today:

Trumbull County, Ohio—An interest-free loan of $20,000 for planning a water distribution system estimated to cost $403,000.

Delphos, Ohio—An interest-free loan of $11,000 for planning additions and improvements to a sanitary and storm water relief sewer system estimated to cost $885,000.

Communications Research Project Scheduled At OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A field of "saucers," four 30-foot reflectors for research into intercontinental and interplanetary communications, is slated to start operating at Ohio State University early next year.

The antenna array, to be used by engineers at the university's antenna laboratory, is currently being built under a contract awarded to the Rome Air Development Center, Air Research and Development Command at Griffiss Air Force Base, N.Y.

A fifth supplement to the original 1960 was reported to university trustees today. The $189,000 brings the total awarded through the school's Research Foundation to $435,000.

The antenna first will be used in communications experiments involving an artificial satellite in orbit around the earth. The satellite, Echo II, is expected to be placed in orbit next spring. Transmitters in Trinidad, British West Indies and Rome, N.Y., will beam signals at the satellite and the reflections will be collected by Ohio State's array.

The purpose of the experiment, according to Jon W. Eberle, project engineer, will be to determine the characteristics of the signals with a view toward solving the communications tie-up now existing throughout the world.

Youth Has Operation For Stabbing Wound

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph Chabail, 17, was in St. Luke's hospital today after surgery for a stab wound in the heart.

Chabail and two other Benedictine high school students were accosted at East 100th Street and Buckeye Road Tuesday by four toughs who blocked the sidewalk. Accepting a challenge from one of the toughs to step around the corner "to do something about it," Chabail was stabbed. The assailant and his companions fled.

Youth, 17, Crushed In Auto Accident

CINCINNATI (AP) — An accidental touch of the accelerator caused Thomas Stock, 17, to be crushed to death against a garage Tuesday, county police reported.

Stock was backing a car from a garage, officers said. He leaned out of the car to push a garage door shut when his foot hit the gas pedal, causing the car to jump.

Storm Warnings Seen For Key Projects

Democrats, GOP Differ Sharply On JFK's Success With Congress

Not surprisingly, Democrats and Republicans differ sharply in their estimates of President Kennedy's success with Congress in the past session. But political observers see storm warnings for key administration projects in the future. This is the third of five articles on the presidential performance to date.

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top administration official complained recently that many who blame the President for not taking a firmer stand with Congress expect too much to happen too soon.

"We've got a marathon race," he said, "not a hundred-yard dash."

Historically, he may be right. Politically, he could be wrong.

For time is precisely what the President doesn't have enough of.

Even in his jubilation over election returns a year ago, John F. Kennedy, ever a political realist, must have had sobering second thoughts.

High among them would have been the realization that, although the Democrats won Congress, he would have rough going in the House if the conservatives ganged up on him.

If Kennedy had any illusions, he lost them quickly. On the tough issues, his margin was so close that probably no other administration ever worked so hard, behind scenes, to get even a part of its program through Congress.

Since these laws are now on the record, it should be simple to grade this portion of Kennedy's report card.

But it isn't.

The Republican view: Dwight D. Eisenhower was a dam protecting the people from a flood of bad Democratic legislation. When he went out, the flood was bound to come no matter what Democrat moved into the White House. Little that Kennedy offered was new, and much of the legislation he pushed had been kicking around for years.

But, these Republicans say, Kennedy never worked up much force of his own, so the GOP was able to build effective legislative levees.

Or, in the ornate phrases of Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, R-Ill., and Rep. Charles Halleck, R-Ind., who issued a joint statement:

"The hallmark of this 1961 legislative venture was failure—in leadership, in accomplishment, and in campaign promises filled. For this the American people can thank, in large measure, a sturdy band of outnumbered Republicans who fought through the session with considerable success for a beachhead of sanity in government."

The Democratic view's that badly needed legislation, stalled by an Eisenhower veto, or the threat of one, has become law. Rarely, if ever, have so many new programs been planned and started.

If you visit a Cabinet officer, he will produce a list of bills passed and say something like this: "Why, we've done more for this department in 10 months than had been accomplished in the past 10 years."

Or, in the soothing prose of Rep. John McCormack, D-Mass: "President Kennedy has had remarkable success with his recommendations."

As usual, the truth lies between the partisan extremes.

Kennedy did get a wide and impressive variety of legislation through Congress in things from housing to minimum wages to help for depressed areas.

Republicans did tone down some New Frontier bills and block others.

But the past interests us mainly for what it may disclose about the future.

And from this the forecast reads: storms, increasing in intensity.

The reciprocal trade program, always a political powder keg, comes up for renewal. Kennedy still hasn't been able to do anything about the two points he pounded most frequently during the campaign: federal aid to education and medical aid for the aged under Social Security.

Education and medical aid fail to the beleaguered lot of Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of welfare. His large, pleasant office has become a major battleground for the New Frontier.

"Every controversy," Ribicoff said, proudly if not quite accurately, "is here."

Ribicoff is disappointed that more progress wasn't made—"I never worked so hard on anything in my life"—but he tries to be philosophical.

"The best reforms are a long time in coming," he said. "I'm a patient guy. You can't rush reforms too fast. It takes a lot education to push a reform along—and sometimes out of defeat comes victory."

Ribicoff may be a patient guy, but he's impatient about some of his critics.

"The doctrinaire can solve all problems on paper," he said. "He can solve all problems at a cocktail party. But he can't put out a program that can get a majority vote."

Getting a majority vote in the House can be quite a problem, Committees can be, dismayingly balky.

By one expert's figuring—he was a Republican, by the way—if the bill finally reaches the floor here is what it faces: Democrats have 261 of the 457 seats, but 50 of them will vote with the GOP on economic issues. In return, only 15 to 20 Republicans are likely to peel off and support the administration. The key is some 27 Democrats who may float either way.

If 57 Democrats desert him, Kennedy is lost. On the close ones, he badly needs Republican help.

It's understandable why Kennedy has played it cautiously.

His assistants may have worked hard, but Kennedy has not fought publicly for his program.

He has not tried to put the heat on Congress.

He has not made anyone angry.

A man close to the President has put Kennedy's views this way: "When things are so bad internationally, in the interest of unity there are sacrifices that have to be made. There are things that can't be done now."

Another version of this same viewpoint came out more bluntly: "There was no point in stirring up the animals."

But it is questionable whether Kennedy can get what he wants from Congress unless he whips up more support for his program. Only he can give it a sense of urgency.

Congress isn't likely to be much more liberal when it returns.

Too, a congressional election is coming up next year, and the party that controls the White House usually loses ground.

"Only the President of the United States can speak for this country," Kennedy said during the campaign. "Only the President of the United States can place before the American people the unfinished business of our society."

Perhaps Kennedy will continue to feel that international affairs are so intense he can't afford to rock the political boat.

But this seems certain: If Kennedy is to achieve the goals he set for the home front, he will have to fight for them—and the animals will have to be stirred up.

Pennsylvania First To Protect Cub Bears

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pennsylvania was the first state to give protection to cub bears. In 1925, a legislative act declared that a bear to be legally taken in the Commonwealth must be "not less than one year old."

As a rule a cub bear born in January or February weighs 50 to 80 pounds by autumn. By the time the second hunting season rolls around, a young bear weighs 120-150 pounds.

Plasterers Local Files Charges Of Unfair Practice

CLEVELAND (AP)—In a complaint filed with the National Labor Relations board Tuesday the AFL-CIO Plasterers Union Local 80 accused two plastering contractors' associations of unfair labor practices in failing to execute agreements after terms and conditions had been agreed upon.

The union's action named the Cleveland Plastering Contractors Association, Inc., and the Cuyahoga Plastering Contractors Association. Also included were the George McKenney Co. and the U.S. Plastering Co.

"All have refused to bargain since Nov. 9 in good faith and have refused to pay the wages, hours of employment and other conditions of employment agreed on," Eugene F. Burns, secretary-treasurer of the union said.

He said they also had refused to execute the agreement and its terms.

Tuesday's complaint followed a similar charge filed against the union last Wednesday by the plastering contractor's associations. The contractors said the union refused to bargain for the overall unit and sought separate collective bargaining rates among the employers.

About 25 of the 400 members of the plasterers union have refused to work since last week because of refusal of the plastering associations to sign the agreement.

Hawaii Grid Players Are Putting On Shoes

HONOLULU (AP) — Rural high school officials on Oahu Island have decided to put shoes on their football players.

Junior varsity players have been playing without shoes for years. They even kick the pigskin without shoes.

Waialua High School, near Honolulu, has fielded a barefoot team since 1957. They won the junior varsity last year.

And at Kahuku, on northern Oahu, a team of players mostly of Samoan ancestry not only play football without shoes but call defensive signals in Samoan instead of English.

Parking Meter Method

Time Is Money For Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes many a boss goes home after a difficult day feeling he hasn't earned much money for his company. It haunts his evening.

Sometimes many a hired hand goes home with the same realization, but it doesn't always ruin his enjoyment of the twilight family meal.

But there is a way that a boss can make a personal profit during his working hours. This is to price his time by a meter as a potential parking space does to a visiting auto.

The boss can do the same thing with persons instead of motor cars. But he must vary the price of moments and hours clocked on the meter by the value he places on the time different visitors are worth in terms of his own measure of their importance.

Here is how this idea works:

As soon as you come into his smiling or frowning presence, you see a busy executive fronted by a large and serious meter.

The meter is a sophisticated one. It accepts paper currency as readily as it does coins. It automatically rejects checks and credit cards, letters from old friends, slaps on the back—anything except cash.

It has attached to it a large and conspicuous sign that reads:

"My time is valuable and here are the rates you must pay to use it. Please put your money in the meter in advance."

Asking for raises in salary, ordinary employes, $1 a second.

Asking for raises in commissions, top salesman only, $1 a minute.

Ex-girl friend who wonders why she didn't recognize how wonderful you were in college when gee! you're so wonderful now—boss turns meter off.

Life insurance salesman explaining why boss needs more protection—50 cents a minute, or one-half of his first year's commission, if he succeeds in selling the boss more.

Discussion with boss's uncle, the chairman of the board, on why the firm needs fresh talent—boss puts own money into meter.

Discussion with three after-luncheon fellow golfing executives—five cents an hour. Boss puts in first nickel. Meter ticks on unpaid for next three hours.

Talk with junior executive—he puts in 15 cents to get meter back in business. Boss then raises rate to $1 a minute as he assures junior executive he has great future in firm.

Someone comes in with an unexpected sales order—boss turns off meter, takes order, silently debits own sales manager for $187 in meter repairs.

A gentleman from Internal Revenue Service is announced—the boss throws his coat over his meter, stretches out a shirt-sleeved hand and says, "My time is your time—I hope I'm joking."

Finally, just before quitting time, the boss' wife enters.

She inserts a key into the parking meter by the desk of the boss, removes the contents, counts it, puts money into her oversize purse and says:

"George, you didn't do as well as yesterday. How many times do I have to tell you that time is money? Come, dear, it is time to go home. Tomorrow will be better."

The banana plant reached Africa with migrants from Melanesia and Indonesia in the first millenium B.C. There it was given the name banana.

THE BOILING CONGO

BANNER OF REVOLT: New flag of Katanga is raised at Elisabethville after province broke away from the central government.

The Congo, a vast land, lies astride the Equator.

RIVAL LEADERS

PREMIER CYRILLE ADOULA: He has the backing of the Western Powers and the U.N.

MOISE TSHOMBE: His control of secessionist Katanga is a major source of trouble.

ANTOINE GIZENGA: A leftist, he leads dissident forces in Eastern province.

As a new member of the family of nations, scarcely two years old, the Republic of the Congo is having more than its share of growing pains.

The huge sprawling state, larger than all the United States east of the Mississippi, has been rent by civil strife and political dissension practically from the first day it won its independence from Belgium on June 30, 1960.

Scarcely a day passes that there isn't fresh trouble.

Whither the Congo? That is the painful question troubling its own 14 million people, world statesmen and governments, and particularly the people and leaders of the other new African nations whose futures can be affected by the turns in Congolese affairs.

Pictured here is the Congo nation, its people, leaders, soldiers, and members of the U.N. force sent to establish law and order.

RIVAL ARMIES – AND THE U.N. ON GUARD

Central government troops in practice march. Army numbers 25,000.

Ever on the watch, Swedish troops of the United Nations force man a control tower. U. N. force of 15,000 in the Congo is made up of contingents from 18 nations.

MOMENTS OF PEACE

With her baby on her back, a woman sells fish in the market in Leopoldville. Congolese babies are always with their mothers.

Two white women shop for fruits and vegetables displayed on sidewalk in Elisabethville, in Katanga province. Some Europeans still remain though many have fled the country

INDUSTRY IN RICH KATANGA

Katanga is nation's wealthiest province with vast deposits of copper, gold, cobalt, diamonds, zinc and uranium. Its mines and industries have been developed by Belgian investment. At top, a copper mine, and below, a smelting and refining works near Elisabethville.

The Congo has hundreds of tribes and clans. Here, king Kalonji, leader of Baluba tribe of Kasai province, addresses subjects in Tschilenge.

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

'It's Wrong Time And Wrong Place'

Steve Allen has found out it isn't true that there's a time and place for everything—at least not on TV. His show has been canceled after 13 weeks, which isn't exactly a record, but still gains him a nomination for one of the shorter runs on TV.

Hal Humphrey

ABC and Allen have worked out a settlement allowing him to pick up his marbles and go home. Unless something changes between now and Dec. 27, that will be the date of his final show.

-:-

WAS ALLEN surprised?

"Not really," he says. "I know enough about this business to know that if you have a relatively expensive show and it does not pull a big enough rating, that's it.

"Actually our rating has doubled since we started and still is inching upward, but not fast enough. It's just the system," adds Allen, more or less philosophically.

Last week a viewer of the TV scene wrote in to ask me, "How does it happen that a pedestrian comedy series like Joey Bishop's seems to have plenty of viewers, while Steve Allen's show apparently is headed for oblivion?"

This is a good question and as complicated to answer as, "What's going on in Katanga now?"

ONE SIMPLE fact, however, is that Joey Bishop's show follows (on NBC) a thing called "Wagon Train," which happens to be about the hottest item in the rating lists.

Allen, on the ABC network, happens to be opposite "Wagon Train" at the same time in many cities. But, you say, a lot of people must be getting weary of that old Western by now. Why don't they try Allen for a change?

Maybe they're weary and would like a change, but they're captives of their kids who are like narcotics addicts when it comes to Westerns. Go ahead! Tell Junior and his little sister they can't watch "Wagon Train" tonight. Then try to laugh it up while you watch Allen!

"IT'S TRUE," says Allen, "that 7:30 is the kiddies' hour, and in the Midwest we come on at 6:30, which is even more so."

Why, then, you ask, does ABC slot Allen at this hour? Well, the network probably didn't have any other time open, and anyway it has to try some kind of antidote when a competing network is pasting it at the rating polls.

You also might ask why ABC pulls Allen out when it has to put something in his place which probably won't fare any better. That's an easy one. ABC will find something much less expensive (like a game show) to fill the gap, thus easing its financial pain.

NEXT SEASON ABC will have "Wagon Train," because it was purchased by the network recently. That's one way to eliminate the competition, but NBC didn't care, because it owns part of the package with Revue Productions and gets a slice of the residual profits from the sale to ABC.

Wouldn't it be a gas if Allen wound up on NBC next season opposite ABC's "Wagon Train" at a later hour and pushed it right off the rating cliff? Goffier things happen in TV every day.

If there's any object lesson in all of this, it's that time slots are more important to TV than talent. This lofty talk by network presidents about "totality" of programming and "finding enough talent to fill the medium's voracious appetite" is just so much verbiage.

-:-

GIVE A BLACKSMITH the right time slot and he could get a "top 10" rating just forging horseshoes and pumping the bellows.

As a matter of fact, this isn't a bad idea. I'll find a big unknown who looks good stripped to the waist. How about "Anvil Chorus" for the theme song?

We're swinging now, and each week this blacksmith will get involved with the people who pass his shop, asking directions to the next town and surreptitiously using his anvil as a drop for stolen formulae.

Rail Figure To Face More Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stuart T. Saunders, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway, faces further questioning today on his road's plan to gain stock control of the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad.

This interrogation and testimony from about a dozen more witnesses are expected to wind up this week's phase of the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on N&W's proposed merger. Another hearing session probably will be held next month on the plan to consolidate with the Nickel Plate, the Wabash and the Sandusky railroads.

Saunders testified Tuesday that N&W will seek soon authorization for its AC&Y stock buying agreement. N&W proposes to buy shares of AC&Y common stock outstanding and of any which may become outstanding. The price per share will be determined on the basis of a total payment $6.5 million.

The AC&Y is regarded by the N&W, he said, as a sound railroad. He said it is located in a developing territory and has a good earnings and debt structure.

The proposed merger would provide a 74,000-mile system stretching from the Atlantic Seaboard to the Great Lakes and upper Midwest through 14 states.

Saunders has said the unification would eventually save $27 million a year.

Liquor Chairman Told By DiSalle To Drop Sideline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Liquor Board Chairman Creed J Lester of Mount Vernon has been told by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to drop his sideline of special counsel for Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

In a letter to Lester, DiSalle said:

"I personally do not feel that it is in keeping with good practices for an employe of the executive branch of the government to receive compensation from another division of the executive branch . . .

"It would seem that with the attorney general representing the state before the liquor board of which you are chairman, a litigant before the board might properly raise a question as to whether or nor the adjudication of the board would be colored by the fact that a member of the board was also listed as an assistant to the legal officer charged with the prosecution of a matter before your board."

Lester was unavailable for comment on the letter, but earlier he had written the governor that he and McElroy had carefully considered possible law violation before accepting the job and that the attorney general ruled there would be none.

Crackdown Prompted Bombing, Chief Says

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Niles Police Chief John Ross says the police crackdown on rackets prompted the bombing of his home, but it is "not going to force me to ease up."

Ross said Tuesday "we have what looks like a good lead" to the identity of the bomber, but declined to elaborate.

No one was in the house when dynamite was set off outside the chief's home Saturday morning. He was in New York attending a convention. Damage caused by the blast was estimated at more than $2,000.

The chief said he had contacted state officials in Columbus and received a promise that the state bomb squad would be sent to Niles to investigate the dynamiting.

Man Gets 30 Days For Siphoning Fuel

CINCINNATI (AP)— Jack Brown's efforts to drive to church last Sunday landed him in the workhouse for 30 days.

Judge Daniel Handley set the sentence Tuesday after police said Brown started to siphon some gas from a neighbor's car Sunday morning because his own gas tank was empty.

Kent State Scientist Offers Exercises For Adult Fitness

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent State University scientist has prescribed a list of six exercises which he says will help adults achieve physical fitness outlined by President Kennedy if they are performed a few minutes daily.

Dr. Lawrence A. Golding says the program should develop muscle tone and strength and also cardiovascular efficiency, often omitted in home exercises.

Dr. Golding recommends the following exercises, all to be completed in 10 minutes or less:

—Push ups.

—Chins or pull ups.

—Chest raising, through which the individual lies face down on the floor with his feet under some object such as a bed or couch and then raises his head and chest off the floor by arching his back.

—Sit ups, started by lying on the back, hands behind the head knees bent, soles of the feet flat on the floor. Then sit up while keeping the hands behind the head, touching the right elbow to the outside of the left knee. Repeating by twisting to the opposite side.

—Side leg raising. The individual lies on his side, with the lower arm outstretched above the head and the upper arm with hand placed on hip. With the knees and hips kept straight and the toes pointed, the upper leg is raised and lowered vigorously. Repeat by lying on other side.

—Stool stepping. The individual steps onto and down from a bench about 20 inches high in four counts: up left, up right, down left, down right. This is to be done at the rate of about 30 steps per minute.

Quick Exit Looms For Aviation Bowl

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — There was considerable speculation here today that last Saturday's Aviation Bowl may mark this city's first and last venture into post-season football game.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Dayton Junior Chamber of Commerce has disclosed that backers probably will drop close to $10,000.

Don Miller, chairman of the Aviation Bowl committee, made the report and said a complete financial breakdown on the game will not be available for a week more.

2 Women Get Stuck In Telephone Booth

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City patrolmen Mickey Pyburn and Leon Musgrove were cruising in their patrol car when they received instructions:

"Car 1, go to 20th and Charlotte. There's a woman stuck in a telephone booth."

That was just half the story. There were two women.

"They were so embarrassed when we finally got the door open that they hardly stopped long enough to say anything to us," the officers said.

Trumbull, Delphos To Get CFA Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration announced these actions today:

Trumbull County, Ohio—An interest-free loan of $20,000 for planning a water distribution system estimated to cost $403,000.

Delphos, Ohio—An interest-free loan of $11,000 for planning additions and improvements to a sanitary and storm water relief sewer system estimated to cost $885,000.

Communications Research Project Scheduled At OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A field of "saucers," four 30-foot reflectors for research into intercontinental and interplanetary communications, is slated to start operating at Ohio State University early next year.

The antenna array, to be used by engineers at the university's antenna laboratory, is currently being built under a contract awarded to the Rome Air Development Center, Air Research and Development Command at Griffiss Air Force Base, N.Y.

A fifth supplement to the original 1960 was reported to university trustees today. The $189,000 brings the total awarded through the school's Research Foundation to $435,000.

The antenna first will be used in communications experiments involving an artificial satellite in orbit around the earth. The satellite, Echo II, is expected to be placed in orbit next spring. Transmitters in Trinidad, British West Indies and Rome, N.Y., will beam signals at the satellite and the reflections will be collected by Ohio State's array.

The purpose of the experiment, according to Jon W. Eberle, project engineer, will be to determine the characteristics of the signals with a view toward solving the communications tie-up now existing throughout the world.

Youth Has Operation For Stabbing Wound

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joseph Chabail, 17, was in St. Luke's hospital today after surgery for a stab wound in the heart.

Chabail and two other Benedictine high school students were accosted at East 100th Street and Buckeye Road Tuesday by four toughs who blocked the sidewalk. Accepting a challenge from one of the toughs to step around the corner "to do something about it," Chabail was stabbed. The assailant and his companions fled.

Youth, 17, Crushed In Auto Accident

CINCINNATI (AP) — An accidental touch of the accelerator caused Thomas Stock, 17, to be crushed to death against a garage Tuesday, county police reported.

Stock was backing a car from a garage, officers said. He leaned out of the car to push a garage door shut when his foot hit the gas pedal, causing the car to jump.

"It's to send me to Florida this winter."

OFF THE RECORD

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"I'm not worried about spoiling our grandchildren, dear! . . . But it's a cinch we're spoiling their parents with all this baby sitting!"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean the debris from a drainpipe that goes across and under my driveway with both ends open?

A. Cut out a semi-circular block of wood having a diameter slightly less than the inside of your drain pipe, and secure this to the end of a long pole. Then all you have do to is start at one end of your drainpipe, push the leaves and gravel completely through, gathering up the debris at the other end.

Q. How can I renovate vegetable glue that has become dry and hardened?

A. You can usually soften it to usable consistency with some hot vinegar. Add the vinegar drop by drop, and keep stirring until the glue is soft.

Q. How can I remove varnish stains from fabrics?

A. Try saturating these with some turpentine, rubbing between the hands; then sponge with alcohol.

Q. Have you any suggestions for making draperies or curtains hang in any position or fold I wish?

A. Solid solder, in the form of wire, can be cut to the proper length and inserted into the bottom hems of your draperies or curtains. Since this soft solder wire will bend and can be easily molded, it will hold your drapery or curtain in whatever fold or position you think looks best.

Q. Is there anything I can do about the cracks in the old wallpaper when I am applying new paper over the old?

A. Use some masking tape over these cracks. They won't then show through the new design, nor will the new paper crack again at those places.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I started to date when I was 13. I know now I was too young but nobody could tell me anything. I went with fellows who were too old—and too fast. One man was even married and I knew it but I dated him anyway.

Three weeks ago I met a great guy at a church affair. Harold is everything I want in a fellow. He's a clean-minded college boy with wonderful ideas and he treats me like a lady. We've had five dates. When I'm with him I feel like the luckiest girl alive.

Last night Harold was shook. He had heard some terrible stories about me. I've been a perfect lady in his presence and he thinks the stories are lies. I wish they were — but they aren't.

Shall I deny everything and hope he believes me?—PAULA.

-:-

Dear Paula: No girl should attempt to defend her reputation. A good reputation needs no defending. A poor reputation is indefensible.

People change. You have the right to be judged on the basis of what you are today.

Engagement Breaker

Dear Ann: My son who is 21 asked me to write. He went with a girl for three years. She's two years older than he is and she has a very good-paying job. He's still in college.

Last month she talked him into giving her an engagement ring. The wedding date has been set for Christmas week. She already has bought her dishes and linens. Friends have given parties and showers.

My son says he has thought it over and has decided he's not ready for marriage. He claims the girl pushed him into the engagement and now he wants out.

The question is, would it be all right if he wrote her a letter breaking it off? He says he knows she'll cry if he goes in person and he hates tears.—HIS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Tell your son to put on his raincoat and go over and break the news like a man. A fellow who would take three years of a girl's time (even though she IS older) owes her the courtesy of a personal farewell visit.

Touchy Subject

Dear Ann: This is a touchy subject and I need help from an outsider.

Several years ago my father served as attorney general for the state. He was appointed to finish the term of the elected officer who died. My father's tenure of service was very brief.

When my husband introduces me to friends he says, "Meet my wife, the daughter of the former attorney general." This is a misleading introduction contrived to make me sound important.

I've asked him not to do it because it embarrasses me but he ignores my request and does it anyway.

This has been going on for almost 10 years. How can I put an end to it?—ANTI-PHONY.

Dear Anti: Warn your husband that the next time he introduces you in this way you will recite a little political history and set the matter straight. Then do it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Heights Community Decorated For Yule

Pleasant Heights has taken on a gay Christmas atmosphere with a decorated tree and lighted streamers hung above Lisbon St. and another street near the fire station.

The pine in the front of the elementary school has been decorated with 100 red and green lights. Residents of the "hilltop" community, including Fisher Park, contributed funds to purchase the light bulbs and 92 electric sockets for decorating the tree. The community also foots the electric bill.

The streamers across the streets are trimmed with bells and stars. They were hung Sunday and lighted for the first time Monday evening.

Willis Standley served on the committee that collected funds for Christmas decorations in a door-to-door campaign.

Fire Through Water

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP) — Water helped start a fire in a car here. Firemen said the seat cushion in a car owned by John Allan was set afire by rays of the sun shining through water in a glass bottle in the seat.

Factory Workers Average Pay Hits All-Time Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Average earnings of factory workers set an all-time record last month, the Labor Department announced Tuesday. The work-week averaged 40 hours and 36 minutes—highest in two years.

The department's analysis of the preliminary job figures announced last week showed that payroll employment at 55.1 million in November, equaled the record set a month earlier.

"With all the returns now in for November, the story is a pretty good one," said the department's manpower director, Seymour Wolfbein.

The unemployment rate is 6.1 per cent of the civilian labor force, Wolfbein told a news conference.

If the unemployment rate remains at 6.1 per cent, there will be 4.1 million unemployed this month, up slightly from November's 3.99 million. January will see 4.9 million jobless, and February five million because of purely seasonal factors.

Average hourly earnings in November climbed to a record $2.36. Together with the lengthening of the factory work - week, and stepped-up overtime paid, the average weekly earnings of factory workers rose by $1.28 to a record of $95.82.

Record 150 Attend South Side PTA Event

A record turnout of about 150 attended a meeting of the South Side Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening in the elementary school near Hookstown.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. Steward Kennedy. William Faulk, president, presided and the Rev. H. H. Bish was in charge of devotions.

The attendance banners were won by Mrs. Virginia Keefer's room in the elementary and Mrs. Marie Elliott's in the high school. Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Ashcroft and committee.

Next meeting is Jan. 15.

Band Mothers Hold Chester Yule Dinner

Fifteen attended the annual Christmas dinner of the Chester Purple and Gold Band Mothers Monday night at Tice's Restaurant in East Liverpool.

A gift exchange was held. Mr. and Mrs. John Clovis were guests.

Mrs. Fred Greenlee was in charge of arangements. Next meeting is Jan. 22.

"It's to send me to Florida this winter."

OFF THE RECORD

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"I'm not worried about spoiling our grandchildren, dear! . . . But it's a cinch we're spoiling their parents with all this baby sitting!"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean the debris from a drainpipe that goes across and under my driveway with both ends open?

A. Cut out a semi-circular block of wood having a diameter slightly less than the inside of your drain pipe, and secure this to the end of a long pole. Then all you have do to is start at one end of your drainpipe, push the leaves and gravel completely through, gathering up the debris at the other end.

Q. How can I renovate vegetable glue that has become dry and hardened?

A. You can usually soften it to usable consistency with some hot vinegar. Add the vinegar drop by drop, and keep stirring until the glue is soft.

Q. How can I remove varnish stains from fabrics?

A. Try saturating these with some turpentine, rubbing between the hands; then sponge with alcohol.

Q. Have you any suggestions for making draperies or curtains hang in any position or fold I wish?

A. Solid solder, in the form of wire, can be cut to the proper length and inserted into the bottom hems of your draperies or curtains. Since this soft solder wire will bend and can be easily molded, it will hold your drapery or curtain in whatever fold or position you think looks best.

Q. Is there anything I can do about the cracks in the old wallpaper when I am applying new paper over the old?

A. Use some masking tape over these cracks. They won't then show through the new design, nor will the new paper crack again at those places.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I started to date when I was 13. I know now I was too young but nobody could tell me anything. I went with fellows who were too old—and too fast. One man was even married and I knew it but I dated him anyway.

Three weeks ago I met a great guy at a church affair. Harold is everything I want in a fellow. He's a clean-minded college boy with wonderful ideas and he treats me like a lady. We've had five dates. When I'm with him I feel like the luckiest girl alive.

Last night Harold was shook. He had heard some terrible stories about me. I've been a perfect lady in his presence and he thinks the stories are lies. I wish they were — but they aren't. Shall I deny everything and hope he believes me?—PAULA.

Dear Paula: No girl should attempt to defend her reputation. A good reputation needs no defending. A poor reputation is indefensible.

People change. You have the right to be judged on the basis of what you are today.

Engagement Breaker

Dear Ann: My son who is 21 asked me to write. He went with a girl for three years. She's two years older than he is and she has a very good-paying job. He's still in college.

Last month she talked him into giving her an engagement ring. The wedding date has been set for Christmas week. She already has bought her dishes and linens. Friends have given parties and showers.

My son says he has thought it over and has decided he's not ready for marriage. He claims the girl pushed him into the engagement and now he wants out.

The question is, would it be all right if he wrote her a letter breaking it off? He says he knows she'll cry if he goes in person and he hates tears.—HIS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Tell your son to put on his raincoat and go over and break the news like a man. A fellow who would take three years of a girl's time (even though she IS older) owes her the courtesy of a personal farewell visit.

Touchy Subject

Dear Ann: This is a touchy subject and I need help from an outsider.

Several years ago my father served as attorney general for the state. He was appointed to finish the term of the elected officer who died. My father's tenure of service was very brief.

When my husband introduces me to friends he says, "Meet my wife, the daughter of the former attorney general." This is a misleading introduction contrived to make me sound important.

I've asked him not to do it because it embarrasses me but he ignores my request and does it anyway.

This has been going on for almost 10 years. How can I put an end to it?—ANTI-PHONY.

Dear Anti: Warn your husband that the next time he introduces you in this way you will recite a little political history and set the matter straight. Then do it.

Heights Community Decorated For Yule

Pleasant Heights has taken on a gay Christmas atmosphere with a decorated tree and lighted streamers hung above Lisbon St. and another street near the fire station.

The pine in the front of the elementary school has been decorated with 100 red and green lights. Residents of the "hilltop" community, including Fisher Park, contributed funds to purchase the light bulbs and 92 electric sockets for decorating the tree. The community also foots the electric bill.

The streamers across the streets are trimmed with bells and stars. They were hung Sunday and lighted for the first time Monday evening.

Willis Standley served on the committee that collected funds for Christmas decorations in a door-to-door campaign.

Fire Through Water

Factory Workers Average Pay Hits All-Time Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Average earnings of factory workers set an all-time record last month, the Labor Department announced Tuesday. The work-week averaged 40 hours and 36 minutes—highest in two years.

The department's analysis of the preliminary job figures announced last week showed that payroll employment at 55.1 million in November, equaled the record set a month earlier.

"With all the returns now in for November, the story is a pretty good one," said the department's manpower director, Seymour Wolfbein.

The unemployment rate is 6.1 per cent of the civilian labor force, Wolfbein told a news conference.

If the unemployment rate remains at 6.1 per cent, there will be 4.1 million unemployed this month, up slightly from November's 3.99 million. January will see 4.9 million jobless, and February five million because of purely seasonal factors.

Average hourly earnings in November climbed to a record $2.36. Together with the lengthening of the factory work - week, and stepped-up overtime paid, the average weekly earnings of factory workers rose by $1.28 to a record of $95.82.
